Making Housing Happen, 2nd Edition Jill Suzanne Shook, 2012-09-19 The growing housing crisis cries out for solutions that work As many as 3 5 million Americans experience homelessness each year half of them women and children One in four renters spends more than half of their income on rent and utilities more than 30 percent is considered unaffordable With record foreclosures and 28 percent of homes underwater middle and low income homeowners are suffering Many congregations want to address this daunting problem yet feel powerless and uncertain about what to do The good news is that churches are effectively addressing the housing crisis from Washington State to New York City where an alliance of sixty churches has built five thousand homes for low income homeowners with virtually no government funding or foreclosures This book not only presents solid theological thinking about housing but also offers workable solutions to the current crisis true stories by those who have made housing happen Each story features a different Christian denomination geographic area and model adaptive reuse cohousing cooperative housing mixed income mixed use inclusionary zoning second units community land trusts sweat equity and more Making Housing Happen is about vision and faith relationships and persistence Its remarkable stories will inspire and challenge you to action This new edition includes significant new material especially in light of the ongoing mortgage crisis

Street Signs David P. Leong, 2012-07-01 This research explores the cultural and theological complexities within the urban context as some of the most prominent societal realities shaping our cities today Cities represent the convergence of identities industries and ideologies in a dynamic urban ecosystem of pluralism and globalization Far more than just the incidental built environment that houses such phenomena the city is a living breathing organism with vital systems and infrastructure that function as a means of sustenance for its inhabitants Ultimately cities are a cultural reflection of our common humanity in all of its beauty and depravity More specifically this work critically examines the cultural and theological significance of the urban context as an exercise in missiological contextualization Through a dialectical exploration of the locality of Seattle's Rainier Valley and the universality of the street corner three different lenses are used to examine the intersection of faith and culture in the city First through developing a missional theology of cultural engagement the themes of incarnation confrontation and imagination inform a theological posture that is conversant with urbanism Second an interdisciplinary method of urban exegesis that synthesizes the symbolic systems of urban semiotics and the missional theology of cultural exegesis is applied to particular settings in Seattle's Rainier Valley as a form of observing and interpreting urban communities Third an urban contextual theology that is situated in an environment of physical density social diversity and economic disparity emphasizes the necessity of engaging the city with theologies of place neighbor and community In an effort to equip and empower the church and others to engage the city as thoughtful missional people this research seeks to cultivate a combination of critical observational skills in the urban context and a constructive understanding of the holistic Christian mission among the poor and disenfranchised in our urban communities From the street corner in the ghetto to newly gentrified enclaves of hipsters street signs are all around us they point us in the right direction toward deeper understanding alert us to the presence of injustice on the horizon and draw our attention to the redemptive beauty of the city that is revealed in the light of the gospel

A Heart for the Community

John Fuder, Noel Castellanos, 2013-08-28 Our nation used to look at violence poverty and gentrification and assign those problems to urban centers Today these issues concern the suburbs too The Christian community is responding to this reality Churches and parachurch ministries are actively working to transform lives and restore communities throughout the city and suburbs In A Heart for the Community New Models for Urban and Suburban Ministry you will be challenged by a collection of voices seeking community renewal These individuals are involved in creative church planting initiatives and they are serving the growing Hispanic and Muslim populations Additional endeavors include serving racially changing communities economic development strategies and more As anyone who has been in ministry for any length of time can attest tackling some of the most challenging issues of our times is no mere academic exercise The voices within these pages write from experience and offer workable vibrant models of ministry that make a difference

Building a People of Power

Robert C. Linthicum, 2015-09-15 Jesus never intended the church to become an institution he intended it to be a people of power transforming the world Power is the capacity ability and the willingness to act Most people and systems use power to dominate and control but others have used it relationally to liberate transform and even save Built around a biblical exploration of shalom Building a People of Power explains how local churches can use power to transform their communities and their cities Detailed power strategies are presented enabling churches to build productive relationships to address the primary issues of people they serve and to develop strong leaders faithful organizations and redeemed neighborhoods that live out shalom

To Transform a City Eric Swanson, Sam Williams, 2010-09-07 To Transform a City is a timely compelling book that helps readers understand how to think about cities their own city and the broad strategies needed for kingdom impact The book begins with an overview of the importance of cities in the new day in which we live The authors address the process of transformation along with examples of where and how communities have been transformed throughout history After writing a persuasive chapter on kingdom thinking the authors unfold the meaning of the whole church the whole gospel and the whole city The book ends with the need for people of good faith to work together in the city with people of good will for the welfare of the city

Stewards of Power

Dwight S. M. Mutoonono, 2018-03-14 Africa's national leaders have failed the continent So have Africa's church leaders In Stewards of Power Restoring Africa's Dignity Dwight Mutoonono identifies the leadership problems plaguing the continent and appeals for good leadership in the style of the biblical Joseph rather than the xenophobic self-centred style exemplified by Jonah He offers practical suggestions for how African Christians can reject
