Jewish, Christian, and Muslim Travel Experiences
 Susanne Luther, Pieter B. Hartog, Clare E. Wilde, 2023-10-04 Travel and pilgrimage have become central research topics in recent years Some archaeologists and historians have applied globalization theories to ancient intercultural connections Classicists have rediscovered travel as a literary topic in Greek and Roman writing Scholars of early Judaism Christianity and Islam have been rethinking long familiar pilgrimage practices in new interdisciplinary contexts This volume contributes to this flourishing field of study in two ways First the focus of its contributions is on experiences of travel Our main question is How did travelers in the ancient world experience and make sense of their journeys real or imaginary and of the places they visited Second by treating Jewish Christian and Islamic experiences together this volume develops a longue dur e perspective on the ways in which travel experiences across these three traditions resembled each other By focusing on experiences of travel we hope to foster interaction between the study of ancient travel in the humanities and that of broader human experience in the social sciences

Dig a Deeper Well in Me O God Apostle E. Uche Nyeche, 2014-09-24 Having a personal relationship with God there is no short cut or magic answer to the question How do I know Jesus You must train your body soul and spirit as a soldier of Christ and decide to be committed even when you do not see what may lie ahead Those who put their personal relationship with Jesus first will not faint because their life is rooted in the promises of God This book is about the life of faith life of hope and the vision of my to serve the Lord and Savior Jesus Christ The views reflected in this writing are profoundly religious theological and supernatural The determined will of humanity is too territorial and the covetousness is selfabsorbing We should give honor to those called by God remembering to place the needs of others before our own Jesus Christ is our example To love Him is to embrace prayer and love to hear His words Prayer moves God Prayer is so important that even the angels make intercessions to God for us A deep relationship with God is what we need so that we can be victorious against the principalities and powers of all demonic forces
