Thinking Politically South Atlantic Quarterly:

Thinking Politically Alberto Moreiras, 2005 A special issue of South Atlantic Quarterly The South Atlantic Quarterly John Spencer Bassett, Edwin Mims, William Henry Glasson, William Preston Few, William Kenneth Boyd, William Hane Wannamaker, 1922 The Postcolonial Enlightenment Daniel Carey, Lynn Festa, 2009-02-26 Leading scholars bring together eighteenth century studies and postcolonial theory to analyze the role and reputation of Enlightenment in the context of early European colonial ambitions and postcolonial interrogations of Western imperial projects and aspirations The South Atlantic Quarterly ... , 1903 Thinking Freedom in Africa Michael Neocosmos, 2016-12-01 Thinking Freedom in Africa conceives an emancipatory politics beginning from the axiom that people think Previous ways of conceiving the universal emancipation of humanity have in practice ended in failure Marxism anti colonial nationalism and neo liberalism all understand the achievement of universal emancipation through a form of state politics Marxism which had encapsulated the idea of freedom for most of the twentieth century was found wanting when it came to thinking emancipation because social interests and identities were understood as simply reflected in political subjectivity which could only lead to statist authoritarianism Neo liberalism and anti colonial nationalism have also both assumed that freedom is realizable through the state and have been equally authoritarian in their relations to those they have excluded on the African continent and elsewhere Thinking Freedom in Africa then conceives emancipatory politics beginning from the axiom that people think In other words the idea that anyone is capable of engaging in a collective thought practice which exceeds social place interests and identities and which thus begins to think a politics of universal humanity Using the work of thinkers such as Alain Badiou Jacques Rancière Sylvain Lazarus Frantz Fanon and many others along with the inventive thought of people themselves in their experiences of struggle the author proceeds to analyse how Africans themselves with agency of their own have thought emancipation during various historical political sequences and to show how emancipation may be thought today in a manner appropriate to twenty first century conditions and concerns Carl Schmitt's International Thought William Hooker, 2009-11-12 An unrepentant Nazi Carl Schmitt remains one of the most divisive figures in twentieth century political thought In recent years his ideas have attracted a new and growing audience This book seeks to cut through the controversy surrounding Schmitt to analyse his ideas on world order In so doing it takes on board Schmitt's critique of the condition of order in late modernity and considers Schmitt's continued relevance Consideration is given to the two devices Schmitt deploys the Grossraum and the Partisan and argues that neither concept lives up to its claim to transcend or reform Schmitt's pessimistic history of the state The author concludes that Schmitt's continuing value lies in his provocative historical critique rather than his conceptual innovation Locke's Political Thought and the Oceans Sarah Pemberton, 2017-05-09 This book outlines and analyzes John Locke's political thought about the oceans with a focus on law and freedom at sea The book examines the Two Treatises of Government in which Locke argues that the seas are collectively owned by all humans

and are governed by universal natural laws that prohibit piracy Locke's Two Treatises provides a systematic political theory of the seas that contributes to theories of international law and maritime law but his text does not answer the practical question of how to enforce law effectively at sea The book also considers how Locke translated his theoretical ideas into practice when he was involved in policymaking as a member of England's Board of Trade during the 1690s On the Board Locke waged a war against pirates by proposing an anti piracy treaty between Europe's major maritime states by successfully advocating a new English piracy law and by supporting the deployment of the English Navy against pirates Locke's war against pirates was consistent with the natural law theory in the Two Treatises and helped to build English empire on land and at sea There is also consistency between Locke's theoretical views about slavery and his work on the Board of Trade As a Board member Locke advocated forced migration and forced labor for English convicts which is consistent with the theory of penal slavery in the Two Treatises and suggests that his theory was intended to justify the enslavement of English convicts However there are tensions between Locke's arguments in the Two Treatises and the policies of forced naval service that he supported on the Board Locke's theories of law and freedom at sea shaped his vision of English national identity and influenced the English government's policies about slavery and piracy

Badiou and Politics Bruno Bosteels, 2011-08-10 Examines the political thinking of French philosopher of Alain Badiou whose theories of ontology and mathematics have set him apart from many of his post structuralist contemporaries

Protest and the Ambiguous Politics of Indignation Louise Knops, 2025-02-14 What makes indignation political And why should we care about it Drawing on field work among four movements in Belgium 2017 2021 The Youth for Climate movement the Citizen platform for refugee support the Yellow Vests movement and the radical right movement Schild in others it is rooted in historical forms of injustice and discrimination It triggers some of the most disruptive forms of contention while also reinforcing hegemonic norms and beliefs Indignation overall is one of the most explicitly political affects of mobilization while also reinforcing broader trends of depoliticization By unveiling the affective complexity of indignation the author shows the multiple ways in which the indignation expressed by social movements both politicizes and depoliticizes and what this means for the role played by emotions and affects in today's landscape of conflictuality

Intercultural Thinking in African Philosophy Marita Rainsborough, 2024-03-26 This book sets up a rich intercultural dialogue between the philosophy of Immanuel Kant and Michel Foucault and that of key African thinkers such as Kwame Anthony Appiah Achille Mbembe Kwasi Wiredu Kwame Gyekye Tsenay Serequeberhahn and Henry Odera Oruka The book challenges western centric visions of an African future by demonstrating the richness of thought that can be found in African and Afrodiasporic philosophy The book shows how thinkers such as Serequeberhan have criticised the inconsistencies in Kant's work whereas others such as Wiredu Gyekye Appiah and Mbembe have referenced his work more positively and developed progressive political concepts such as the metanational state partial cosmopolitanism and Afropolitanism The book goes on to consider how Mbembe and Mudimbe have responded to Foucault's ideas in deciphering the various Western African and Afrodiasporic discourses of knowledge on Africa The book concludes by considering various theories of intercultural exchange from Gyekye's cultural borrowing to Appiah's conversation across boundaries Wiredu's cross cultural dialogue Mbembe's thinking outside the frame Serequeberhan's dialogue at a distance and Oruka's call for global redistribution and a new ecophilosophical attitude to safeguard human existence on the planet This book invites us all to engage in intercultural dialogue and mutual respect for different cultural creations It will be an important read for researchers in Philosophy wherever they are in the world
