

The background of the entire cover is a photograph of ancient stone ruins in Zimbabwe. The image shows a large, rectangular stone structure with a central opening, possibly a doorway or a well. The stone is dark and weathered, with visible horizontal layers. The lighting is dramatic, with strong shadows and highlights, emphasizing the texture of the stone.

Zimbabwe Picking Up The Pieces:

Zimbabwe H. Besada, 2011-01-03 Formerly one of Africa's most promising economies Zimbabwe has begun a process of economic reconstruction after decades of political turmoil and economic mismanagement. The advent of a national unity government in February 2009 launched a new but still tentative era of political stability. The government has a daunting political and economic agenda. Top priorities include restoring the rule of law, demonstrating fiscal responsibility, and putting in place macroeconomic and structural reforms to win the confidence of domestic and international investors. An optimistic time frame for its socio-economic recovery is now estimated to be at least ten years. Zimbabwe Picking Up the Pieces chronicles the steps that led to the downturn of the Zimbabwean state and economy before assessing what can be done to resuscitate a once thriving society. Leading experts from and on the region explore the country's options on key governance issues from strengthening institutions to addressing food security to promoting private sector development to mobilizing donor country assistance. This collection offers a unique glimpse into a fragile state and the severe costs Zimbabweans have and will have to endure if there is to be any hope of recovery.

Inventing the New Dispensation in Zimbabwe Ezra Chitando, Lovemore Togarasei, Joram Tarusarira, 2024-11-14 How does a regime whose members have been actively involved in the previous one appropriate and deploy religious ideas and rhetoric to cast itself as born again and attractive? Exploring intersections between politics, religion, and economics, this book examines the invention of Zimbabwe's New Dispensation: the regime of Emmerson D. Mnangagwa and how it has aimed to separate itself from the previous regime of Robert G. Mugabe. Utilizing the concept of invention, contributors reflect on how Mnangagwa and his publicists deploy religious ideas, concepts, and rhetoric in the quest for legitimacy in a heavily contested political field. The book also reflects on the ways opposing political actors have utilized the same template in their quests to secure power. The contributors interrogate the use of time, theological ideas, and religious practices to separate Mnangagwa's regime from Mugabe's This book provides insight into how religious rhetoric is used not only to gain but also to contest legitimacy in Zimbabwe's political sphere Building from the Rubble Lloyd Sachikonye, Brian Raftopoulos, 2018-09-23

Building from the Rubble is the latest volume to trace the history of Zimbabwe's labour movement following Keep on Knocking 1997 and Striking Back 2001. Even though it focuses on the period between 2000-2017, the analysis reviews the changes in trade unionism throughout the post-colonial era. For much of this period, the unions faced massive challenges including state violence and repression, funding limitations, splits, factionalism, and problems of organising at factory level. Perhaps the greatest challenge was the massive structural change in the economy: Deindustrialisation and the informalisation of work decimated the potential membership of the unions and redefined the trajectory of the movement. The growing precarity of work and the loss of formal employment placed the future of trade unions in great jeopardy. Notwithstanding these challenges, the importance of the labour movement continued to resonate with workers. The editors conclude that the unions need to reconnect with their social base at the workplace and rebuild structures and alliances in the informal economy, the rural sector, and with residents' associations and social media movements. This, they write, is a critical post-Mugabe agenda that should be seized by the labour movement at all levels, from shop floor to district, regional, and national spaces.

Regime and Education in Zimbabwe Bekithemba Dube, Albert Mufanечиya, 2024-06-10 This collection focuses on the post independence educational development in Zimbabwe It shows how the ZANU PF regime has presided over the demise of education and covers a wide range of topics such as violence against teachers poor salaries student activism minority languages and curriculum innovations This volume argues that the regime has used education as a tool for repression Curriculum innovations introduced and implemented in Zimbabwe have little to do with improving the performance of the learners and more to do with stopping teachers from pushing the regime change agenda Consequently this has resulted in a nation in crisis marked with high turnover poor economy and mass exodus of teachers and learners The contributors to this volume make various suggestions which could recenter education towards addressing the experiences of the learners as opposed to being used as a tool to push repression and thwart democracy

The Politics of the Dead in Zimbabwe,

2000-2020 Joost Fontein, 2022 Innovative and challenging study that provides fresh insights on the anthropology of death and postcolonial politics In 1898 just before she was hanged for rebelling against colonial rule Charwe Nyakasikana spirit medium of the legendary ancestor Ambuya Nehanda famously prophesised that my bones will rise again A century later bones bodies and human remains have come to occupy an increasingly complex place in Zimbabwe's postcolonial milieu From ancestral bones rising again in the struggle for independence and later land to resurfacing bones of unsettled wardead and from the troubling decaying remains of post independence gukurahundi massacres to the leaky tortured bodies of recent election violence human materials are intertwined in postcolonial politics in ways that go far beyond yet necessarily implicate contests over memory commemoration and the representation of the past In this book Joost Fontein examines the complexities of human remains in Zimbabwe's politics of the dead Challenging and innovative he takes us beyond current scholarship on memory commemoration and the changing significance of traditional death practices to examine the political implications of human remains as material substances as duplicitous rumours and as returning spirits Linking the indeterminacy of human substances to the productive but precarious uncertainties of rumours and spirits the book points to how the incompleteness of death is politically productive and ultimately derives from the problematic entangled excessivities of human material and immaterial existence and is deeply intertwined with the stylistics of postcolonial power and politics Joost Fontein is Professor of Anthropology University of Johannesburg He was previously Director of the British Institute in Eastern Africa and Lecturer in Social Anthropology at the University of Edinburgh His books include Remaking Mutirikwi Landscape Water and Belonging James Currey 2015 shortlisted for the African Studies Association 2016 Herskovits Prize Southern Africa South Africa Namibia Lesotho Swaziland and Botswana University of Johannesburg Press Water and Soil in Holy Matrimony? Munyaradzi Mabeza, Christopher, 2017-02-10 This book is a biography based on a qualitative ethnographic study of adaptation to climate by Mr Zephaniah Phiri Maseko an award winning smallholder farmer from Zvishavane rural Zimbabwe Ethnographic data provides insight and lessons of Mr Phiri Maseko and other farmers practices for rethinking existing strategies for adaptation to climate change The concept of adaptation is probed in relationship to the closely related concepts of vulnerability resilience and innovation This study also explores the concept of conviviality and argues that Mr Phiri Maseko's adaptation to climate hinges on mediating barriers between local and exogenous knowledge systems The book argues that Mr Phiri Maseko offered tangible adaptive climate strategies through his innovations that marry water and soil so that it won't elope and run off but raise a family on his plot His agricultural practices are anchored on the Shona concept of hurudza an exceptionally productive farmer This book explores the concept and practices of hurudza to suggest that the latter day hurudza commercial farmer as embodied by Mr Phiri Maseko offers an important set of resources for the development of climate adaptation strategies in the region This study of smallholder farmers adoption of innovations to climate highlights the complex interplay of multiple factors that act as barriers to uptake Such interplay of multiple stressors increases the vulnerability of smallholders The study concludes by arguing that in as much as the skewed colonial land policy impoverished the smallholder farmers Mr Phiri Maseko nonetheless redefined himself as a latter day hurudza and thus breaks free from the poverty cycle by conjuring ingenious ways of reducing vulnerability to climate The book does not suggest that Mr Phiri Maseko's innovations offer a silver bullet solution to the insecure rural livelihoods of smallholder farmers nevertheless they are a source of hope in an environment of uncertainty His steely tenacity in the face of a multi stressor environment is to be treasured

Land and Agrarian Reform in Zimbabwe Sam Moyo, Walter Chambati, 2013 The Fast Track Land Reform Programme implemented during the 2000s in Zimbabwe represents the only instance of radical redistributive land reforms since the end of the Cold War It reversed the racially skewed agrarian structure and discriminatory land tenures inherited from colonial rule The land reform also radicalised the state towards a nationalist introverted accumulation strategy against a broad array of unilateral Western sanctions Indeed Zimbabwe's land reform in its social and political dynamics must be compared to the leading land reforms of the twentieth century which include those of Mexico Russia China Japan South Korea Taiwan Cuba and Mozambique The fact that the Zimbabwe case has not been recognised as vanguard nationalism has much to do with the intellectual structural adjustment which has accompanied neoliberalism and a hostile media campaign This has entailed dubious theories of neopatrimonialism which reduce African politics and the state to endemic corruption patronage and tribalism while overstating the virtues of neoliberal good governance Under this racist repertoire it has been impossible to see class politics mass mobilisation and resistance let alone believe that something progressive can occur in Africa This book comes to a conclusion that the Zimbabwe land reform represents a new form of resistance with distinct and innovative characteristics when compared to other cases of radicalisation reform and resistance The process of reform and resistance has entailed the deliberate creation of a tri modal agrarian structure to accommodate and balance the interests of various domestic classes the progressive restructuring of labour relations and agrarian markets the continuing pressures for radical reforms through the indigenisation of mining and other sectors and the rise of extensive albeit relatively weak producer cooperative structures The book also highlights some of the resonances between the Zimbabwean land struggles and those on the continent as well as in the South in general arguing that there are some convergences and divergences worthy of intellectual attention The book thus calls for greater endogenous empirical research which overcomes the pre occupation with failed interpretations of the nature of the state and agency in Africa

Christian Theological Education and the Response to the Crisis in Zimbabwe Bekithemba Dube, Gift Masengwe, 2025-10-02 The book offers an incisive examination of the governing philosophy of the Zimbabwe African National Union Patriotic Front ZANU PF referred to as Zanupfism characterizing it as marked by callousness and malevolence towards dissenting voices from civil society and opposition factions This pernicious application of power extends beyond mere verbal aggression to encompass militaristic actions engendering a profound generational crisis within Zimbabwe The contributors explore the compelling juxtaposition between President Emmerson Mnangagwa and the biblical Nebuchadnezzar II a ruler notorious for his autocratic reign and expansive ambitions Further critically scrutinizing the complicity of neo Pentecostal prophets in the book reveals how these religious figures promote an esoteric understanding of the divine diverging from a theology rooted in justice thereby enabling the oppressive regime s practices This critique underscores the imperative for prophets to recalibrate their theological perspectives urging them to move beyond magical interpretations of faith toward an authentic engagement with a personal God who champions justice The book further encompasses the complex interplay of political and religious narratives examining how church leaders either bolster or undermine Mnangagwa s political ideology highlighting the tendency among certain religious factions to deify political authority ultimately exacerbating societal inequities In advocating for a transformative theological discourse in Zimbabwe the book asserts that religious narratives must serve as instruments for fostering democracy social justice and equity rather than sustaining a status quo that entrenches authoritarian governance The necessity for unified principled resistance grounded in the collective agency of the populace emerges as a salient theme in the quest for meaningful political and social reform

An Outsider Within Mary Ndlovu, 2024-05-08 In 1966 at the age of 23 I made a life changing decision That decision to travel from Canada to Zambia to work as a volunteer teacher did indeed change Mary s life During her years in Lusaka she married Edward Ndlovu an executive member of the Zimbabwe African Peoples Union who had escaped from Rhodesia in 1964 They married started a family and moved to the newly independent Zimbabwe in 1980 Over the next 36 years before retiring to Canada Mary s life was a blend of politics teaching human rights advocacy and writing NGO histories The book is particularly candid and insightful about issues of race and culture raising children of mixed race in an historically segregated educational system dealing with the responses of traditional medicine to the AIDS epidemic learning to fit in with a large extended family Her experience as the widow of a National Hero and her engagement with a range of civil society organisations gave her an intimate proximity to political developments in the new Zimbabwe and she writes of these with clarity honesty and moral courage
