

A person stands on a dark, silhouetted hill under a vast night sky. The Milky Way galaxy is visible, stretching across the upper half of the frame with a vibrant pink and purple hue. The lower half of the sky is a deep yellow-orange, suggesting a sunset or sunrise. The person's silhouette is centered in the lower half of the image, looking up at the stars.

Yesterday is history. Tomorrow is a mystery. Today is a gift.
That's why we call it the present.

The Politics of Display Sharon Macdonald,2010-10-05 The assumption that museum exhibitions particularly those concerned with science and technology are somehow neutral and impartial is today being challenged both in the public arena and in the academy The Politics of Display brings together studies of contemporary and historical exhibitions and contends that exhibitions are never and never have been above politics Rather technologies of display and ideas about science and objectivity are mobilized to tell stories of progress citizenship racial and national difference The display of the Enola Gay the aircraft which dropped the atomic bomb on Hiroshima is a well known case in point The Politics of Display charts the changing relationship between displays and their audience and analyzes the consequent shift in styles of representation towards interactive multimedia and reflexive modes of display The Politics of Display brings together an array of international scholars in the disciplines of sociology anthropology and history Examples are taken from exhibitions of science technology and industry anthropology geology natural history and medicine and locations include the United States of America Australia the United Kingdom France the Netherlands and Spain This book is an excellent contribution to debates about the politics of public culture It will be of interest to students of sociology anthropology cultural studies museum studies and science studies

Light and Obscurity in Symbolism Deborah Cibelli,Rosina Neginsky,2016-01-14 The idea of light and darkness is one of the central ideas of the Symbolist movement since this is a movement of contrasts It encompasses the major themes of Symbolism such as good and evil beauty and ugliness the visible and the invisible and the divine and the earthly This volume brings together a range of studies in order to understand the notion of light and darkness and a variety of its Symbolist interpretations It also stresses the interdisciplinary nature of the concepts of light and darkness in Symbolism as well as the cohabitation and symbiosis of both which are together or separately at the core of this movement

The Oxford Dictionary of American Art & Artists Ann Lee Morgan,2018-10-04 This new edition of The Oxford

Dictionary of American Art and Artists has been fully revised and updated as well as including dozens of new entries offering an insightful and informative view of America's artistic heritage. An indispensable biographical and critical guide to American art from colonial times to contemporary postmodernism, this valuable resource provides readers with a wealth of factual detail and perceptive analysis of America's leading artists. This new edition has been updated to include a number of entries on prevailing topics such as body art, light and space, Indian American art, scatter art, and transactional art, and features many new or greatly expanded biographical entries on artists such as Ida Applebroog, Guerilla Girls, Peter Hujar, and Shirin Neshat. Morgan offers readers a wealth of authoritative information as well as well-informed analysis and criticism of artists and their work. Filled with fascinating historical background and penetrating insight, The Oxford Dictionary of American Art and Artists is an essential resource for art lovers everywhere. "Women and Things, 1750-1950" Maureen Daly

Goggin, 2017-07-05 In contrast to much current scholarship on women and material culture which focuses primarily on women as consumers, this essay collection provides case studies of women who produced material objects. The essays collected here make an original contribution to material culture studies by focusing on women's social practices in relation to material culture. The essays as a whole are concerned with women's complex and active engagement with material culture in the various stages of the material object's life cycle from design and production to consumption, use, and redeployment. Also theorized and described are the ways in which women engaged in meaning-making, identity formation, and commemoration through their manipulation of materials and techniques ranging from taxidermy and shell work to collecting autographs and making scrapbooks. This volume takes as its object of investigation the overlooked and often despised categories of women's decorative and craft activities as sites of important cultural and social work. This volume is interdisciplinary with essays by art historians, social historians, literary critics, rhetoricians, and museum curators. The scope of the volume is international with essays on eighteenth-century German silhouettes, Australian aboriginal ritual practices, Brittany mourning rites, and Soviet-era recipes that provide a comparative framework for the majority of essays which focus on British and North American women who lived and worked in the long nineteenth century. This volume will appeal to a broad range of students and scholars in women's history, art history, cultural studies, museum studies, anthropology, cultural and social history, literature, rhetoric, and material culture studies. The Personal History of a Bukharan Intellectual Sharīf Jān Makhdūm Ṣadr Ziyā', 2004 The Diary offers priceless documentation and guidance for an understanding of the rigidity that characterized the Bukharan Amirate throughout its tumultuous final decades of existence ca. 1880-1920. Clicko Neil Parsons, 2010-12-15 During the 1920s and 30s Franz Taibosh, whose stage name was Clicko, performed in front of millions as one of the stars of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum Bailey Circus. Prior to his fame in the United States, Taibosh toured the world as the Wild Dancing Bushman, showing off his frenzied dance moves in freak shows, sideshows, and music halls from Australia to Cuba. When he died in 1940, the New York Times called him the only African bushman ever exhibited in this country. In Clicko, Neil Parsons unearths the untold story of Taibosh's journey from boyhood on a small farm in South Africa to top billing as one of the travelling World's Fair Freaks Through Taibosh's tale Parsons brings to life the bizarre golden age of entertainment as well as the role that the dubious new science of race played in it Beginning with Taibosh's early life Clicko untangles the real story of his ancestry from the web of myths spun around him on his rise to international stardom Parsons then chronicles the unhappy middle period of Taibosh's career when he suffered under the heel of a vicious manager Left to freeze and nearly starve in an unheated apartment Taibosh was rescued by Frank Cook Barnum Bailey's lawyer The Cooks adopted Taibosh as a member of their family of circus managers and performers and his happy if far from average years with them make up the final chapter of this remarkable story Equal parts entertaining and disturbing Clicko vividly evokes a forgotten era when vaudeville drew massive crowds and circus freaks were featured in Billboard and Variety Parsons introduces us to colorful characters such as George Auger the giant and the original Zip the Pinhead but above all he gives us an unforgettable portrait of Franz Taibosh rescued at last from the racists and the romantics and revealed here as an ordinary man with an extraordinary life

Like Life Luke Syson, Sheena Wagstaff, Emerson Bowyer, Brinda Kumar, 2018-03-19 Since before the myth of Pygmalion bringing a statue to life through desire artists have used sculpture to explore the physical materiality of the body This groundbreaking volume examines key sculptural works from thirteenth century Europe to the global present revealing new insights into the strategies artists deploy to blur the distinction between art and life Three dimensional renderings of the human figure are presented here in numerous manifestations created by artists ranging from Donatello and Edgar Degas to Kiki Smith and Jeff Koons Featuring works created in media both traditional and unexpected such as glass leather and blood Like Life presents sculpture by turns conventional and shocking including effigies dolls mannequins automata waxworks and anatomical models Texts by curators and cultural historians as well as contemporary artists complete this provocative exploration of realistic representations of the human body

Constructing Race Tracy Teslow, 2014-07-21 This book explores how physical anthropologists struggled to understand variation in bodies and cultures in the twentieth century how they represented race to professional and lay publics and how their efforts contributed to an American formulation of race that has remained rooted in both bodies and cultures as well as heredity and society

A Short History of Chinua Achebe's Things Fall Apart Terri Ochiagha, 2018-11-12 The publication of Chinua Achebe's Things Fall Apart 1958 is heralded as the inaugural moment of modern African fiction and the book remains the most widely read African novel of all time Translated into dozens of languages it has sold more than twelve million copies and has become a canonical reading in schools the world over While Things Fall Apart is neither the first African novel to be published in the West nor necessarily the most critically valued its iconic status has surpassed even that of its author Until now in the sixtieth anniversary year of its publication there has not been an updated history that moves beyond the book's commonly discussed contexts and themes In the accessible and concise A Short History of Chinua Achebe's Things Fall Apart Terri Ochiagha provides that history asking new questions and bringing to wider attention unfamiliar but crucial elements of the Things Fall Apart story These include new insights into questions of canonicity and into literary historiographical and precolonial aesthetic influences She also assesses adaptations and appropriations not just in films but in theater hip hop and popular literary genres such as Onitsha Market Literature
