Zimbabwe Potato Production Manual:

The Manual of Australian Agriculture Robert L Reid, 2013-10-22 The Manual for Australian Agriculture is a collection of information related to agriculture gathered from different Australian government agencies that are directly or indirectly concerned with agriculture. The book covers related topics such as land utilization and resource use, government assistance to Australian farmers, the physical and chemical properties of soil, soil mapping, plant nutrition and fertilizers, and the growing of grain crops. The book also covers agro industrial fruit and vegetable crops, kinds of seeds and their processing and storage, plant pests and diseases, and livestock and poultry. The text is recommended for agriculturists who are engaged in business as well as those who would like to know more about agriculture in Australia.

Farmer Field School Guidance Document
Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2018-06-08 This FFS Guidance Document focuses on the process and critical decisions that are necessary when starting a new FFS programme and guides the reader through the essential steps required to establish a solid basis for such programmes in tune with the specific local conditions. It also defines the essential elements and processes required to ensure programme relevance, quality, growth, and sustainability. The document differs from most of the FFS manuals and guidelines available in that it focuses on providing support to FFS programme managers and formulators as opposed to FFS field facilitators or trainers who are the primary target group for most existing manuals.

Review of Sweetpotato Seed System in East and Southern Africa, Manual on the Development and Use of FAO Specifications for Plant Protection Products Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 1999 With this edition of the manual, FAO is establishing a new procedure for the development of pesticide specifications in a transparent manner. The specifications may be used to provide an international point of reference against which products can be judged either for regulatory purposes or in commercial dealings, thereby helping to prevent the trading sale and use of inferior products and will contribute towards public and environmental safety throughout the world, especially in developing countries.

Success in Irish Potato Production: A Guide for College Students and the Zimbabwean Farmer
Chisango Future Fortune Tichakunda, Nyaruwata Leonorah Tendayi, 2015-07-21 Zimbabwe's potato farming is faced with numerous challenges. This module was therefore developed to highlight the nature and magnitude of such challenges and suggest possible remedies to boost production. The national production like the rest of the Sub Sahara Region is far below the potential, largely due to limited use of certified seeds, low application of fertilizers and other organic amendments, and low use of fungicides and other production chemicals. Potato production should be encouraged even at very small scale level such as backyard gardening because the returns from potatoes are comparatively good. Potatoes are easy to grow but they require a lot of care. Marketing problems bedevilling potato industry include lack of organized channels in which farmers have no power. The channel is controlled by cartels which shield producers from receiving any market information. There is a lot of handling and in the process the producer's share in the final price of the commodity is minimal. Transport of potatoes to the market is expensive due to poor road infrastructure in the producing areas especially the newly Fast Track Resettlement Areas

Evaluation of the Zimbabwe Livelihoods and Food Security Programme Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2022-06-24 This report presents the results of the evaluation of the Zimbabwe Livelihoods and Food Security Programme LFSP GCP ZIM 025 UK implemented by the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations FAO between 2013 and 2021 The programme sought to contribute to poverty reduction by actively addressing the specific constraints that smallholder farmers particularly women faced in raising the productivity of their farms and participating in markets
