Developmental Reflexive Rehabilitation David J. McGlown,1990

For rehabilitation to be successful it must be both developmental and reflexive in its emphasis However the claim is not dogmatic In defence of the claim BIRD offers an alternative means of evaluation of current therapy treatment regimes employing the use of accepted neurological testing techniques

Special Education Law Thomas F. Guernsey,Kathe Klare,2001 This book takes the education professional lawyer or parent through the process of providing special education services to children Should differences arise between the child s parents and a public agency the book details the methods for resolving that disagreement One of the difficulties in dealing with special education law is the interplay of several federal statutes in addition to IDEA Individuals with Disabilities Education Act Further there are often statutes and regulations affecting general education which also affect special education In particular the Education Department General Administrative Regulations EDGAR and the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act FERPA or the Buckley Amendments play a significant role This book discusses each of these important statutes affecting the education of children with disabilities The book begins with a general overview of IDEA and its interrelationship with 504 and 1983 EDGAR and FERPA Although the primary focus in succeeding chapters is on IDEA full attention is also given to the impact of 504 and other federal statutes The book provides a solid foundation in special education law and is highly recommended for school administrators and for attorneys specializing in school law
