This Is Not That Dawn Jhootha Sach:

This is Not that Dawn Yashpal, 2010 Jhootha Sach is arguably the most outstanding piece of Hindi literature written about the Partition Reviving life in Lahore as it was before 1947 This Is Not That Dawn Yashpal, 2010-07-05 Jhootha Sach is arguably the most outstanding piece of Hindi literature written about the Partition Reviving life in Lahore as it was before 1947 the book opens on a nostalgic note with vivid descriptions of the people that lived in the city's streets and lanes like Bhola Pandhe Ki Gali Tara who wanted an education above marriage Puri whose ideology and principles often came in the way of his impoverished circumstances Asad who was ready to sacrifice his love for the sake of communal harmony Their lives and those of other memorable characters are forever altered as the carnage that ensues on the eve of Independence shatters the beauty and peace of the land killing millions of Hindus and Muslims and forcing others to leave their homes forever Published in English translation for the first time Yashpal's controversial novel is a politically charged powerful tale of human suffering The Postcolonial Moment in South and Southeast Asia Gyan Prakash, Nikhil Menon, Michael Laffan, 2018-02-22 By exploring themes of fragility mobility and turmoil anxieties and agency and pedagogy this book shows how colonialism shaped postcolonial projects in South and Southeast Asia including India Pakistan Burma and Indonesia Its chapters unearth the contingency and contention that accompanied the establishment of nation states and their claim to be decolonized heirs The book places key postcolonial moments a struggle for citizenship anxious constitution making mass education and land reform against the aftermath of the Second World War and within a global framework relating them to the global transformation in political geography from empire to nation The chapters analyse how futures and ideals envisioned by anticolonial activists were made reality whilst others were discarded Drawing on the expertise of eminent contributors The Postcolonial Moment in South and Southeast Asia represents the most ground breaking research on the region My Country Is Literature Chandras Choudhury, 2021-11-30 A book is only one text but it is many books It is a different book for each of its readers My Anna Karenina is not your Anna Karenina your A House for Mr Biswas is not the one on my shelf When we think of a favourite book we recall not only the shape of the story the characters who touched our hearts the rhythm and texture of the sentences We recall our own circumstances when we read it where we bought it and for how much what kind of joy or solace it provided how scenes from the story began to intermingle with scenes from our life how it roused us to anger or indignation or allowed us to make our peace with some great private discord This is the second life of the book its life in our life In his early twenties the novelist Chandras Choudhury found himself in the position of most young people who want to write impractical hard up ill at ease in the world Like most people who love to read his most radiant hours were inside the pages of a book Seeking to combine his love of writing with his love of reading he became an adept of a trade that is mainly transacted lying down that is he became a book reviewer Pleasure independence aesthetic rapture even a modest livelihood all these were the rewards of being a worker bee of literature ingesting the output of the publishers of the world in great quantities and trying to explain in the pages of newspapers and magazines exactly what makes a book leave a mark on the soul Even as Choudhury s own novels began to be published he continued to write about other writers books his contemporaries at home and abroad the great Indian writers of the past the relationship of the reading life in particular the novel to selfhood and democracy all the ways in which literature sings the truths of the human heart My Country Is Literature brings together the best of his literary criticism a long train of perceptive essays on writers as diverse as VS Naipaul and Orhan Pamuk Gandhi and Nehru Bibhutibhushan Bandyopadhyay and Jhumpa Lahiri The book also contains an introductory essay describing Choudhury s book saturated years as a young writer in Mumbai the joys and sorrows and stratagems of the book reviewer s trade and the ways in which literature is made as much by readers as by writers Delightfully punctuated with 15 portraits of writers by the artist Golak Khandual My Country Is Literature is essential reading for everyone who believes that books are the most beautiful things in life Imagining a Postcolonial Nation

Yamini,2023-09-30 This book explores narratives of nationalism in the Hindi novel 1940s 80s engaging with mainstream populist political conceptualisation of a postcolonial nation and local cultural often marginalised fictional parallels and alternatives to it Analysing processes of nation formation and nationalism s via experiments with the novel form and versions of realism in Hindi conversations between the political and the cultural rural borders and the urban central spaces individual subjectivity and social structures and the challenges Hindi novels internal linguistic diversity poses to formalised Hindi s hegemony Imagining a Postcolonial Nation Hindi Novels and Forms of India 1940s 80s traces Hindi fiction s history of postcolonial India The multiplicity of realisms indicates significant responses to postcolonial nationalism idealistic critical regional satirical and psychological Looking at indigenous narrative methods employed by authors to critically evolve Western ideas of the nation and novel the book explores the simultaneous convergences and divergences between literary and political understandings of ideological religious and linguistic nationalisms Surveying the broad sentiments of idealism enchantment and disenchantment with freedom and postcoloniality it studies the possibilities of fiction embodying national history without an outright commitment to mainstream nationalism or nationalist literary canon formation It also briefly tries to understand the repercussions of nationalism as a masculinist project and its gendered nature affecting a section of writing novels by women authors to present counter narratives to both national and literary canons Choosing a fairly broad historical timeframe the book reveals the radical potential of narratives that have over the years been critically categorised as canonical It reopens discussions around nationalism within novels that have been often canonised as apparently uncritically nationalist Krishna Sobti Sukrita Paul Kumar,Rekha Sethi,2021-09-28 This book engages with the life and works of the distinctive Hindi writer Krishna Sobti known for making bold choices of themes in her writing Also known for her extraordinary use of the Hindi language she emerges as an embodiment of a counter archive While presenting the author in the context of her times this volume offers critical perspectives to define her position in the canon of modern Indian literature Alongside important critical essays on her the inclusion of excerpts from the translations of some major works by the author such as Zindaginama Mitro Marjani and Ai Ladki greatly facilitate an understanding of her worldview and the contexts in which she wrote Also included in this book are some of her reflections on the creative process that help in unfolding the complexities of her characters and her specific approach to the language of fiction Writing in the times of significant political and cultural churnings her fiction includes themes such as the Partition of the country and its aftermath women and their sexuality desire and violence history and memory Her writing subverted the dominant narratives of the times and de historicised history Her own essays and other critical writings demonstrate the way Krishna Sobti s characters are abundantly polyphonic and seeped in social realities They encapsulate the cultural milieu of their times and serve as a site of resistance to the dominant archive of power Her interactions with her fellow Hindi writers such as Nirmal Verma and Krishan Baldev Vaid as also her letters her memoirs and the reminiscences of others further enrich this volume and establish her unique voice Part of the Writer in Context Series this book will be useful for scholars and researchers of Indian literature English literature postcolonial studies cultural studies gender studies translation studies and Partition studies

Nationalism in India Debajyoti Biswas, John Charles Ryan, 2021-09-13 This book offers interdisciplinary perspectives on nationalism in India and examines the ways in which literary textual representations intervene in debates regarding Hindu Muslim and other forms of Indian nationalism The book interrogates questions of nationalism and nationhood in relation to literary and cultural texts historic linguistic contexts and new developments in queer nationalism and ecological nationalism It adopts a nation wide emphasis including chapters on Northeast India and other regions that have been historically underrepresented in studies of Indian nationalism Moreover the volume explores a rich variety of literary works by various writers over the past two centuries that have created enshrined and contested ideas pivotal to the development of Indian nationalism Located in a range of disciplines contributors bring extensive expertise in Indian literature language and culture to the question of nationalism The chapters challenge many of the accepted ideas on nationalism and critically examine the politics behind such nationalisms Moving beyond an approach to Indian nationalism based exclusively in the historicist political paradigm this timely book challenges established ideas in Indian nationalism and critically examines the politics of nationalisms in terms of textual representations The book will be of interest to researchers working on South Asian studies including Indian culture history literature and politics

Fiction as History Vasudha Dalmia, 2019-08-01 Explains the Hindi novel s role in anticipating and creating the story of middle class modernity and modernization in North India Vasudha Dalmia offers a panoramic view of the intellectual and cultural life of North India over a century from the aftermath of the 1857 uprising to the end of the Nehruvian era The North s historical cities rooted in an Indo Persianate culture began changing more slowly than the Presidency towns founded by the British Dalmia takes up eight canonical Hindi novels set in six of these cities Agra Allahabad Banaras Delhi Lahore and Lucknow to trace a literary history of domestic and political cataclysms Her exploration of the emerging Hindu middle classes changing personal and professional ambitions and new notions of married life provides a vivid sense of urban modernity She argues that the radical social transformations associated with post 1857 urban restructuring and the political flux resulting from social reform Gandhian nationalism communalism Partition and the Cold War shaped the realm of the intimate as much as the public sphere Love and friendship notions of privacy attitudes to women s work and relationships within households are among the book s major themes

The Women's Courtyard Khadija Mastur, 2025-07-15 A feminist classic of Partition literature in a newly revised translation by Booker Prize winning translator Daisy Rockwell A Penguin Classic Set in the turbulent decade of the 1940s The Women's Courtyard provides an inverted perspective on the Partition Mastur's novel is conspicuously empty of the political pondering and large national questions that played out typically in the arenas of men Instead it gives expression to the preoccupations of the women in the courtyard fighting different battles with loud voices The novel follows a Muslim girl Aliya and her family about and around the climax of the Independence struggle While the national struggle rages on the street Aliya and the other women in the courtyard are tethered hopelessly to their own problems of life and death The Women's Courtyard is an experience in suffocation Within the strict religious and social framework of a rigid Muslim family there is a purdah between Aliya and the rest of the world While the men in Aliya's family wage politics get beaten up and go to jail in the unseen outside their families back home are forced to wait in deteriorating conditions trying desperately to hold up the social structure that confines them Witnessing Partition Tarun K.

Saint, 2019-08-13 This book interrogates representations fiction literary motifs and narratives of the Partition of India Delving into the writings of Khushwant Singh Balachandra Rajan Attia Hosain Abdullah Hussein Rahi Masoom Raza and Anita Desai among many others it highlights the modes of fictive testimony that sought to articulate the inarticulate the experiences of trauma and violence of loss and longing and of diaspora and displacement The author discusses representational techniques and formal innovations in writing across three generations of twentieth century writers in India and Pakistan invoking theoretical debates on history memory witnessing and trauma With a new afterword the second edition of this volume draws attention to recent developments in Partition studies and sheds new light as regards ongoing debates about an event that still casts a shadow on contemporary South Asian society and culture A key text this is essential reading for scholars researchers and students of literary criticism South Asian studies cultural studies and modern history Resistance and its discontents in South Asian women's fiction Maryam Mirza, 2023-08-22 Mirza's theorization of resistance is a substantive addition to feminist and postcolonial scholarship and her rich readings of different literary texts make a valuable contribution to feminist literary studies Nalini Iyer Professor of English Seattle University Resistance and its discontents in South Asian women's fiction is a rigorous and impassioned exploration of the concept of resistance in postcolonial literature. It is an essential contribution to the field of postcolonial studies and a compelling excavation of resistance in South Asian women's writing. Claire Chambers, Professor of Global Literature, University of York, Mirza's comprehensive take on what counts as resistance in Anglophone fiction by women writers from South Asia and its diaspora, not just its heroic manifestations but also its limits, its contradictions, its marginality and even its absence in the reality of women's lives, makes this a provocative theoretical inquiry into female agency. Resistance and its Discontents in South Asian Women's Fiction makes a major contribution to postcolonial criticism as well as feminist theory. Rajeswari Sunder Rajan, Formerly Global Distinguished Professor, New York University, Maryam Mirza's new book is sure to become a major work of reference in the field of South Asian literary studies and of literature by and on women. Its breadth, depth and level of detail are astonishing, and it offers a thoroughly new reboot of the genre of resistance literature by enlarging and complexifying the semantic reach of the term resistance beyond its current remit within contemporary fictional narratives. Neelam Srivastava, Professor of Postcolonial and World Literature, Newcastle University, This book is an examination of how English language fiction by women writers from India, Pakistan, Bangladesh and Sri Lanka has grappled with the idea and practice of resistance. A valuable original and timely contribution to the field of South Asian literary and cultural studies, this book extends and complicates existing debates about the meanings of resistance. It brings to the fore not only the emancipatory potential of resistance but also the contradictions that it can encompass as well as the anxieties that it can generate, particularly for women. Focusing on novels and short fiction, the book explores fiction by Arundhati Roy, Kamila Shamsie, Tahmima Anam, Jhumpa Lahiri, Manju Kapur and Ru Freeman, amongst others.

Transitional Justice Prof. Dr. Chrisje Brants, Professor Antoine Hol, Professor Dina Siegel, 2013-04-28 Transitional justice is usually associated with international criminal courts and tribunals, but criminal justice is merely one way of dealing with the legacy of conflict and atrocity. Justice is not only a matter of law. It is a process of making sense of the past and accepting the possibility of a shared future together, although perpetrators, victims and bystanders may have very different memories and perceptions, experiences and expectations. This book goes further than providing a legal analysis of the effectiveness of transitional justice and presents a wider perspective. It is a critical appraisal of the different dimensions of the process of transitional justice that affects the imagery and constructions of past experiences and perceptions of conflict. Examining hidden histories of atrocities, public trials and memorialization processes and rituals, artistic expressions and contradictory perceptions of past conflicts, the book constructs what transitional justice and the imagery involved can mean for a better understanding of the processes of justice, truth and reconciliation. In transcending the legal, although by no means denying the significance of law, the book also represents a multidisciplinary, holistic approach to justice and includes contributions from criminal and international lawyers, cultural anthropologists, criminologists, political scientists and historians.

Transitional Justice Christine Bell, 2016-02-17 This collection on transitional justice sits as part of a library of essays on different concepts of justice Yet transitional justice appears quite different from other types of justice and fundamental ambiguities characterise the term that raise questions as to how it should sit alongside other concepts of justice This collection attempts to capture and portray three different dimensions of the transitional justice field Part I addresses the origins of the field which continue to bedevil it Indeed the origins themselves are increasingly debated in what is an emergent contested historiography of the field that assists in understanding its contemporary quirks and concerns Part II addresses and sets out parts of the tool kit of transitional justice which could be understood as the canonical research agenda of the field Part III tries to convey a sense of the way in which the field is unfolding and extending to new transitions tools theories of justice and self critique

Writing Revolution in South Asia Kama Maclean, J. Daniel Elam, Christopher Moffat, 2018-10-11 This comprehensive volume examines the relationship between revolutionary politics and the act of writing in modern South Asia Its pages feature a diverse cast of characters rebel poets and anxious legislators party theoreticians and industrious archivists nostalgic novelists enterprising journalists and more The authors interrogate the multiple forms and effects of revolutionary storytelling in politics and public life questioning the easy distinction between words and deeds and considering the distinct consequences of writing itself While acknowledging that the promise fervour or threat of revolution is never reducible to the written word this collection explores how manifestos lyrics legal documents hagiographies and other constellations of words and sentences articulate contest and enact revolutionary political practice in both colonial and post colonial South Asia Emphasising the potential of writing to incite contain or reorient the present this volume promises to provoke new conversations at the intersection of historiography politics and literature in South Asia urging scholars and activists to interrogate their own storytelling practices and the relationship of the contemporary moment to violent and contested pasts This book was originally published as a special issue of South Asia Journal of South Asian Studies
