Witness To Aids Autobiography:

Witness to AIDS Edwin Cameron, 2010 When Edwin Cameron announced to a stunned local and international media that he one of South Africa s most prominent citizens was himself living with the virus cutting swathes through the population of the continent the impact was immediate In this memoir he grapples with the meaning of HIV AIDS for him as he confronts the possibility of his own lingering death and for all of us in facing up to one of the most desperate challenges of our time Cameron blends elements of his destitute childhood with his daily duties as a judge and human rights lawyer while focusing on the epidemic s central issues stigma unjust discrimination and most vitally the life and death question of access to treatment 2005

Witnessing AIDS Sarah Brophy, 2004-03-18 Witnessing AIDS addresses testimonial literature produced in response to the AIDS pandemic focusing on texts by four individuals filmmaker painter activist and writer Derek Jarman writer Jamaica Kincaid anthropologist and media theorist Eric Michaels and journalist Amy Hoffman Sarah Brophy outlines the critical framework for interpreting the emphasis on unresolved grief in the emerging body of work Brophy challenges the tendency to treat AIDS testimonial literature as a genre particular to gay men By examining Kincaid s and Hoffman s memoirs in conjunction with the diaries of Michaels and Jarman Brophy expands the territory of mourning beyond one group of people an exercise that Brophy feels is important as well as fundamental to understanding the depth of personal grief and the ways we respond to grief in literature In a clear and accessible style Witnessing AIDS illustrates how memoirs and diaries are used as self theorizing documents that approach personal testimony as an intervention in cultural memory The aim of Brophy s work is to develop a framework for reading one that begins to grasp the significance of unresolved grief in AIDS its effect upon testimonial writing and to engage rather than deflect Visceral investment in the mundane intimacies of illness death and grief resituates a number of critical debates at new and provocative intersections as the strategy for understanding continues

Edwin Cameron Edwin Cameron, 2005 Reframing Bodies Roger Hallas, 2009-12-02 Examines how queer filmmakers and viedographers bore witness to the historical trauma of the AIDS epidemic in the late 1980s and 1990s

The Oxford History of the Novel in English Simon Gikandi, 2016-09-05 Why did the novel take such a long time to emerge in the colonial world And what cultural work did it come to perform in societies where subjects were not free and modes of social organization diverged from the European cultural centers where the novel gained its form and audience Answering these questions and more Volume 11 The Novel in Africa and the Caribbean since 1950 explores the institutions of cultural production that exerted influence in late colonialism from missionary schools and metropolitan publishers to universities and small presses How these structures provoke and respond to the literary trends and social peculiarities of Africa and the Caribbean impacts not only the writing and reading of novels in those regions but also has a transformative effect on the novel as a global phenomenon Together the volume s 32 contributing experts tell a story about the close relationship between the novel and the project of decolonization and explore the multiple ways in which novels enable readers to imagine communities beyond their own and thus made this form of literature a compelling catalyst for cultural transformation. The authors show that even as the novel grows in Africa and the Caribbean as a mark of the elites' mastery of European form, it becomes the essential instrument for critiquing colonialism and for articulating the new horizons of cultural nationalism. Within this historical context, the volume examines works by authors such as Chinua Achebe, Nadine Gordimer, George Lamming, Jamaica Kincaid, V. S. Naipaul, Zoe Wicomb, J. M. Coetzee and many others. Dictionary of African Biography Emmanuel Kwaku Akyeampong, Professor Henry Louis Gates, Jr., 2012-02-02 From the Pharaohs to Fanon. Dictionary of African Biography provides a comprehensive overview of the lives of the men and women who shaped Africa's history. Unprecedented in scale, DAB covers the whole continent from Tunisia to South Africa, from Sierra Leone to Somalia. It also encompasses the full scope of history from Queen Hatsheput of Egypt (1490-1468 BC) and Hannibal the military commander and strategist of Carthage (243-183 BC) to Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana (1909-1972), Miriam Makeba and Nelson Mandela of South Africa (1918).

Reading Autobiography Sidonie Smith, Julia Watson, 2010-07-02 With the memoir boom, life storytelling has become ubiquitous and emerged as a distinct field of study. Reading Autobiography, originally published in 2001, was the first comprehensive critical introduction to life writing in all its forms. Widely adopted for undergraduate and graduate level courses, it is an essential guide for students and scholars reading and interpreting autobiographical texts and methods across the humanities, social sciences, and visual and performing arts. Thoroughly updated, the second edition of Reading Autobiography is the most complete assessment of life narrative in its myriad forms. It lays out a sophisticated theoretical approach to life writing and the components of autobiographical acts, including memory, experience, identity, embodiment, space, and agency. Sidonie Smith and Julia Watson explore these components, review the history of life writing, and the foundations of autobiographical subjectivity, and provide a toolkit for working with twenty-three key concepts. Their survey of innovative forms of life writing, such as autographics and installation self-portraiture, charts recent shifts in autobiographical practice. Especially useful for courses are the appendices, a glossary covering dozens of distinct genres of life writing, proposals for group and classroom projects, and an extensive bibliography.

Edwin Cameron: Influences and impact Nurina Ally, Leo Boonzaier, 2025-07-13 An outstanding collection of essays written by some of the leading scholars of South African law, which has resulted in a fitting tribute to Edwin Cameron's contribution to our constitutional project. Kate O'Regan, Former Justice of the Constitutional Court of South Africa, Edwin Cameron's life and incomparable contribution to the law are justly celebrated in this thoughtfully curated set of essays penned by people who have walked parts of the path with him. Jason Brickhill, Member of the Johannesburg Bar. Fiction and Truth in Transition Oscar Hemer, 2012 What can fiction tell us about the world that journalism and science cannot? This simple yet vast question is the starting point for an interrogation of the relationship between literary fiction and society's dramatic transformation in South Africa and Argentina over the past several decades. The resulting discursive text borders on both journalism and literature, incorporating reportage

Stamant, 2014-06-23 Serial Memoir chronicles the phenomenon of seriality in memoir a transition in life writing toward repeated acts of self representation in the later twentieth century Such a shift demonstrates a new way to understand and represent constantly shifting subjectivities and their ambivalent relationship to the concept and structure of the archive
