What Should We Do With Our Brain Perspectives In Continental Philosophy:

What Should We Do with Our Brain? Catherine Malabou, 2009-08-25 Recent neuroscience in replacing the old model of the brain as a single centralized source of control has emphasized plasticity the quality by which our brains develop and change throughout the course of our lives Our brains exist as historical products developing in interaction with themselves and with their surroundings Hence there is a thin line between the organization of the nervous system and the political and social organization that both conditions and is conditioned by human experience Looking carefully at contemporary neuroscience it is hard not to notice that the new way of talking about the brain mirrors the management discourse of the neo liberal capitalist world in which we now live with its talk of decentralization networks and flexibility Consciously or unconsciously science cannot but echo the world in which it takes place In the neo liberal world plasticity can be equated with flexibility a term that has become a buzzword in economics and management theory The plastic brain would thus represent just another style of power which although less centralized is still a means of control In this book Catherine Malabou develops a second more radical meaning for plasticity Not only does plasticity allow our brains to adapt to existing circumstances it opens a margin of freedom to intervene to change those very circumstances Such an understanding opens up a newly transformative aspect of the neurosciences In insisting on this proximity between the neurosciences and the social sciences Malabou applies to the brain Marx's well known phrase about history people make their own brains but they do not know it This book is a summons to such knowledge

The Routledge Handbook of Biopolitics Sergei Prozorov, Simona Rentea, 2016-08-05 The problematic of biopolitics has become increasingly important in the social sciences Inaugurated by Michel Foucault's genealogical research on the governance of sexuality crime and mental illness in modern Europe the research on biopolitics has developed into a broader interdisciplinary orientation addressing the rationalities of power over living beings in diverse spatial and temporal contexts The development of the research on biopolitics in recent years has been characterized by two tendencies the increasingly sophisticated theoretical engagement with the idea of power over and the government of life that both elaborated and challenged the Foucauldian canon e.g. the work of Giorgio Agamben Antonio Negri Roberto Esposito and Paolo Virno and the detailed and empirically rich investigation of the concrete aspects of the government of life in contemporary societies Unfortunately the two tendencies have often developed in isolation from each other resulting in the presence of at least two debates on biopolitics the historico philosophical and the empirical one This Handbook brings these two debates together combining theoretical sophistication and empirical rigour The volume is divided into five sections While the first two deal with the history of the concept and contemporary theoretical debates on it the remaining three comprise the prime sites of contemporary interdisciplinary research on biopolitics economy security and technology Featuring previously unpublished articles by the leading scholars in the field this wide ranging and accessible companion will both serve as an introduction to the diverse research on biopolitics for undergraduate students and appeal to more advanced audiences interested in the current state of the art in biopolitics studies Human Enhancement Technologies and Our Merger with Machines Woodrow Barfield, Sayoko Blodgett-Ford, 2021-06-15 A cross disciplinary approach is offered to consider the challenge of emerging technologies designed to enhance human bodies and minds Perspectives from philosophy ethics law and policy are applied to a wide variety of enhancements including integration of technology within human bodies as well as genetic biological and pharmacological modifications Humans may be permanently or temporarily enhanced with artificial parts by manipulating or reprogramming human DNA and through other enhancement techniques and combinations thereof We are on the cusp of significantly modifying and perhaps improving the human ecosystem This evolution necessitates a continuing effort to re evaluate current laws and if appropriate to modify such laws or develop new laws that address enhancement technology A legal ethical and policy response to current and future human enhancements should strive to protect the rights of all involved and to recognize the responsibilities of humans to other conscious and living beings regardless of what they look like or what abilities they have or lack A potential ethical approach is outlined in which rights and responsibilities should be respected even if enhanced humans are perceived by non enhanced or less enhanced humans as no longer human at all Laws and Societies in Global Contexts Eve Darian-Smith, 2013-01-31 This text promotes a more global sociolegal perspective that engages with multiple laws and societies and diverse sociolegal systems based on very different historical and cultural traditions interacting on multiple local national and global levels The approach to global legal pluralism seeks to provide a framework for envisioning new global governance regimes that move beyond state based solutions to deal with trenchant transnational challenges Assembling Early Christianity Cavan W. Concannon, 2017-09-07 The story of a forgotten early Christian bishop and his emergent network of churches along ancient Mediterranean trade routes Abuse of Companies Hanne S. Birkmose, Mette Neville, Karsten Engsig Sørensen, 2019-09-05 Whether the corporate form is used to avoid liabilities or cover illegal acts or whether abuse is practised to obtain certain advantages the subject of this first ever in depth survey and analysis garners more attention every day both in legal literature and in popular media Taken together the authoritative contributions in this book clearly and comprehensively reveal typical situations where abuse may take place and how company law and other areas of law have tackled these incidents and practices in a variety of key jurisdictions Focusing on Europe but with global implications the topics raised include the following how group structures may be used by multinational enterprises to escape regulation and avoid taxation whether the decision to incorporate a company in a particular jurisdiction may be abusive companies set up for the purpose of money laundering letterbox companies formed as a front to allow a company to benefit from one legal regime and avoid others ex post transfers of seats such as cross border mergers and conversions when the use of phoenix companies may constitute an abuse of the corporate form how corporate mobility is used to circumvent worker participation and how online company formation and technological innovation may foster abuse This book helps to explain how the line is drawn between abuse and creative use of the corporate form Remedies covered include restricting the use of bearer shares setting minimum capital requirements piercing the corporate veil ensuring transparency of beneficial ownership using insolvency law to lodge claims against directors and shareholders and recover assets and applying the general principle prohibiting abuse There is no other book on the market focusing on abuse of companies and giving such a comprehensive analysis of the topic Practitioners will get guidelines on how to avoid becoming involved in activities that may constitute abuse and how to address instances where abuse has occurred and interested academics legislators and enforcement authorities in Europe and beyond will find this book s perspectives invaluable Profaning Paul Cavan W. Concannon, 2021-12-10 A critical reconsideration of the repeated use of the biblical letters of Paul The letters of Paul have been used to support and condone a host of evils over the span of more than two millennia racism slavery imperialism misogyny and anti-Semitism to name a few Despite or in some cases because of this history readers of Paul have felt compelled to reappropriate his letters to fit liberal or radical politics seeking to set right the evils done in Paul s name Starting with the language of excrement refuse and waste in Paul s letters Profaning Paul looks at how Paul s shit is recycled and reconfigured It asks why readers from liberal Christians to academic biblical scholars to political theorists and philosophers feel compelled to make Paul into a hero mining his words for wisdom Following the lead of feminist queer and minoritized scholarship Profaning Paul asks what would happen if we stopped recycling Paul s writings By profaning the status of his letters as sacred texts we might open up new avenues for imagining political figurations to meet our current and coming political economic and ecological challenges Post-Colonial Globalisation Yonit Manor-Percival, Janet Dine, 2023-09-22 With the globalist project immersed in conflicts and adversity Post Colonial Globalisation offers an insight into the actors who animate it and the power dynamics which run through it Using the law as the prism through which these are examined and fusing historical with contemporary perspectives the book contributes to understanding the crisis in which we find ourselves as a moment of both existential danger and an opportunity This book is in two parts The first part charts capitalism s historical progression to globalism through the lens of the act of taking Taking has risen to institutional prominence as a core concept in the legal lexicon of foreign investment protection to denote deprivation of private property Post Colonial Globalisation advances a broader notion of taking as a tool of social criticism From enclosures to colonial settlement to an empire of unequal exchanges to contemporary land grabs private property now so vigorously protected against taking was itself born out of taking The second part focuses on the ecological dimension of neoliberal globalisation and its hallmarks of unlimited growth and excessive extraction It has negatively impacted the climate the earth and its human and non human inhabitants to the point of putting their continued existence at risk Central to this is the deification of property Our understanding of proprietary relations and the rights they confer must be revisited if our interface with the planet is to be reconfigured The emerging doctrine of rights of nature offers one route which may lead us in this direction

The two parts complement each other One looks at taking by members of the human species from each other The other looks at taking by the human species from nature This book is aimed at anyone who wishes to gain insight into the current crisis including students academics NGOs and policymakers Cognitive Media Theory Ted Nannicelli,Paul

Taberham,2014-03-26 Across the academy scholars are debating the question of what bearing scientific inquiry has upon the humanities The latest addition to the AFI Film Readers series Cognitive Media Theory takes up this question in the context of film and media studies This collection of essays by internationally recognized researchers in film and media studies psychology and philosophy offers film and media scholars and advanced students an introduction to contemporary cognitive media theory an approach to the study of diverse media forms and content that draws upon both the methods and explanations of the sciences and the humanities Exploring topics that range from color perception to the moral appraisal of characters to our interactive engagement with videogames Cognitive Media Theory showcases the richness and diversity of cognitivist research This volume will be of interest not only to students and scholars of film and media but to anyone interested in the possibility of a productive relationship between the sciences and humanities Medicine and Society, New Perspectives in Continental Philosophy Darian Meacham,2015-05-22 This volume addresses some of the most prominent questions in contemporary bioethics and philosophy of medicine liberal eugenics enhancement the normal and the pathological the classification of mental illness the relation between genetics disease and the political sphere the experience of illness and disability and the sense of the subject of bioethical inquiry itself All of these issues are addressed from a continental perspective drawing on a rich tradition of inquiry into these questions in the fields of phenomenology philosophical hermeneutics French epistemology critical theory and post structuralism At the same time the contributions engage with the Anglo American debate resulting in a fruitful and constructive conversation that not only shows the depth and breadth of continental perspectives in bioethics and medicine but also opens new avenues of discussion and exploration For decades European philosophers have offered important insights into the relation between the practices of medicine the concept of illness and society more broadly understood These interventions have generally striven to be both historically nuanced and accessible to non experts From Georges Canguilhem s seminal The Normal and the Pathological Michel Foucault s lectures on madness sexuality and biopolitics Hans Jonas s deeply thoughtful essays on the right to die life extension and ethics in a technological age Hans Georg Gadamer s lectures on The Enigma of Health and more recently J rgen Habermas s carefully nuanced interventions on the question of liberal eugenics these thinkers have sought to engage the wider public as much as their fellow philosophers on questions of paramount importance to current bioethical and social political debate The essays contained here continue this tradition of engagement and accessibility In the best practices of European philosophy the contributions in this volume aim to engage with and stimulate a broad spectrum of readers not just experts In doing so the volume offers a showcase of the richness and rigor of continental perspectives on medicine and society Finding Augusta Heidi Rae Cooley, 2014-03-04 Finding Augusta breaks new ground revising how media studies interpret the relationship between our bodies and technology This is a challenging exploration of how for both good and ill the sudden ubiquity of mobile devices GPS systems haptic technologies and other forms of media alter individuals experience of their bodies and shape the social collective The author succeeds in problematizing the most salient fact of contemporary mobile media technologies namely that they have become like highways and plumbing an infrastructure that regulates habit Audacious in its originality Finding Augusta will be of great interest to art and media scholars alike Rethinking Ethical-Political Education Torill Strand, 2020-07-29 This book offers a variety of outlooks and perspectives on the constitutive values and formative norms of a society reflected by discourses on ethical political education It also discusses conceptual and critical philosophical works combined with empirical studies The book is divided into three parts the first part describes contemporary youth s tangible experience of and reflections on ethical political issues while the second part explores the potential powers and pitfalls of educational philosophies old and new The third part highlights cutting edge issues within the humanities and social sciences and examines the prospects of a fruitful rethinking of ethical political education in response to today s pressing issues By addressing current dilemmas with diligence and insight the authors offer solid arguments for new theoretical and practical directions to promote philosophical clarification and advance research Intended for students teachers and researchers the book provides fresh perspectives on the many facets of ethical political education and as such is a valuable contribution to educational research and debate The Care of Life Miguel de Beistegui, Giuseppe Bianco, Marjorie Gracieuse, 2014-12-22 This interdisciplinary collection of essays demonstrates how the ethical and political problems we are confronted with today have come to focus largely on life The contributors to this volume define and assess the specific meaning of life itself It is only by doing so that we can understand why life has become an all encompassing problem why all questions especially ethical and political have become vital questions We have reached a moment in history where every distinction and opposition is no longer in relation to life but within it and where life is at once a theoretical and practical problem This book throws light on this nexus of problems at the heart of contemporary debates in bioethics and biopolitics It helps us understand why and how life is understood valued cared for and framed today Taking a genuinely transdisciplinary approach these essays demonstrate how life is a multifaceted problem and how diverse the origins foundations and also consequences of bioethics and biopolitics therefore are The Bloomsbury Handbook of Continental Philosophy of Education John Baldacchino, Herner Saeverot, 2024-07-11 This handbook is the first reference work to explore and define what continental philosophy of education is or could be and what its boundaries are serving as a point of entry for those who need an overview of the ideas in the field The book includes 34 chapters written by leading scholars based in Belgium Canada China Croatia Cyprus Denmark Finland Germany Hong Kong Iceland Ireland Israel Lithuania the Netherlands Norway New Zealand Sweden Taiwan the UK and the USA It is subdivided into three sections covering the metaphysics ethics and aesthetics of education and the chapters focus on philosophical concepts such as otherness empathy and personhood and problems including political influences on education and the limits of education The contributors discuss a range of continental thinkers and look at how their work has influenced the wider field of philosophy of education

Plasticity and Education Kjetil Horn Hogstad, 2025-02-12 This book explores the engagement between the philosophical concept of plasticity and the radically changing space of educational thinking Plasticity is a central concept in the philosophy of Catherine Malabou It represents a new metaphor for the space between the creation resistance and total dissolution of form Plasticity designates the most prominent feature of the human being the feature of shaping itself receiving shape from outside continually changing yet always indebted to its history Differing from the formlessness of flexibility the notion that form can change into anything without resistance or consequence plasticity represents a radical restructuring of our ideas of development and change According to plasticity the cause and space for change are found inside of form itself and form accumulates form over time In other words our biological body is both what changes and what causes change but whatever change happens gives shape to what is to come later In this way plasticity formulates a new relationship between body and soul matter and symbolism brain and thinking Their meeting space is represented metaphorically by the brain the plastic organ par excellence Highly pertinent to educators plasticity provides a new conceptualisation of the possibility of being and becoming This book rethinks some of the fundamental issues in philosophy of education among them power rationality subjectivity ideas of childhood of life itself truth and intelligence This book is a collection of a special issue of the journal Educational Philosophy and Theory and two new chapters The Palgrave

Handbook of the Philosophy of Film and Motion Pictures Noël Carroll, Laura T. Di Summa, Shawn Loht, 2019-10-30 This handbook brings together essays in the philosophy of film and motion pictures from authorities across the spectrum It boasts contributions from philosophers and film theorists alike with many essays employing pluralist approaches to this interdisciplinary subject Core areas treated include film ontology film structure psychology authorship narrative and viewer emotion Emerging areas of interest including virtual reality video games and nonfictional and autobiographical film also have dedicated chapters Other areas of focus include the film medium's intersection with contemporary social issues film's kinship to other art forms and the influence of historically seminal schools of thought in the philosophy of film Of emphasis in many of the essays is the relationship and overlap of analytic and continental perspectives in this subject Metaphor and

Continental Philosophy Clive Cazeaux, 2007-09-12 This book examines the relationship between metaphor art and science against the backdrop of modern European philosophy and in particular the work of Kant Heidegger and Merleau Ponty

Continental and Postmodern Perspectives in the Philosophy of Science Babette E. Babich, Debra B. Bergoffen, Simon Glynn, 1995 Examines the implications of recent continental epistemology challenging the relationship between traditional analytic continental and postmodern understandings of science showing that the challenging circumstances of the scientific project are transforming the role and meaning of science in the modern postmodern world

Continental Philosophy of Technoscience Hub Zwart, 2021-11-18 The key objective of this volume is to allow philosophy students and early stage researchers to become practicing philosophers in technoscientific settings Zwart focuses on the methodological issue of how to practice continental philosophy of technoscience today This text draws upon continental authors such as Hegel Engels Heidegger Bachelard and Lacan and their fields of dialectics phenomenology and psychoanalysis in developing a coherent message around the technicity of science or rather technoscience Within technoscience the focus will be on recent developments in life sciences research such as genomics post genomics synthetic biology and global ecology This book uniquely presents continental perspectives that tend to be underrepresented in mainstream philosophy of science yet entail crucial insights for coming to terms with technoscience as it is evolving on a global scale today This is an open access book

An Introduction to Liberation Theology J. David Turner, 1994 Liberation theology is one of the most influential theologies of the twentieth century in its attempt to ground social economic political and religious structures with Jesus second commandment to love your neighbor as yourself In this introductory text Turner explains Liberation Theologians fight for democratic socialism demands for radical economic structural change attempts to raise the consciousness of the poor and their challenge to traditional roles within the Catholic Church with the goal of giving the laity a stronger voice
