The Foreign Critical Reputation of F. Scott Fitzgerald, 1980-2000 Linda C. Stanley, 2004-10-30 This bibliography extends the work of Stanley's first volume The Foreign Critical Reputation of F Scott Fitzgerald An Analysis and Annotated Bibliography to the final two decades of the 20th century. It includes literature from the former countries of the USSR, Romania, India, and Canada, as well as countries that were covered in the first volume such as Britain, France, Italy, Germany, and Japan. One of the major findings that emerges is that Fitzgerald's poetic prose is extremely difficult to translate, but new translations continue to appear. The introduction to this volume provides a synthesis of Fitzgerald scholarship abroad at the turn of the 21st century and points to new directions already suggested that may represent challenges to current scholarship. An extended analysis introduces each chapter. Each chapter also includes a chronological list of translations and editions of Fitzgerald's work from his earliest appearances in print to those appearing in 2000. The most substantial section of each chapter features fairly detailed annotations of monographs, collections, book chapters, essays, conference papers, articles, reviews, and school editions. This compilation will intrigue anyone interested in the work of F Scott Fitzgerald.

Bookseller and the Stationery Trades' Journal, 1980 A Voice Full of Money Derick Bingham, 2001 F Scott Fitzgerald was the star and spokesman for the decade he called the Jazz Age, the 1920s, the greatest and gaudiest spree in history, which saw a whole race going hedonistic, deciding on pleasure. It all crashed, and with it came a severe poisoning of the American dream. In his masterpiece The Great Gatsby, he warns of the corruption of values and the decline of spiritual life. Fitzgerald's writing is looked on today by millions as prophetic. This book is a look at what he so masterfully exposed, and its aim is to apply the ageless Scriptures to the emptiness of hedonism and show how we can be led to make the right choices to travel on the right road and to know a sure and steadfast hope in the midst of a Western civilization that is selling its very soul for the transient.
