Michael Spector,Pedro Isaías,2018-02-28 The aim of this volume entitled Digital Technologies Sustainable Innovations for improving Teaching and Learning is to contribute in the global discussion on digital technologies as the means to foster sustainable educational innovations for improving the teaching learning and assessment from K 12 to Higher Education It compiles papers presented at the CELDA Cognition and Exploratory Learning in the Digital Age conference which has as its goal continuing to address these challenges and promote the effective use of new tools and technologies to support teaching learning and assessment The book consists of four parts and showcases how emerging educational technologies and innovative practices have been used to address core global educational challenges spanning from rethinking and transforming learning environments across educational contexts to effectively cultivating students competences for the digital smart society of the future The book comprises Part I Transforming the Learning Environment Part II Enriching student learning experiences Part III Measuring and Assessing Teaching and Learning with Educational Data Analytics Part IV Cultivating student competences for the digital Smart society It targets researchers and research students educational professional practitioners including teachers educators and education leaders as well as education policy makers who are interested in keeping up to date on the global development in this field Untold Power John Eger,2022-08-11 Most of us know that the widespread use of robotics particularly artificial intelligence robots will most likely have an adverse effect on the workplace and that the new jobs that emerge will require new thinking skills that the current educational system does not provide It is also becoming clear that communities seeking to attract and nurture those most qualified for the new jobs must also renew themselves if they are to be successful Most important the emerging workforce must be able to engage both right and left hemispheres of the brain in order to solve complex problems in increasingly creative ways This central imperative has resulted in the increasing demand for both artistic and creative skills along with technological and science based skills This treatise makes those arguments for reinvention and while it is not yet known precisely what makes people creative many ideas about fostering creative people and institutions are discussed The Covid 19 pandemic has greatly accelerated our use of technology and our responses to changes we must make in education the workplace and the workforce that have been lying dormant for too long At the heart of the changes we must make is the vital realization that art and technology are the new benchmarks of the global economy an economy where creativity and innovation are shaping a new world order We are entering a new era and we must act now to prepare for a very different future Collaborative Creative Thought and Practice in Music Margaret S. Barrett,2016-05-23 The notion of the individual creator a product in part of the Western romantic ideal is now troubled by accounts and explanations of creativity as a social construct While in collectivist cultures the assimilation but not the denial of individual authorship into the complexities of group production and benefit has been a feature the notion of the lone individual creator has been persistent Systems theories acknowledge the role of others yet at heart these are still individual views of creativity focusing on the creative individual drawing upon the work of others rather than recognizing the mutually constitutive elements of social interactions across time and space Focusing on the domain of music the approach taken in this book falls into three sections investigations of the people processes products and places of collaborative creativity in compositional thought and practice explorations of the ways in which creative collaboration provides a means of crossing boundaries between disciplines such as music performance and musicology and studies of the emergence of creative thought and practice in educational contexts including that of the composer and the classroom The volume concludes with an extended chapter that reflects on the ways in which the studies reported advance understandings of creative thought and practice The book provides new perspectives to our understandings of the role of collaborative thought and processes in creative work across the domain of music including composition musicology
