Renters Win, Home Owners Lose Tom Graneau, 2013-09-27

Home ownership has been widely regarded as the best financial investment in the pursuit of wealth accumulation. Americans believe that the appreciated value of a home provides a great hedge against inflation, giving homeowners an opportunity to make a profit when they sell the property. Today two thirds of American families own their homes. Nearly 80 percent of the 78 million baby boomers are homeowners. Many of them have bought and sold several homes. Yet close to 90 percent of American families are broke. Nothing consumes more of our hard earned money than home ownership. What if this popular best investment choice is nothing more than a dangerous dream. Is home ownership simply a huge economic scam designed to keep buyers broke. Could homeowners be working to pay a mortgage that makes their lenders rich while they stay poor. What if home equity is only an illusion. Could renters be in a better financial position than those who own their home. Renters Win Homeowners Lose Revealing The Biggest Scam In America is a bold approach in unraveling the long term financial reality of home ownership in America. The book compares buying a home to renting and reveals that renters clearly have tangible financial advantages over the majority of homeowners. Renters can truly be winners. Tables and models are used throughout the book to poignantly demonstrate that most homeowners receive no more than a zero percent return on their investment and many lose money in the deal. Renters Win Homeowners Lose Revealing the Biggest Scam in America will get you to rethink the way you view home ownership versus renting. The book is a thought provoking masterpiece. Winning

Gambling is an underrecognized problem from both a clinical and a public health point of view. It is not uncommon for an adolescent or adult to participate in one form of gambling or another on a regular basis, be it the lottery, card playing for money, sports wagering or gambling on electronic gaming devices. Nor is it uncommon for such participation to reach excessive or destructive proportions with negative effects on the individual's psychological, social, economic and family life. The results of the National Research Council's 2000 review of empirical studies suggest that 85% of adolescents report having gambled during their lifetime, with 73% of adolescents reporting having gambled in the past year. Despite gains in knowledge concerning the correlates and risk factors associated with severe gambling problems among youth during the past ten years, a general lack of public and parental awareness exists. This raises serious mental health and public policy concerns. Written from an international perspective, this book covers gambling research and interventions in the following categories:

role of helpline services a Jungian transpersonal approach to treatment cognitive therapy for problem gambling pharmacological interventions for problem gambling desensitization biofeedback as treatment for problem gambling binge gambling pathological gambling past and contemporary aboriginal peoples experiences with gambling problem gambling counselor certification measurement of outcomes in problem gambling treatment overview of teen gambling related issues from leading researchers
