A black silhouette of a woman's profile is superimposed over the background, facing right. The silhouette is composed of several curved lines that define the head, hair, and neck. Women's Transitions from Prison Rosemary Sheehan, Chris Trotter, 2017-08-25 Women continue to be one of the fastest growing groups of offenders with an increasing group of women involved in the criminal justice system around the world Whilst internationally women comprise a low percentage of the total prison population there is an escalating use of custody inextricably linked to the high levels of personal and social needs of women involved in the justice system This book presents original research undertaken with Corrections Victoria Australia which examines the effectiveness of services and programmes women access in prison and after release and the impact of this on successful reintegration into the community and on other trends such as reoffending Victoria s Department of Justice introduced the Better Pathways strategy in response to a growing number of women entering the Victorian corrections system and the concerning extent to which prison is used for women with inadequate accommodation and complex treatment and support needs The strategy was developed to address the causes of women s offending and to try and help break the cycle of women s reoffending by funding more holistic initiatives to support women in their transition to life after prison It is well acknowledged that pathways into offending by women can also be the factors that most affect their reintegration The research outlined in this book presents data about individual women s pathways through the programmes offered as part of the Better Pathways strategy and the views of the women themselves about the effectiveness of these programmes Negligible research attention has been paid to what services and programmes are effective for women after prison This book addresses this gap and provides a cohesive presentation of the key issues salient to the needs of women offenders BHARTIYA NYAYA SANHITA -II (PAPER-V) ,2025-04-01 TP LAW SOLVED SERIES For LL B Bachelor of Laws 3 Years Second Semester Students of University of Lucknow Transforming Justice, Transforming Lives April Bernard, 2015-10-30 What is a just response to persons seeking to desist from criminal behavior In America over the last several decades mass incarceration has emerged as the prevailing policy response to crime and reoffending The majority of those who are imprisoned will be released and those that are released tend to return to communities challenged by high rates of violence crime unemployment and poverty In these conditions without some type of intervention persons with criminal histories are likely to reoffend April Bernard through compelling interviews and field research with formerly gang affiliated women illuminates how through community support and their active engagement in peacemaking work in distressed neighborhoods throughout Chicago they were able to desist from crime rebuild their lives and become meaningful contributors to their communities This book explores the role of community in facilitating the commitment to desist from crime by offering critical support and opportunities for stewardship Bernard provides a timely analysis of the transformative potential of a new perspective on criminal justice which incorporates stewardship and community engagement as a fundamental principal in the response to persons seeking to desist from criminal behavior particularly women The book combines moving personal narratives with concrete practical evidence to call for an alternative to ideology that supports the existing punitive policies and practices of the criminal justice system and the corresponding lack of interventions and opportunities for persons seeking to desist from crime This deeply informed and perceptive analysis concludes with suggestions for alternatives that fit within a transformative justice paradigm American Prisons

SpearIt,2017-08-07 This book is a critical exploration of prisons in contemporary America Paying special attention to race and Islam the work draws on a range of data and sources including interviews and written correspondence with current and ex prisoners documentary research and congressional hearings on topics that include criminal justice and religion culture conversion radicalization and reform Keywords American Prisons Islam Muslim Conversion Culture Criminal Justice Race Religion Latinos Radicalization Women and Girls in the Criminal Justice System Russell Immarigeon,2006 For many years sentenced women were ignored or neglected locked up in male surroundings or lost among caseloads of men Today however there are systemic approaches and interventions designed especially to meet the needs of this population Women and Girls in the Criminal Justice System provides essential practice guidance for professionals who deal with the problems of female offenders criminal justice policymakers correctional administrators probation and parole officials ATI program administrators vocational program agency heads social workers mental health clinician judges This authoritative guide from the editor of Women Girls Criminal Justice distills the best thinking of leading practitioners and researchers all in a convenient single resource that puts a wealth of information within easy reach Publisher description Female Offenders Ruth T. Zaplin,2008 The number of female offenders in the United States is skyrocketing Our tough on crime approach puts a female offender behind bars but doesn't consider the factors leading to her incarceration Female Offenders Critical Perspectives and Effective Interventions Second Edition proposes an alternative one that truly addresses the needs of female offenders and the root issues connected to their maladaptive behaviors trauma histories and mental health problems By focusing on these root issues this text prepares future correctional managers and supervisors to rehabilitate and empower female offenders to reenter society in a meaningful and productive way The Second Edition includes chapters written by experts in the field that discuss the diversity of issues facing female offenders in our culture from a variety of perspectives
