Transitional Justice In Post Communist Romania The Politics Of Memory:

Transitional Justice in Post-Communist Romania Assistant Professor of Political Science Lavinia Stan, 2014-05-14 This is the first volume to overview the complex Romanian transitional justice effort Transitional Justice in Post-Communist Romania Lavinia Stan, 2012 This is the first volume to overview the complex Romanian transitional justice effort Transitional Justice in Post-Communist Romania Lavinia Stan, 2013 This is the first volume to overview the complex Romanian transitional justice effort detail the political negotiations that have led to the adoption and implementation of relevant legislation and assess these processes in terms of their timing sequencing and impact on democratization

Justice, Memory and Redress in Romania Lavinia Stan, Lucian Turcescu, 2017-01-06 Are there any lessons Romania can teach transitional justice scholars and practitioners This book argues that important insights emerge when analyzing a country with a moderate record of coming to terms with its communist past Taking a broad definition of transitional justice as their starting point contributors provide fresh assessments of the history commission court trials public identifications of former communist perpetrators commemorations and unofficial artistic projects that seek to address and redress the legacies of communist human rights violations Theoretical and practical questions regarding the continuity of state agencies the sequencing of initiatives their advantages and limitations the reasons why some reckoning programs are enacted and others are not and these measures efficacy in promoting truth and justice are answered throughout the volume Contributors include seasoned scholars from Romania Canada the United States and the United Kingdom and current and former leaders of key Romanian transitional justice institutions The Politics of Memory in Post-Authoritarian Transitions, Volume Two Joanna Marszałek-Kawa, Anna Ratke-Majewska, Patryk Wawrzyński, 2017-01-06 History is a powerful tool in the hands of politicians and can be a destructive weapon as power over the past is the power to decide who is a hero and who is a traitor Tradition the remembrance of ancestors experiences of previous generations are keys that unlock the doors to citizens minds and allow certain ideas visions and political programs to flourish However can history be a proper political weapon during democratization processes when the past is decisively divided from the present Are the new order and society founded on the basis of some interpretation of the past or rather are they founded only with reference to the imagined future of the nation This book explores such questions through a detailed description of the use of remembrance policies during political transformations It discusses how interpretations of the past served the realization of transitional objectives in countries as varied as Chile Estonia Georgia Poland South Africa and Spain The book is a unique journey through different parts of the world different cultures and different political systems investigating how history was remembered and forgotten by certain democratic leaders Individual chapters discuss how governments remembrance policies were used to create a new citizen to change a political culture and to justify a vision of society promoted by new elites They explain why some sore topics were avoided by politicians and why sometimes there was no transitional justice or punishment of leaders of the authoritarian state The book will be of interest to anyone wishing to explore policies of remembrance democratization and the role of memory in contemporary societies

Women's Life Writing in Post-Communist Romania Simona Mitroiu, 2022-11-07
 This book analyzes the impact of abusive regimes of power on women's lives and on their self-expression through close readings of life writing by women in communist Romania. In particular, it examines the forms of agency and privacy available to women under totalitarianism and the modes of relationships in which their lives were embedded. The self-expression and self-reflexive processes that are to be found in the body of Romanian women's autobiographical writings in this study present and create complex private narratives that underpin the creative development of inclusive memories of the past through shared responsibility and shared agency. At the same time, however, the way these private personal narratives intertwined with collective and official historical narratives exemplifies the multidimensional nature of privacy as well as the radical redefinition of agency in this period. This book argues for a broader understanding of the narratives of the communist past, one that reflects the complexity of individual and social interactions and allows a deep exploration of the interconnected relations between memory, trauma, nostalgia, agency, and privacy.

Transitional Justice in Poland Frances Millard, 2021-01-14
 In this study of the mechanisms of transitional justice in Poland, Frances Millard asks: How does society come to terms with its past? How should it punish the perpetrators of oppression and acknowledge its victims? In the former communist countries of Central and Eastern Europe, the task of answering these questions came down to the need to eliminate the communist parties, hold over the state, the economy, and society in order to move towards democracy. Millard argues that the key step in achieving this was uncovering the truth about the previous regime's past, prosecuting the perpetrators of past crimes, and providing compensation and restitution for its victims. Through the specific case of Poland, Millard provides a comprehensive assessment of the mechanisms and institutions used to achieve this, such as lustration, law enforcement through a Constitutional Tribunal, and institutions dedicated to dealing with the past, such as the Institute of National Remembrance. Crucially, these processes have assumed new significance in recent years after the Law and Justice Party came to power in 2015, using transitional justice as a tool of political control which has enabled the restructuring of Polish democracy.

Transitional Justice and Civil Society in the Balkans Olivera Simić, Zala Volčič, 2012-11-19
Transitional Justice and Civil Society in the Balkans covers civil society engagements with transitional justice processes in the Balkans. The Balkans are a region marked by the post-communist and post-conflict transitional turmoil through which its countries are going through. This volume is intended to provide a comprehensive introduction to research in transitional justice in this part of the world, mostly written by local scholars. Transitional justice is an ever-growing field which responds to dilemmas over how successor regimes should deal with past human rights abuses of their authoritarian predecessors. The editors and author emphasize the relatively unexplored and under-researched role of civil society groups and social movements, such as local women's groups, the role of art and community media, and other grass roots transitional justice mechanisms and initiatives Through specific case studies the unique contribution of this volume is not only that it covers a part of the world that is not adequately represented in transitional justice field but also that the volume is the first project originally researched and written by experts and scholars from the region or in collaboration with international scholars

Between the Memory and Post-Memory of Communism in Romania Monica Ciobanu, Mihaela Șerban, 2025-05-23 The first of its kind this book traces the construction of post memory in post communist Romania Focusing on the processes gaps agents and contradictions of post memory it examines a range of topics across a variety of disciplines addressing questions of museums and musealization law and memory political trials and retrospective justice and post memory in a digital context while also considering marginalized and forgotten voices such as those of the Roma population and abandoned children Moving away from a focus on the institutional mechanisms of transitional justice or officially sanctioned historical narratives Between the Memory and Post Memory of Communism in Romania brings together some of the leading voices in the field of memory studies in Romania to adopt a more pluralistic and diverse approach to the communist past It will therefore appeal to scholars of sociology anthropology museum studies and history with interests in the communist period in Eastern Europe

Post-Communist Romania at Twenty-Five Lavinia Stan, Diane Vancea, 2015-06-24 2014 marked the 25th anniversary of the collapse of communist regimes in Eastern Europe The events of 1989 are widely seen as having ushered in new all encompassing reforms in almost all areas of life In few other places were reforms more contested and divisive than in Romania a country that suffered greatly under the sultanistic cum totalitarian dictatorship of Nicolae Ceausescu faced the region's only bloody anti communist revolt and as such had the longest to travel on the road from communism to democracy We now have a generation's worth of experience with these wrenching reforms that have deeply affected Romania's political institutions and political culture and ultimately allowed it to become a member of the coveted European Union club This volume gathers key lessons for democratic theory and practice from Romania's first twenty five years of post communist transformation Written by leading experts in the field of Romanian Studies the chapters focus on the most important factors that have shaped the country's political transformation during the first 25 years of post communism
