Neuropsychological Interpretation of Objective Psychological Tests Charles J. Golden,Patricia Espe-Pfeifer,Jana Wachslar-Felder,2006-04-11 The inter comparison of specific skills as represented by performance on neuropsychological tests is at the heart of the neuropsychological assessment process However there is a tendency to regard the interpretation of single tests as a process that is independent of performance on other tests with integration of test information representing a summary of these individual test performances As neuropsychology has become increasingly sophisticated it has been recognized that many factors influence the performance on any given test The meaning of the same score may vary considerably from one person to another depending on his or her performance on other neuropsychological tests Thus a low score on the Halstead Category Test may indeed reflect frontal lobe damage but only if we first rule out the influence of visual spatial problems emotionality attentional issues motivation fatigue and comprehension of the instructions Simplistic interpretations that assume a common interpretation based on a specific score will inevitably lead to errors in interpretation and conclusions The purpose of this book is to provide each test that is described with a compendium of the possible interpretations that can be used with a variety of common tests that are often included in a neuropsychological test battery The first chapter discusses some of the pitfalls and cautions when comparing the tests while the second chapter examines administrative and scoring issues that may be unclear or unavailable for a given test

Assessing Adolescent and Adult Intelligence Alan S. Kaufman,Elizabeth O.

Lichtenberger, 2005-08-05 The classic text now updated with a new interpretive approach to the WAIS III Assessing Adolescent and Adult Intelligence the classic text from Alan Kaufman and Elizabeth Lichtenberger has consistently provided the most comprehensive source of information on cognitive assessment of adults and adolescents The newly updated Third Edition provides important enhancements and additions that highlight the latest research and interpretive methods for the WAIS III Augmenting the traditional sequential and simultaneous WAIS III interpretive methods the authors present a new approach derived from Cattell Horn Carroll CHC theory This approach combines normative assessment performance relative to age peers with ipsative assessment performance relative to the person's own mean level Following Flanagan and Kaufman's work to develop a similar CHC approach for the WISC IV Kaufman and Lichtenberger have applied this system to the WAIS III profile of scores along with integrating recent WAIS III literature Four appendices present the new method in depth In addition to a detailed description the authors provide a blank interpretive worksheet to help examiners make the calculations and decisions needed for applying the additional steps of the new system and norms tables for the new WAIS III subtest combinations added in this approach Assessing Adolescent and Adult Intelligence remains the premier resource for the field covering not only the WAIS III but also the WJ III the KAIT and several brief measures of intelligence as well as laying out a relevant up to date discussion of the discipline The new theory based interpretive approach for the WAIS III makes this a vital resource for practicing psychologists as well as a comprehensive text for graduate students
