A Season in Hell Arthur Rimbaud, 2004-03-29 Arthur Rimbaud wrote a few pieces that set French poetry aghast around 1873 He'd taken to wandering Europe in lieu of university His teachers hated him There was a sort of subtle but perverse defiance to his work He would create new words to describe the world around him and produced pages of rhyming Latin verse in his mathematics class while taking notes For a time he produced Latin homework for his fellow students and appeared for a time to raise the general standard He criticized every popular structural form and his writings provided a new basis for creative literature in Europe At the age of 21 Rimbaud renounced writing to explore distant countries In 12 years he passed through almost 28 countries and amassed a small fortune in gold before complications from a gangrenous leg injury led to his untimely death He became the first European to travel through northern Ethiopia Confronted in North Africa by an employer who told him his adolescent prose was not only alive in Europe but launching a career of its own is quoted as one histrionic outburst His former employer Alfred Barley wrote Rimbaud would never allow me to mention his former literary works Sometimes I asked him why he didn't take it up again All I ever got were the usual replies Absurd ridiculous disgusting etc
