Question Michael Levin, 1998-07-15 The book views the hungry forties through the writings of the conservative Thomas Carlyle the liberal John Stuart Mill and the socialist Friedrich Engels It is unsurprising that one of the most fraught decades of modern British history produced socio political literature of such interest and intensity The rapid growth of industrial cities the emergence of working class organizations and rising middle class power as well as revolutions abroad in 1848 made this a tumultuous time These writers provide extensive diverse and high quality reflections on the tensions produced in this key period of transition to an industrial democratic society The Natural Genesis - Gerald Massey, 2007-03-01 Egyptologist

United Kingdom Royal Society of Literature (Great Britain), 1919 Essays by Divers Hands Royal Society of Literature (Great Britain), 1919 Permanent Liminality and Modernity Arpad Szakolczai, 2016-10-04 This book offers a comprehensive sociological study of the nature and dynamics of the modern world through the use of a series of anthropological concepts including the trickster schismogenesis imitation and liminality Developing the view that with the theatre playing a central role the modern world is conditioned as much by cultural processes as it is by economic technological or scientific ones the author contends the world is to a considerable extent theatrical a phenomenon experienced as inauthenticity or a loss of direction and meaning As such the novel is revealed as a means for studying our theatricalised reality not simply because novels can be understood to be likening the world to theatre but because they effectively capture and present the reality of a world that has been thoroughly theatricalised and they do so more effectively than the main instruments usually employed to analyse reality philosophy and sociology With analyses of some of the most important novelists and novels of modern culture including Rilke Hofmannsthal Kafka Mann Blixen Broch and Bulgakov and focusing on fin de siècle Vienna as a crucial threshold chronotope of modernity Permanent Liminality and Modernity demonstrates that all seek to investigate and unmask the theatricalisation of modern life with its progressive loss of meaning and our deteriorating capacity to distinguish between what is meaningful and what is artificial Drawing on the work of Nietzsche Bakhtin and Girard to examine the ways in which novels explore the reduction of human existence to a state of permanent liminality in the form of a sacrificial carnival this book will appeal to scholars of social anthropological and literary theory Rebellious Hearts Adriana Craciun, Kari E. Lokke, 2001-05-24 This pathbreaking collection engages in the important new work of rediscovering the hundreds of British women writing during the Romantic period women who we now realize were central not marginal to the poetics and ideologies of Romanticism Yet no previous volume has focused on British women's responses to the French Revolution and the Napoleonic wars or on their participation in the social economic religious and poetic debates surrounding these political conflicts As the first book to represent the full spectrum of women's participation in the Revolutionary debates Rebellious Hearts uncovers a rich new field of literary and historical scholarship
