The Transgender Studies Reader Susan Stryker, Stephen Whittle, 2013-10-18 Transgender studies is the latest area of academic inquiry to grow out of the exciting nexus of queer theory feminist studies and the history of sexuality Because transpeople challenge our most fundamental assumptions about the relationship between bodies desire and identity the field is both fascinating and contentious The Transgender Studies Reader puts between two covers fifty influential texts with new introductions by the editors that taken together document the evolution of transgender studies in the English speaking world By bringing together the voices and experience of transgender individuals doctors psychologists and academically based theorists this volume will be a foundational text for the transgender community transgender studies and related queer theory

The Terrible We Cameron Awkward-Rich, 2022-08-08 In The Terrible We Cameron Awkward Rich thinks with the bad feelings and mad habits of thought that persist in both transphobic discourse and trans cultural production Observing that trans studies was founded on a split from and disavowal of madness illness and disability Awkward Rich argues for and models a trans criticism that works against this disavowal By tracing the coproduction of the categories of disabled and transgender in the United States at the turn of the twentieth century and analyzing transmasculine literature and theory by Eli Clare Elliott DeLine Dylan Scholinski and others Awkward Rich suggests that thinking with maladjustment might provide new perspectives on the impasses arising from the conflicted relationships among trans feminist and queer In so doing he demonstrates that rather than only impeding or confining trans life thought and creativity forms of maladjustment have also been and will continue to be central to their development Duke University Press Scholars of Color First Book Award recipient

Trans Historical Greta LaFleur, Masha Raskolnikov, Anna Klosowska, 2021-11-15 Trans Historical explores the plurality of gender experiences that flourished before the modern era from Late Antiquity to the eighteenth century across a broad geographic range from Spain to Poland and Byzantium to Boston Refuting arguments that transgender people experiences and identities were non-existent or even impossible prior to the twentieth century this volume focuses on archives literary texts trial transcripts documents and artifacts that denaturalize gender as a category The volume historicizes the many different social lives of sexual differentiation exploring what gender might have been before modern medicine the anatomical sciences and the sedimentation of gender difference into its putatively binary form The volume's multidisciplinary group of contributors consider how individuals communities and states understood and enacted gender as a social experience distinct from the assignment of sex at birth Alongside historical questions about the meaning of sexual differentiation Trans Historical also offers a series of diverse meditations on how scholars of the medieval and early modern periods might approach gender nonconformity before the nineteenth century emergence of the norm and the normal Contributors Abdulhamit Arvas University of Pennsylvania Roland Betancourt University of California Irvine M W Bychowski Case Western Reserve University Emma Campbell Warwick University Igor H de Souza Yale University Leah DeVun Rutgers University Micah James Goodrich University of Connecticut Alexa Alice Joubin George Washington University Anna K osowska Greta LaFleur Scott Larson University of Michigan Ann Arbor Kathleen Perry Long Cornell University Robert Mills University College London Masha Raskolnikov Zrinka Stahuljak UCLA The Politics of Right Sex Courtenay W. Daum, 2020-08-01 Examines the limitations of rights based mobilization and litigation for advancing the interests of trans individuals in the contemporary United States While the growing attention to trans rights and the development of trans specific interest groups suggest that the time is right for a trans rights movement akin to prior civil rights movements The Politics of Right Sex explores the limitations of rights based mobilization and litigation for advancing the interests of trans communities Synthesizing critical theory transgender studies and extant law and society research Courtenay W Daum argues that trans individuals particularly those situated at the intersection of gender race class and immigration status are regulated by myriad forces of governmentality that work to maintain the sex and gender binaries and associated power hierarchies Because many informal practices and norms are located beyond the reach of civil rights laws a trans politics of rights may produce some modest legal and legislative reforms but will not eliminate the disciplinary forces that work to subject trans individuals It will also privilege those who are able to conform with dominant gender norms at the expense of the interests of those individuals who are gender nonconforming gender queer trans people of color and others unable or unwilling to embrace a transnormative presentation of self and or lifestyle In order to disrupt the dominant discourse and hierarchical power arrangements in pursuit of collective liberation for all as opposed to rights for some The Politics of Right Sex advocates for a more confrontational approach that directly engages and challenges the hegemonic power structures that govern and discipline trans individuals

Querying Childhood Mary E. John, Barbara Lotz, Elisabeth Schömbucher, 2024-09-26 This book critically examines assumptions about age, women and gender. Amidst all the attention that has been granted to difference and inequality, however uneven and unsatisfactory in terms of class and caste, race and ethnicity, sexuality and gender, disability, religion and nation, questions of age and its importance for feminism have been less well defined. Drawing on recent literature on childhood, the chapters in this volume cover a range of fresh perspectives. These include: What kinds of biological, legal, chronological histories age has and the fundamental ways in which these links are being recast; How gender differences occupy a prominent place in historical constructions of identities, especially the frequent infantilisation of women who are never seen as adults in the full sense of the term nor equally allowed to be children beyond the first years of life; Ways in which class, caste, gender and ethnicity shaped classrooms and opportunities for education in the colonial period and the 20th century to produce new ideas of childhood; Gendered outcomes for children in the context of a long entanglement of law with labour transformations in practices of parenting over time and how the concept of care emerged in both Western and non-Western societies. An incisive study on how childhoods have come to be understood, this book will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of gender studies, childhood studies, family studies, modern history, legal history, social policy, social psychology, education and sociology. This volume will also interest parents, paediatricians, family health providers, teachers and educators and anyone who works with children.

Rainbow Jurisdiction at the International Criminal Court Valérie V. Suhr, 2021-12-13 This timely book comprehensively examines whether the worst human rights violations directed specifically at sexual and gender minorities are punishable under international criminal law as codified in the Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court. Drawing on general rules of interpretation, the development of human rights for sexual and gender minorities and the social construction of gender, this monograph reveals that the worst crimes committed against persons because of their sexual orientation or gender identity can amount to crimes against humanity, particularly the crime of persecution under Article 7(1)(h). It also shows how legislators can be held individually criminally responsible for passing laws that criminalize consensual same-sex sexuality. The book not only makes a significant and original contribution to the literature but is also highly relevant for international criminal law practitioners since so far no cases regarding this topic exist. Dr Valérie V. Suhr is currently a trainee lawyer in the district of the Koblenz Court of Appeal in Germany.

The Cambridge Companion to Lesbian Literature Jodie Medd, 2015 The Cambridge Companion to Lesbian Literature examines literary representations of lesbian sexuality, identities and communities from the medieval period to the present. In so doing, it delivers insight into the variety of traditions that have shaped the present landscape of lesbian literature.

Transgender Refugees and the Imagined South Africa B. Camminga, 2018-11-01 This book tracks the conceptual journeying of the term transgender from the Global North where it originated along with the physical embodied journeying of transgender asylum seekers from countries within Africa to South Africa and considers the interrelationships between the two. The term transgender transforms as it travels taking on meaning in relation to bodies, national homes, institutional frameworks and imaginaries. This study centres on the experiences and narratives of people that can be usefully termed gender refugees gathered through a series of life story interviews. It is the argument of this book that the departures, border crossings, arrivals and perceptions of South Africa for gender refugees have been both enabled and constrained by the contested meanings and politics of this emergence of transgender. This book explores through these narratives the radical constitutional legal possibilities for transgender in South Africa, the dissonances between the possibilities of constitutional law and the pervasive politics logic of binary sex gender within South African society. In doing so, this book enriches the emergent field of Transgender Studies and challenges some of the current dominant theoretical and political perceptions of transgender. It offers complex narratives from the African continent regarding sex, gender, sexuality and notions of home concerning particular geo-politically situated bodies.
