Visualizing The Holocaust Screen Cultures German Film And The Visual:

The Holocaust and Representations of Jews K. Hannah Holtschneider, 2014-03-21 This book examines how prominent national exhibitions in Europe represent the Jewish minority and its cultural and religious self understandings historically and today in particular in the context of the Holocaust Historical Dictionary of German Cinema Robert C.

Reimer, Carol J. Reimer, 2019-07-15 The History of German film is diverse and multi faceted This volume can only suggest the richness of a film tradition that includes five distinct German governments Wilhelmine Germany the Weimar Republic the Third Reich the Federal Republic of Germany West Germany and the German Democratic Republic East Germany s well as a reunited Germany two national industries Germany and Austria and a myriad of styles and production methods Paradoxically the political disruptions that have produced these distinct film eras as well as and the natural inclination of artists to rebel and create new styles allow for construction of a narrative of German film Disjuncture generates distinct points of separation and yet also highlights continuities between the ruptures This second edition of Historical Dictionary of German Cinema contains a chronology an introduction appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 200 cross referenced entries on directors actors films cinematographers composers producers and major historical events that greatly affected the direction and development of German cinema This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about German cinema Hitler - Films from Germany K. Machtans, M. Ruehl, 2012-11-30

The first book length study to critically examine the recent wave of Hitler biopics in German cinema and television A group of international experts discuss films like Downfall in the context of earlier portrayals of Hitler and draw out their implications for the changing place of the Third Reich in the national historical imagination Visualizing the Holocaust David

Bathrick, Brad Prager, Michael David Richardson, 2008 Visual representations are an essential but highly contested means of understanding and remembering the Holocaust Photographs taken in the camps in early 1945 provided proof of and visceral access to the atrocities Later visual representations such as films paintings and art installations attempted to represent this extreme trauma While photographs from the camps and later aesthetic reconstructions differ in origin they share goals and have raised similar concerns the former are questioned not as to veracity but due to their potential inadequacy in portraying the magnitude of events the latter are criticized on the grounds that the mediation they entail is unacceptable Some have even questioned any attempt to represent the Holocaust as inappropriate and dangerous to historical understanding This book explores the taboos that structure the production and reception of Holocaust images and the possibilities that result from the transgression of those taboos Essays consider the uses of various visual media aesthetic styles and genres in representations of the Holocaust the uses of perpetrator photography the role of trauma in memory aesthetic problems of mimesis and memory in the work of Lanzmann Celan and others and questions about mass cultural representations of the Holocaust David Bathrick is Emeritus Professor of German at Cornell University Brad Prager is Associate Professor of

The Second World War in the Twenty-First-Century Museum Stephan Jaeger, 2020-02-24 The Second World War is omnipresent in contemporary memory debates As the war fades from living memory this study is the first to systematically analyze how Second World War museums allow prototypical visitors to comprehend and experience the past It analyzes twelve permanent exhibitions in Europe and North America including the Bundeswehr Military History Museum in Dresden the Museum of the Second World War in Gdańsk the House of European History in Brussels the Imperial War Museums in London and Manchester and the National WWII Museum in New Orleans in order to show how museums reflect and shape cultural memory as well as their cognitive ethical emotional and aesthetic potential and effects This includes a discussion of representations of events such as the Holocaust and air warfare In relation to narrative memory and experience the study develops the concept of experientiality on a sliding scale between mimetic and structural forms which provides a new textual spatial method for reading exhibitions and understanding the experiences of historical individuals and collectives It is supplemented by concepts like transnational memory empathy and encouraging critical thinking through difficult knowledge

The Collapse of the Conventional Jaimey Fisher, Brad Prager, 2010 Bringing together many of the most important scholars of German film this hugely significant collection offers a fascinating and subtle account of the contours of the political in the post Wall cinematic landscape Paul Cooke professor of German cultural studies in the School of Modern Languages and Cultures University of Leeds Book Jacket

Gender and Sexuality in East German Film Kyle Frackman, Faye Stewart, 2018 The first scholarly collection in English or German to fully address the treatment of gender and sexuality in the productions of DEFA across genres and in social political and cultural context

Austria Made in Hollywood Jacqueline Vansant, 2019 Considers over sixty Hollywood films set in Austria examining the film industry the influence of domestic factors on images of a foreign country and the persistence of clichés Maria von Trapp watching the final scene of The Sound of Music for the first time as her family escaped into Switzerland exclaimed Don't they know geography in Hollywood Salzburg does not border on Switzerland Hadshe thought about the beginning of the film which transports viewers to Salzburg Austria in the last Golden Days of the Thirties when the country was in fact suffering from extreme political and social unrest she might have asked Don't they know history either In The Sound of Music as well as in Hollywood's many other Austria films the projections on the screen resemble reflections in a funhouse mirror Elements of a real place with areal history inhabited by real people can be found in the fractured distortions which have both drawn from and contributed to the general public's perceptions of the country and its citizens Austria Made in Hollywood focuses on films set in an identifiable Austria examining them through the lenses of the historical contexts on both sides of the Atlantic and the prism of the ever changing domestic film industry The study chronicles the protean screen images of Austria and Austrians that set them apart both from European projections of Austria and from Hollywood incarnations of other European nations and nationals It explores explicit and implicit cultural commentaries on domestic and foreign issues inserted in the Austrian stories while considering the many sometimes conflicting forces that shaped the films Cinema and Landscape Graeme Harper, Jonathan R. Rayner, 2010 The notion of landscape is a complex one but it has been central to the art and artistry of the cinema After all what is the French New Wave without Paris What are the films of Sidney Lumet Woody Allen Martin Scorsese and Spike Lee without New York Cinema and Landscape frames contemporary film landscapes across the world in an exploration of screen aesthetics and national ideology film form and cultural geography cinematic representation and the human environment Written by well known cinema scholars this volume both extends the existing field of film studies and stakes claims to overlapping contested territories in the humanities and social sciences Screen Cultures, 200? Reality Bites Diedrich Diederichsen, 2007 Catalog of an exhibition with the same title held Feb 9 April 29 2007 at the Mildred Lane Kemper Art Museum Washington University St Louis Mo and May 20 Sept 2 2007 at the Opelvillen Russelsheim Germany

East German Film and the Holocaust Elizabeth Ward, 2021-04-01 East Germany's ruling party never officially acknowledged responsibility for the crimes committed in Germany's name during the Third Reich Instead it cast communists as both victims of and victors over National Socialist oppression while marginalizing discussions of Jewish suffering Yet for the 1977 Academy Awards the Ministry of Culture submitted Jakob der Lgnr a film focused exclusively on Jewish victimhood that would become the only East German film to ever be officially nominated By combining close analyses of key films with extensive archival research this book explores how GDR filmmakers depicted Jews and the Holocaust in a country where memories of Nazi persecution were highly prescribed tightly controlled and invariably political German Culture through Film Robert C. Reimer, Reinhard Zachau, 2017-09-01 German Culture through Film An Introduction to German Cinema is an English language text that serves equally well in courses on modern German film in courses on general film studies in courses that incorporate film as a way to study culture and as an engaging resource for scholars students and devotees of cinema and film history In its second edition German Culture through Film expands on the first edition providing additional chapters with context for understanding the era in which the featured films were produced Thirty three notable German films are arranged in seven chronological chapters spanning key moments in German film history from the silent era to the present Each chapter begins with an introduction that focuses on the history and culture surrounding films of the relevant period Sections within chapters are each devoted to one particular film providing film credits a summary of the story background information an evaluation questions and activities to encourage diverse interpretations a list of related films and bibliographical information on the films discussed British Humanities Index, 2009 Film and Memory in East Germany Anke Pinkert, 2008 Rethinks the politics of public memory in East German film Screening War Paul Cooke, Marc Silberman, 2010 Re-examines German cinema's representation of the Germans as victims during the Second World War and its aftermath The recent discovery of German wartime suffering has had a particularly profound impact in German visual culture Films from Margarethe von Trotta's Rosenstrasse 2003 to Oliver Hirschbiegel's Oscar nominated Downfall 2004 and the two part television mini series Dresden 2006 have shown how ordinary Germans suffered during and after the war Such films have been presented by critics as treating a topic that had been taboo for German filmmakers However the representation of wartime suffering has a long tradition on the German screen For decades filmmakers have recontextualized images of Germans as victims to engage shifting social and ideological discourses By focusing on this process the present volume explores how the changing representation of Germans as victims has shaped the ways in which both of the postwar German states and the now unified nation have attempted to face the trauma of the past and to construct a contemporary place for themselves in the world Contributors: Sean Allan Tim Bergfelder Daniela Berghahn Erica Carter David Clarke John E Davidson Sabine Hake Jennifer Kapczynski Manuel Kppen Rachel Palfreyman Brad Prager Johannes von Moltke Paul Cooke is Professor of German Cultural Studies at the University of Leeds and Marc Silberman is Professor of German at the University of Wisconsin

Visual Culture and the Holocaust Barbie Zelizer, 2000-12-01 A book that looks at both the traditional and the unconventional ways in which the holocaust has been visually represented The purpose of this volume is to enhance our understanding of the visual representation of the Holocaust in films television photographs art and museum installations and cultural artifacts and to examine the ways in which these have shaped our consciousness The areas covered include the Eichman Trial as covered on American television the impact of Schindler's List the Jewish Museum in Berlin the Israeli Heritage Museums Women and Holocaust Photography Internet Holocaust sites and tattoos and shrunken heads the bodies of the dead and of the survivors

A New History of German Cinema Jennifer M. Kapczynski, Michael David Richardson, 2012 A dynamic event centered exploration of the hundred year history of German language film This dynamic event centered anthology offers a new understanding of the hundred year history of German language film from the earliest days of the Kintopp to contemporary productions like The Lives of Others Each of the more than eighty essays takes a key date as its starting point and explores its significance for German film history pursuing its relationship with its social political and aesthetic moment While the essays offer ample temporal and topical spread this book emphasizes the juxtaposition of famous and unknown stories granting attention to a wide range of cinematic events Brief section introductions provide a larger historical and film historical framework that illuminates the essays within it offering both scholars and the general reader a setting for the individual texts and figures under investigation Cross references to other essays in the book are included at the close of each entry encouraging readers not only to pursue familiar trajectories in the development of German film but also to trace particular figures and motifs across genres and historical periods Together the contributions offer a new view of the multiple intersecting narratives that make up German language cinema The constellation that is thus established challenges unidirectional narratives of German film history and charts new ways of thinkingabout film historiography more broadly Jennifer Kapczynski is Associate Professor of German at Washington University St Louis and Michael Richardson is Associate Professor of German at Ithaca College
