Where Have All The Mothers Gone:

Where Have All the Mothers Gone? David F. Olson,1983-01-01 Where Have All the Mothers Gone? Brenda Hunter,1982 Prisoner Reentry in the 21st Century Keesha M. Middlemass,CalvinJohn Smiley,2019-11-04 This groundbreaking edited volume evaluates prisoner reentry using a critical approach to demonstrate how the many issues surrounding reentry do not merely intersect but are in fact reinforcing and interdependent The number of former incarcerated persons with a felony conviction living in the United States has grown significantly in the last decade reaching into the millions When men and women are released from prison their journey encompasses a range of challenges that are unique to each individual including physical and mental illnesses substance abuse gender identity complicated family dynamics the denial of rights and the inability to voice their experiences about returning home Although scholars focus on the obstacles former prisoners encounter and how to reduce recidivism rates the main challenge of prisoner reentry is how multiple interdependent issues overlap in complex ways By examining prisoner reentry from various critical perspectives this volume depicts how the carceral continuum from incarceration to reentry negatively impacts individuals families and communities how the criminal justice system extends different forms of social control that break social networks and how the shifting nature of prisoner reentry has created new and complicated obstacles to those affected by the criminal justice system This volume explores these realities with respect to a range of social community political and policy issues that former incarcerated persons must navigate to successfully reenter society A springboard for future critical research and policy discussions this book will be of interest to U S and international researchers and practitioners interested in the topic of prisoner reentry as well as graduate and upper level undergraduate students concerned with contemporary issues in corrections community based corrections critical issues in criminal justice criminal justice policies and reentry Outside the Gates of Paradise Elena Veronica Hall,2023-04-26 From the author of Letters from Moscow A Soul s Journey of Love comes Outside the Gates of Paradise A Poet s Walk through the World a collection of free verse poetry encompassing many diverse themes love friendship religion war current and past events controversies the environment and more From Christ and the Virgin Mary to Native Americans to September 11 the 283 poems are spiritual passionate romantic audacious heartrending inspiring and thought provoking These emotionally potent and unique verses are unabashed in their candor and tender in their beauty Many are cryptic personal and mysterious waiting for the reader to uncover their meaning and message in their own way Rendered over a lifetime Hall s cornucopia of deep human feelings offers a glimpse into the world of a sensitive observant soul and her commentary on the human condition in our times Get ready to be provoked enchanted and delightfully surprised The Measure of a Poet The measure of a poet Is their ability to convey truth Be it plainspoken or Intricately embroidered In verse Elena Veronica Hall Creating a Successful Christian Marriage Cleveland McDonald,Philip McDonald,2008-04-01 This classic text written by a father and son team looks at the nuclear family as a social institution and provides guidance for interaction and adjustment during dating engagement and early marriage The authors treat such practical matters as communicating working through interpersonal differences and growing in relationships within the family They also discuss the impact of cultural expectations on family patterns and define ideal family roles developed in Scripture Other topics covered include parenting extended family relationships finances and nontraditional families Now available in paperback Psychology of the Image Michael Forrester, 2012-12-06 Psychology of the Image outlines a theoretical framework bringing together the semiotic concepts developed by Charles Peirce the sociological insights of Ervin Goffman and the psychoanalytic ideas of Jacques Lacan Image studies in fashion advertising photography film studies and psychology have been influenced by these theorists in significant ways The framework presented helps the reader understand how these ideas relate to the study of different domains of the image the internal imagery of dreams external images such as the photograph and image processes which span both contexts e g images we have about ourselves The topics discussed are organised into three themes The first considers mental imagery including sound and dreams The second addresses the interdependent nature of internal and external images e g the gendered self and social identity In the third theme attention turns to external images including television film photography the computer and the internet Psychology of the Image will be of interest to undergraduates postgraduates lecturers and researchers in the fields of psychology media studies and sociology Catalog of Copyright Entries, Third Series, 1974 Catalog of Copyright Entries Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1974 Transnational Families, Migration and the Circulation of Care Loretta Baldassar, Laura Merla, 2013-09-11 Without denying the difficulties that confront migrants and their distant kin this volume highlights the agency of family members in transnational processes of care in an effort to acknowledge the transnational family as an increasingly common family form and to question the predominantly negative conceptualisations of this type of family It re conceptualises transnational care as a set of activities that circulates between home and host countries across generations and fluctuates over the life course going beyond a focus on mother child relationships to include multidirectional exchanges across generations and between genders It highlights in particular how the sense of belonging in transnational families is sustained by the reciprocal though uneven exchange of caregiving which binds members together in intergenerational networks of reciprocity and obligation love and trust that are simultaneously fraught with tension contest and relations of unequal power The chapters that make up this volume cover a rich array of ethnographic case studies including analyses of transnational families who circulate care between developing nations in Africa Latin America and Asia to wealthier nations in North America Europe and Australia There are also examples of intra and extra European Australian and North American migration which involve the mobility of both the unskilled and working class as well as the skilled middle and aspirational classes Constructing Adolescence in Fantastic Realism Alison Waller, 2010-12-22 Constructing Adolescence in Fantastic Realism examines those fundamental themes which inform our understanding of the teenager themes that emerge in both literary and cultural contexts Models of adolescence do not arise solely from discourses of psychology sociology and education Rather these models frameworks including developmentalism identity formation social agency and subjectivity in cultural space can also be found represented symbolically in fantastic tropes such as metamorphosis time slip hauntings doppelgangers invisibility magic gifts and witchcraft These are the incredible supernatural and magical elements that invade the everyday and diurnal world of fantastic realism In this original study Alison Waller proposes a new critical term to categorize a popular and established genre in literature for teenagers young adult fantastic realism Though fantastic realism plays a crucial part in the short history of young adult literature up until now this genre has typically been overlooked or subsumed into the wider class of fantasy Touching on well known authors including Robert Cormier Melvin Burgess Gillian Cross Margaret Mahy K M Peyton and Robert Westall as well as previously unexamined writers Waller explores the themes and ideological perspectives embedded in fantastic realist novels in order to ask whether parallel realities and fantastic identities produce forms of adolescence that are dynamic and subversive One of the first studies to deal with late twentieth century fantastic literature for young adults this book makes a valuable contribution to our understanding of adult attitudes toward adolescent identity

Women, Migration and the Exchange of Knowledge from the Sixteenth to the Twenty-first Century Nicoleta Roman, Beatrice Zucca

Micheletto, 2025-03-22 This book examines female migration between Eastern and Western Europe from the sixteenth to the twentieth century Bringing together contributions from scholars working in diverse disciplines the book focuses on the social economic and cultural exchanges between migrants and the inhabitants of their host countries arguing that women were central to these interactions due to their commercial artisanal and intellectual skills The chapters shed light on the various roles and professions that women undertook when migrating across Europe providing case studies of governesses domestic servants and caregivers traders and merchants doctors and scholars and emphasising how these roles shaped their identities The authors illustrate how social mobility was engendered by skilled migration and academic mobility whilst also illuminating the prejudices and challenges that faced women as they attempted to integrate into their new host societies alongside their families Taking a comparative approach to explore the experiences of migrants across a range of countries in Europe and over a vast period from the Habsburg Ottoman and Russian Empires up until today this collection provides insights into the long history of migration between Eastern and Western Europe Nicoleta Roman is a researcher at the Nicolae Iorga Institute of History of the Romanian Academy and at New Europe College Institute for Advanced Study both in Bucharest Romania Her research interests revolve around social and economic history gender and the history of women and children in pre modern Romania and Southeastern Europe Beatrice Zucca Micheletto is a researcher in the Department of Cultures Politics and Society at the University of Turin Italy where she teaches Economic History of Migration Her research focuses on economic and social history women and gender history migration history and labour history of early modern and modern

Europe in Italy and France Crossborder Care Miloslav Bahna, Martina Sekulová, 2018-09-25 This book analyses the circular migration of care workers in Central Europe using the example of Slovak carers in 24 hour care provision for the elderly in Austria Challenging analyses that focus primarily on care drain and care regimes Bahna and Sekulová supplement quantitative methodology with qualitative fieldwork to demonstrate the importance of the sending country's economic context The authors discuss the dynamics of economic differences between Austria and its post communist neighbors as preconditions of the crossborder care provision bridging analyses of policy and legal frameworks with approaches from labor migration study Even as they scrutinize the relevance of care drain based analyses Bahna and Sekulová bring to the fore the interplay of economic differences social policies gender and migration regimes with geographic proximity to study long term impacts of care work including an analysis of employment after care work The Global Encyclopaedia of Informality, Volume 2 Alena Ledeneva, 2018-01-17 Alena Ledeneva invites you on a voyage of discovery to explore society's open secrets unwritten rules and know how practices Broadly defined as ways of getting things done these invisible yet powerful informal practices tend to escape articulation in official discourse They include emotion driven exchanges of gifts or favours and tributes for services interest driven know how from informal welfare to informal employment and entrepreneurship identity driven practices of solidarity and power driven forms of co-optation and control The paradox or not of the invisibility of these informal practices is their ubiquity Expertly practised by insiders but often hidden from outsiders informal practices are as this book shows deeply rooted all over the world yet underestimated in policy Entries from the five continents presented in this volume are samples of the truly global and ever growing collection made possible by a remarkable collaboration of over 200 scholars across disciplines and area studies By mapping the grey zones blurred boundaries types of ambivalence and contexts of complexity this book creates the first Global Map of Informality The accompanying database www.informality.com is searchable by region keyword or type of practice so do explore what works how where and why Praise for Global Encyclopaedia of Informality The Global Informality Project unveils new ways of understanding how the state functions and ways in which civil servants and citizens adapt themselves to different local contexts by highlighting the diversity of the relationships between state and society The project is of great interest to policymakers who want to imagine solutions that are beneficial for all but sufficiently pragmatic to ensure a seamless implementation particularly in the field of cross border trade in developing countries Kunio Mikuriya Secretary General of the World Customs Organisation Brussels An extremely interesting and stimulating collection of papers Ledeneva's challenging ideas first applied in the context of Russia's economy of shortage came to full blossom and are here contextualized by practices from other countries and contemporary systems Many original and relevant practices were recognized empirically in socialist countries but this book shows their generality János Kornai Allie S Freed Professor of Economics Emeritus at Harvard and Professor Emeritus at Corvinus University of Budapest Alena Ledeneva's Global Encyclopedia of Informality is a unique contribution providing a global atlas of informal practices through the contributions of over 200 scholars across the world. It is far more rewarding for the reader to discover how commonalities of informal behavior become apparent through this rich texture like a complex and hidden pattern behind local colors than to presume top down universal benchmarks of good versus bad behavior. This book is a plea against reductionist approaches of mathematics in social science in general and corruption studies in particular and makes a great read as well as an indispensable guide to understand the cultural richness of the world.

Alina Mungiu Pippidi, Professor of Democracy Studies, Hertie School of Governance, Berlin. Transformative scholarship in method, object and consequence. Ledeneva and her networked expertise not only enable us to view the informal comparatively but challenge conventionally legible accounts of membership, markets, domination and resistance with these rich accounts from five continents. This project offers nothing less than a social scientific revolution if the broader scholarly community has the imagination to follow through. And by globalizing these informal knowledges typically hidden from view, the volumes' contributors will extend the imaginations of those business consultants, movement mobilizers and peace makers who can appreciate the value of translation from other world regions in their own work.

Michael D. Kennedy, Professor of Sociology and International and Public Affairs, Brown University and author of Globalizing Knowledge. Don't mistake these weighty volumes for anything directory like or anonymous. This wonderful collection of short essays penned by many of the single best experts in their fields puts the reader squarely in the kinds of conversations culled only after years of friendship, trust and with the keen eye of the practiced observer. Perhaps most importantly, the remarkably wide range of offerings lets us de-parochialise corruption and detach it from the usual hyper-local and cultural explanations. The reader in the end is the one invited to consider the many and striking commonalities.

Bruce Grant, Professor at New York University and Chair of the US National Council for East European and Eurasian Research.

The New Immigrant Whiteness, Claudia Sadowski-Smith, 2018-03-13. Explores the racialization of immigrants from post-Soviet states and the nuances of citizenship for this new diaspora. Mapping representations of post-1980s immigration from the former Soviet Union to the United States in interviews, reality TV shows, fiction and memoirs. Claudia Sadowski-Smith shows how this nationally and ethnically diverse group is associated with idealized accounts of the assimilation and upward mobility of early twentieth-century arrivals from Europe. As it traces the contributions of historical Eastern European migration to the emergence of a white racial identity that continues to provide privileges to many post-Soviet migrants, the book places the post-USSR diaspora into larger discussions about the racialization of contemporary US immigrants under neoliberal conditions. The New Immigrant Whiteness argues that legal status on arrival as participants in refugee marriage, labor and adoptive migration impacts post-Soviet immigrants' encounters with growing socioeconomic inequalities and tightened immigration restrictions as well as their attempts to construct transnational identities. The book examines how their perceived whiteness exposes post-Soviet family migrants to heightened expectations of assimilation, explores undocumented migration from the former Soviet Union, analyzes post-USSR immigrants attitudes toward anti immigration laws that target Latinas and considers similarities between post Soviet and Asian immigrants in their association with notions of upward immigrant mobility A compelling and timely volume The New Immigrant Whiteness offers a fresh perspective on race and immigration in the United States today When Your Child Breaks Your Heart Barbara Johnson, 2008-10 Beloved author Barbara Johnson offers hope to families facing difficulty coming to terms with a child's decisions in life sharing how God brought her through the deep waters and how he will do the same for them The Routledge Handbook of Migration and Language Suresh Canagarajah, 2017-02-03 Winner of AAAL Book Award 2020 Shortlisted for the BAAL Book Prize 2018 The Routledge Handbook of Migration and Language is the first comprehensive survey of this area exploring language and human mobility in today's globalised world This key reference brings together a range of interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary perspectives drawing on subjects such as migration studies geography philosophy sociology and anthropology Featuring over 30 chapters written by leading experts from around the world this book Examines how basic constructs such as community place language diversity identity nation state and social stratification are being retheorized in the context of human mobility Analyses the impact of the mobility turn on language use including the parallel multilingual turn and translanguaging Discusses the migration of skilled and unskilled workers different forms of displacement and new superdiverse and diaspora communities Explores new research orientations and methodologies such as mobile and participatory research multi sited ethnography and the mixing of research methods Investigates the place of language in citizenship educational policies employment and social services The Routledge Handbook of Migration and Language is essential reading for those with an interest in migration studies language policy sociolinguistic research and development studies The 10 Best Decisions a Couple Can Make Pam Farrel, Bill Farrel, Making Multicultural Families in Europe Isabella Crespi, Stefania Giada Meda, Laura Merla, 2018-03-13 This edited collection explores family relations in two types of migrant families in Europe mixed families and transnational families Based on in depth qualitative fieldwork and large surveys the contributors analyse gender and intergenerational relations from a variety of standpoints and migratory flows In their examination of family life in a migratory context the authors develop theoretical approaches from the social sciences that go beyond migration studies such as intersectionality the solidarity paradigm care circulation reflexive modernization and gender convergence theory Making Multicultural Families in Europe will be of interest to students and scholars across a range of disciplines including migration and transnationalism studies family studies intergenerational studies gender studies cultural studies development studies globalization studies ethnic studies gerontology studies social network analysis and social work Bringing Fieldwork Back In Elijah Anderson, 2012-06-21 In 2001 the first of a series of ethnographic conferences took place in Los Angeles with an emphasis on fieldwork Since then the field has gained a much larger disciplinary footprint While the increase in substantial research in the field has risen dramatically ethnographic styles of writing have emerged that fail to include much discernible fieldwork

This volume of The Annals broaches the subject of improving fieldwork in the ethnographic spectrum through old fashioned or shoe leather fieldwork. At a more recent ethnographic conference at Yale University in 2010 with a follow up in June 2011 emerging ethnographers were mentored by senior scholars in which they presented in an informal yet supportive setting where ethnographic fieldwork could be constructively critiqued. This volume is a product of those collective efforts. The articles in this volume include insight into relations among affluent minorities, the status system we find in today's sports and a portrait of an employer of undocumented workers among other articles. This volume will appeal to both undergraduate and graduate students with a wide range of interests including sociology, education, anthropology and race and gender conflicts and problems.

Intimacy and mobility in an era of hardening borders Haldis Haukanes, Frances Pine, 2021-04-13. This book is a collection of articles by anthropologists and social scientists concerned with gendered labour, care, intimacy and sexuality in relation to mobility and the hardening of borders in Europe. Interrogating the relation between physical geopolitical borders and ideological conceptual boundaries, this book offers a range of vivid and original ethnographic case studies that will capture the imagination of anyone interested in gendered migration policies of inclusion and exclusion and regulation of reproduction and intimacy. The first part of the book presents ethnographic and phenomenological discussions of people's changing lives as they cross borders, how people shift, transgress and reshape moral boundaries of proper gender and kinship behaviour and moral economies of intimacy and sexuality. In the second section, the focus turns to migrants' navigation of social and financial services in their destination countries, putting questions about rights and limitations on citizenship at the core. The final part of the book scrutinises policy formation at the level of state, examining the ways that certain domains become politicised and disputed at different historical junctures while others are left outside of the political.
