Conversations with William S. Burroughs William S. Burroughs, 1999 Although a rather shy private man William Burroughs gave a good many interviews during his lifetime some in prominent publications others in obscure forums The interviews collected here provide an aperture into the philosophies methods and quirks of a man who wrote Queer Junky Naked Lunch Nova Express Cities of the Red Night My Education and many other works When he died in 1997 Burroughs was likely one of the most widely recognizable figures in contemporary American literature His image circulated on album jackets in Nike commercials and in films as though proving his notion that pictures and words are viruses invading any receptive host taking hold and replicating themselves Not surprisingly the topics Burroughs touches upon are wide ranging his relationships to the Beats legends surrounding his personal life drugs gay liberation collaboration the cut up technique science fiction politics conspiracy theory censorship cats guns David Cronenberg s movie adaptation of Naked Lunch shotgun art dreams and life in Lawrence Kansas where he spent his last years From these interviews emerges a full undiluted portait of a writer who is difficult to capture in biography Speaking of the Paris Review interview Alfred Kazin calls Burroughs an engineer of the pen a calmly interested specialist of the new processes When Burroughs makes philosophic and scientific claims for his disorderly collections of data we happily recognize under the externally calm surface of the interview the kind of inner frenzy that is his genius and which in all of us his books make an appeal Kazin's view applies as well for the other interviews in this collection Allen Hibbard is an associate professor of English and the director of graduate studies at Middle Tennessee State University He is the author of Paul Bowles A Study of the Short Fiction and of many articles The Last Dream Before Dawn Seven, 2011-12-05
