Giving Christianity Back to Agape Love Matthew Carriker, 2022-05-09 How could a church that has been plagued by anti-Semitism the killing of the Crusades and the violence of the Inquisition to name a few be redeemed of these evils Quite simply it has always returned to Jesus When you return to Jesus you return to the heart of his message agape Agape is a Greek word in the New Testament referring to a love that is without limits and beyond conditions Agape is the love that God has for us and that we are called to have towards one another This book centers around this one assumption God loves us unconditionally Our task individually and as communities is to be instruments of that love This book reenvision traditional Christian beliefs including sin the Bible salvation homosexuality pluralism Jesus and atonement theology through the lens of agape love What would the Christian life look like if we embodied the good news in community as contemplatives in action In a time when churches are dying and failing giving Christianity back to agape love has the power to bring life into a religion that feels old worn out and over institutionalized To return Christianity to Jesus is to give the church universal back to a love that is boundless free and unconditional to a love that finds its heart in service peacemaking and radical transformation to a love that will set the world on fire

Notes of a Native Daughter Keri Day, 2021-06-17 Bearing witness to more liberating futures in theological education In Notes of a Native Daughter Keri Day testifies to structural inequalities and broken promises of inclusion through the eyes of a black woman who experiences herself as both stranger and friend to prevailing models of theological education Inviting the reader into her religious world a world that is African American and more specifically Afro Pentecostal she not only uncovers the colonial impulses of theological education in the United States but also proposes that the lived religious practices and commitments of progressive Afro Pentecostal communities can help the theological academy decolonize and reenvision multiple futures Deliberately speaking in the testimonial form rather than the more conventional mode of philosophical argument Day bears witness to the truth revealed in her and others lived experience in a voice that is unapologetically visceral emotive demonstrative and ultimately communal With prophetic insight she addresses this moment when the fastest growing group of students and teachers are charismatic and neo Pentecostal people of color for whom theological education is currently a site of both hope and harm Calling for repentance she provides a redemptive narrative for moving forward into a diverse future that can be truly liberating only when it allows itself to be formed by its people and the Spirit moving in them

Talvacchia, 2019-04-18 Does anyone need to come out anymore Queer theory has challenged the idea of coming out as problematic for its false binary and essentialized version of identity If gender is a socially constructed performativity then what does coming out mean At the same time we live in a society that still struggles with structures of power that define what is considered normal and sanctions those who transgress The intersectionality of gender with race class ethnicity nationality abilities religion age and other positional markers challenge a simplified belief that coming out is not necessary Therefore in the lived experience of many persons coming out still matters This book initiates a different theological conversation about coming out It argues that rather than the declaration of an identity category coming out can be understood as the erotic ethical practice of truth telling The formation of conscience and moral integrity embody the two pillars of this erotic practice Coming out understood as disruptive coherence is the erotic ethical practice of truth telling grounded in our deepest desires to be known authentically in community Reproductive Losses Christa Craven, 2019-05-30 Although there are far more opportunities for LGBTQ people to become parents than there were before the 1990s attention to the reproductive challenges LGBTQ families face has not kept pace Reproductive Losses considers LGBTQ people's experiences with miscarriage stillbirth failed adoptions infertility and sterility Drawing on Craven's training as a feminist anthropologist and her experiences as a queer parent who has experienced loss Reproductive Losses includes detailed stories drawn from over fifty interviews with LGBTQ people including those who carried pregnancies non gestational and adoptive parents and families from a broad range of racial ethnic socio economic and religious backgrounds to consider how they experience loss grief and mourning The book includes productive suggestions and personal narratives of resiliency commemorative strategies and communal support while also acknowledging the adversity many LGBTQ people face as they attempt to form families and the heteronormativity of support
