The Truth About Stories Thomas King, 2003-11-01 Winner of the 2003 Trillium Book Award Stories are wondrous things award winning author and scholar Thomas King declares in his 2003 CBC Massey Lectures And they are dangerous Beginning with a traditional Native oral story King weaves his way through literature and history religion and politics popular culture and social protest gracefully elucidating North America's relationship with its Native peoples Native culture has deep ties to storytelling and yet no other North American culture has been the subject of more erroneous stories The Indian of fact as King says bears little resemblance to the literary Indian the dying Indian the construct so powerfully and often destructively projected by White North America With keen perception and wit King illustrates that stories are the key to and only hope for human understanding He compels us to listen well The Truth about Stories Thomas King, 2003 Winner of the 2003 Trillium Book Award Stories are wondrous things award winning author and scholar Thomas King declares in his 2003 CBC Massey Lectures And they are dangerous Beginning with a traditional Native oral story King weaves his way through literature and history religion and politics popular culture and social protest gracefully elucidating North America's relationship with its Native peoples Native culture has deep ties to storytelling and yet no other North American culture has been the subject of more erroneous stories The Indian of fact as King says bears little resemblance to the literary Indian the dying Indian the construct so powerfully and often destructively projected by White North America With keen perception and wit King illustrates that stories are the key to and only hope for human understanding He compels us to listen well Narrative Identity, Autonomy, and Mortality John J. Davenport, 2012-09-10 In the last two decades interest in narrative conceptions of identity has grown exponentially though there is little agreement about what a life narrative might be In connecting Kierkegaard with virtue ethics several scholars have recently argued that narrative models of selves and MacIntyre's concept of the unity of a life help make sense of Kierkegaard's existential stages and in particular explain the transition from aesthetic to ethical modes of life But others have recently raised difficult questions both for these readings of Kierkegaard and for narrative accounts of identity that draw on the work of MacIntyre in general While some of these objections concern a strong kind of unity or wholeheartedness among an agent's long term goals or cares the fundamental objection raised by critics is that personal identity cannot be a narrative since stories are artifacts made by persons In this book Davenport defends the narrative approach to practical identity and autonomy in general and to Kierkegaard's stages in particular Walking a Tightrope Ute Lischke, 2005 The most we can hope for is that we are paraphrased correctly In this statement Lenore Keeshig Tobias underscores one of the main issues in the representation of Aboriginal peoples by non-Aboriginals Non-Aboriginal people often fail to understand the sheer diversity multiplicity and shifting identities of Aboriginal people As a result Aboriginal people are often taken out of their own contexts Walking a Tightrope plays an important role in the dynamic historical process of ongoing change in the representation of Aboriginal peoples It locates and examines the multiplicity and distinctiveness of Aboriginal voices and their representations both as they portray themselves and as others have characterized them In addition to exploring perspectives and approaches to the representation of Aboriginal peoples it also looks at Native notions of time history land cultures identities and literacies Until these are understood by non Aboriginals Aboriginal people will continue to be misrepresented both as individuals and as groups By acknowledging the complex and unique legal and historical status of Aboriginal peoples we can begin to understand the culture of Native peoples in North America Until then given the strength of stereotypes Native people have come to expect no better representation than a paraphrase All Our Relations US Edition Tanya Talaga, 2018-10-16 Winner 2024 Blue Metropolis First Peoples Prize for the whole of her work Finalist 2018 Nayef Al Rodhan Prize for Global Cultural Understanding Finalist 2018 Hilary Weston Writers Trust Prize for Nonfiction Tanya Talaga the bestselling author of Seven Fallen Feathers calls attention to an urgent global humanitarian crisis among Indigenous Peoples youth suicide Talaga's research is meticulous and her journalistic style is crisp and uncompromising She brings each story to life skillfully weaving the stories of the youths lives deaths and families together with sharp analysis The book is heartbreaking and infuriating both an important testament to the need for change and a call to action Publishers Weekly Starred Review Talaga has crafted an urgent and unshakable portrait of the horrors faced by Indigenous teens going to school in Thunder Bay Ontario Talaga's incisive research and breathtaking storytelling could bring this community one step closer to the healing it deserves Booklist Starred Review In this urgent and incisive work bestselling and award winning author Tanya Talaga explores the alarming rise of youth suicide in Indigenous communities in Canada and beyond From Northern Ontario to Nunavut Norway Brazil Australia and the United States the Indigenous experience in colonized nations is startlingly similar and deeply disturbing It is an experience marked by the violent separation of Peoples from the land the separation of families and the separation of individuals from traditional ways of life all of which has culminated in a spiritual separation that has had an enduring impact on generations of Indigenous children As a result of this colonial legacy too many communities today lack access to the basic determinants of health income employment education a safe environment health services leading to a mental health and youth suicide crisis on a global scale But Talaga reminds us First Peoples also share a history of resistance resilience and civil rights activism Based on her Atkinson Fellowship in Public Policy series All Our Relations is a powerful call for action justice and a better more equitable world for all Indigenous Peoples Decolonizing Feminism Margaret A. McLaren, 2017-09-13 What does it mean to decolonize transnational feminist theory in the context of globalization As a project concerned with multiple power structures feminist theory must address the historical legacies of colonialism postcolonialism and more recently decoloniality This book offers essays organized around a coherent set of research questions about how to conceptualize an inclusive feminist politics This has been and continues to be a central project in feminist theory particularly in light of neoliberal globalization International and interdisciplinary in scope this book introduces the key issues in and addresses the most significant challenges for contemporary transnational feminist politics In the context of rapid globalization it explores the theoretical frameworks for thinking through significant concepts in feminist theory and activism rights citizenship and immigration feminist solidarity decolonizing methodologies and practices and freedom From diverse socio political locations and multiple and interdisciplinary perspectives authors propose new ways of thinking about feminist knowledges methodologies and practices Ideal for students and scholars in Gender and Globalization Transnational Feminism and Feminist Theory more broadly the volume contributes to the ongoing project of advocating a decolonizing feminist approach to pressing social issues Language and Culture David Nunan, Julie Choi, 2010-05-07 This state of the art exploration of language culture and identity is orchestrated through prominent scholars and teachers narratives each weaving together three elements a personal account based on one or more memorable or critical incidents that occurred in the course of learning or using a second or foreign language an interpretation of the incidents highlighting their impact in terms of culture identity and language the connections between the experiences and observations of the author and existing literature on language culture and identity What makes this book stand out is the way in which authors meld traditional academic approaches to inquiry with their own personalized voices This opens a window on different ways of viewing and doing research in Applied Linguistics and TESOL What gives the book its power is the compelling nature of the narratives themselves Telling stories is a fundamental way of representing and making sense of the human condition These stories unpack in an accessible but rigorous fashion complex socio cultural constructs of culture identity the self and other and reflexivity and offer a way into these constructs for teachers teachers in preparation and neophyte researchers Contributors from around the world give the book broad and international appeal DisPossession Marlene Goldman, 2012 An exploration into the darker aspects of contemporary Canadian fiction The Best Available Evidence Paul Newton, David Burgess, 2016-07-15 In The Best Available Evidence Decision Making for Educational Improvement the editors and contributing authors explore the intricacies of working with data and evidence for the purpose or organizational development in educational institutions A broad theme that runs throughout this book is the need for policy makers and practitioners to be informed and critical consumers of educational research The chapters in this volume explore quantitative qualitative narrative and practitioner research approaches and explore the implications for evidence use in educational improvement efforts Many current texts provide an instrumental resource for educational leaders for use in designing road maps for improvement As such these texts offer a perspective based on assumptions that educational personnel are the recipients of predetermined knowledge and evidence and it is the task of instructors and teachers to implement received knowledge of best practice In this book we suggest that teachers instructors educational leaders and policy makers are equally engaged in the creation of knowledge and the establishment of improvement objectives Further we address questions concerning what constitutes improvement how practitioners and policy makers can assess the utility and veracity of evidence and how evidence might be considered in productive and ethical ways This volume is intended for a broad readership of teachers post secondary instructors graduate students educational leaders and policy makers Finally this book will combine K 12 perspectives on educational improvement with perspectives from the research on post secondary improvement

The Storyteller and the Garden of Eden Ellen Ann Robbins, 2012-08-22 The story of the Garden of Eden is one of the most familiar in the Bible But if we read it without preconceptions we discover a narrative as its original audience would have heard it as its author intended Robbins explores why the man was created first and the woman for and from him She elucidates the reason for the particular punishments and why the storyteller gave a woman the starring role She does all this by highlighting the importance of wordplay in the Garden of Eden story This book introduces not only a wordsmith but above all a supreme storyteller who is bound to become a personal favorite
