Grid-locked African Economic Sovereignty Victor Warikandwa, Artwell Nhemachena, 2019-02-06 The emergent so called Fourth Industrial Revolution is regarded by some as a panacea for bringing about development to Africans This book dismisses this flawed reasoning Surfacing how investors are actually looting and plundering Africa how the industrial internet of things the gig economies digital economies and cryptocurrencies breach African political and economic sovereignty the book pioneers what can be called anticipatory economics which anticipate the future of economies It is argued that the future of Africans does not necessarily require degrowth postgrowth postdevelopment postcapitalism or sharing solidarity economies it requires attention to age old questions about African ownership and control of their resources Investors have to invest in ensuring that Africans own and control their resources Further it is pointed out that the historical imperial structural creation of forced labour is increasingly morphing into what we call the structural creation of forced leisure which is no less lethal for Africans Because both the structural creation of forced labour and the structural creation of forced leisure are undergirded by transnational neo imperial plunder theft robbery looting and dispossession of Africans this book goes beyond the simplistic arguments that Euro America developed due to the industrial revolutions theoretical or based on anecdotal evidence This publication thus explores a different path and explores the reasons why entities from China and South Africa were interested in investing in African agriculture This publication examines the reasons why investors were interested in Africa and the relationship that these bear to The Voluntary Guidelines on the Responsible Governance of Tenure of Land Fisheries and Forests in the Context of National Food Security the Voluntary Guidelines or VGGT While primarily aimed at governments the VGGT also contain important provisions that are applicable to the private sector They focus on helping investors pursue their projects in ways that recognise and respect legitimate tenure rights and human rights In addition the VGGT also contain provisions and encourages good practices for responsible investment in land forests and fisheries The VGGT are a valuable tool for helping investors minimise risk while also safeguarding the rights of local communities China and South Africa represent important sources of LSLBIA in Africa although the bulk of such investment comes from western countries Their investment may intensify in the future for a variety of reasons First China has the third largest land area in the world but its expansion through additional land use is limited Second the dual agricultural economy of South Africa is preventing commercial farming located in well endowed areas from expanding into remote resource poor areas where small scale subsistence based production is prevalent This publication assesses the extent to which selected investors from China and South Africa and the governments of those countries have adopted the best practices represented by the VGGT in relation to LSLBIA in
