Women Communism And Industrialization In Postwar Poland:

Women, Communism, and Industrialization in Postwar Poland Malgorzata Fidelis, 2010-06-21 Malgorzata Fidelis study of female industrial workers in postwar Poland proves that women were central to the making of communist society

Contesting Archives Nupur Chaudhuri, Sherry J. Katz, Mary Elizabeth Perry, 2010 Contesting Archives makes vivid and concrete the way historians must proceed when faced with partial or contradictory sources. Historians and anyone interested in how historians work will appreciate the authors' strategies for and cautions about unearthing information about women from documents inside and outside the archive. Margaret Strobel coeditor of Expanding the Borders of Women's History

The Oxford Handbook of the History of Communism S. A. Smith, 2014 Draws on documentation released since the fall of the Soviet Union to offer a global history of communism in the twentieth century

Women and Yugoslav Partisans Jelena Batinić, 2015-05-12 This book focuses on the mass participation of women in the communist led Yugoslav Partisan resistance during World War II

Women and Industry in the Balkans Chiara Bonfiglioli, 2019-09-19 Women's emancipation through productive labour was a key tenet of socialist politics in post World War II Yugoslavia. Mass industrialisation under Tito led many young women to join traditionally feminised sectors and as a consequence the textile sector grew rapidly, fast becoming a gendered symbol of industrialisation, consumption and socialist modernity. By the 1980s Yugoslavia was one of the world's leading producers of textiles and garments. The break up of Yugoslavia in 1991 however resulted in factory closures, bankruptcy and layoffs forcing thousands of garment industry workers into precarious and often exploitative private sector jobs. Drawing on more than 60 oral history interviews with former and current garment workers as well as workplace periodicals and contemporary press material collected across Croatia, Macedonia, Serbia, Bosnia Herzegovina and Slovenia, Women and Industry in the Balkans charts the rise and fall of the Yugoslav textile sector as well as the implications of this post socialist transition for the first time. In the process the book explores broader questions about memories of socialism, lingering feelings of attachment to the socialist welfare system and the complexity of the post socialist era. This is important reading for all scholars working on the history and politics of Yugoslavia and the Balkans, oral history, memory studies and gender studies.

Gender, Generations, and Communism in Central and Eastern Europe and Beyond Anna Artwińska, Agnieszka Mrozik, 2020-06-03 Communism in twentieth century Europe is predominantly narrated as a totalitarian movement and/or regime. This book aims to go beyond this narrative and provide an alternative framework to describe the communist past. This reframing is possible thanks to the concepts of generation and gender which are used in the book as analytical categories in an intersectional overlap. The publication covers twentieth century Poland, Czechoslovakia, Czech Republic, the Soviet Union, Russia, former Yugoslavia, Turkish communities in West Germany, Italy and Cuba as a comparative point of reference. It provides a theoretical frame and overview, chapters on several important gender and generation narratives about communism, anticommunism and postcommunism. Its starting point is the belief that although methodological reflection on communism as well as on generations and gender is conducted extensively in contemporary research the overlapping of these three terms is still rare The main focus in the first part is on methodological issues The second part features studies which depict the possibility of generational gender interpretations of history The third part is informed by biographical perspectives The last part shows how the problem of generations and gender is staged via the medium of literature and how it can be narrated

Gender in Twentieth-Century Eastern Europe and the USSR

Catherine Baker, 2016-09-29 A concise and accessible introduction to the gender histories of eastern Europe and the Soviet Union in the 20th century These essays juxtapose established topics in gender history such as motherhood masculinities work and activism with newer areas such as the history of imprisonment and the transnational history of sexuality By collecting these essays in a single volume Catherine Baker encourages historians to look at gender history across borders and time periods emphasising that evidence and debates from Eastern Europe can inform broader approaches to contemporary gender history

Feminist Transformations and Domestic Violence Activism in Divided Berlin, 1968-2002 Jane Freeland, 2024-07-19 This is the first in depth historical study of feminist activism against domestic violence in divided Berlin between 1968 and 2002 Starting in the 1970s feminists in West and then East Berlin campaigned against domestic violence as a key issue of women s inequality They exposed the harmful gender norms that left women unprotected and vulnerable to abuse in the home and called for this to change Indeed domestic violence has been one of the issues most effectively addressed by the women s movement in Germany Since the first shelter opened in West Berlin in 1976 women s shelters have spread throughout the country and today up to 45 000 women a year turn to emergency housing in Germany with many more accessing helplines and crisis centres Situating domestic violence activism within a broader history of feminism in post war Germany Feminist Transformations traces the evolution of this movement both across political division and reunification and from grassroots campaign to established professionalised social service In doing so it brings the histories of feminism in East and West Berlin together for the first time and explores how feminism successfully changed women s rights in Germany But it also asks what popular and political support for domestic violence activism has meant for feminism and the advancement of women s rights more broadly Examining the trajectory of feminism in Germany Jane Freeland reveals the limitations of gender equality as advancements in women s rights were often built on the reassertion of patriarchal gender roles

Rethinking Gender, Work and Care in a New Europe Triin Roosalu, 2016-04-29 Given the growing importance of Eastern European countries in the development of the EU there is an urgent need to reconstruct the recent dynamic developments in women s work and care in these societies and the socio political determinants thereof Considering their specific cultural economic and historical development it can be assumed that the trends and determinants of women s labour market trajectories in CEE countries differ significantly from those in the other European countries that have frequently made up the basis for established theories in social and labour market research This being the case can standard theoretical approaches mostly modelled on evidence from Western Europe be transferred to the analysis of Eastern European countries This edited collection scrutinises pivotal aspects of women s careers in Eastern Europe providing a detailed overview of trends and determinants of women s employment in Eastern Europe and reflecting critically on theoretical approaches in social and labour market research

Beyond NGO-ization Kerstin Jacobsson, Steven Saxonberg, 2016-04-15 The celebrations marking the 20th anniversary of the fall of the Berlin Wall provoked a debate on the outcomes of the transition process in the post communist countries including a debate on the functioning of civil society This provided a good opportunity for researchers to collect new data and revise the discourse on collective action and the dynamics of civil society in these countries Jacobsson and Saxonberg s collection of essays looks at social movements and their forms of mobilization and organization as well as action repertoires in relation to the social context and their success or failure The book meets an important need in the discourse on post communist social movements by going beyond the usual discourse about the weak and non participatory civil society in the post communist context This book gives a nuanced and updated view of social movements in post communist Europe by looking at the cases of relatively successful mobilization by examining groups that have often been neglected in the discourse on social movements and civil society including animal rights groups racist movements and non feminist family organizations and by giving a deeper analysis of the different strategies that civil society organizations and groups can use Rather than expecting social movements in post communist Europe to follow the same patterns and operate in the same fashion as in Western Europe this volume shows that a wider view of contentious action is needed in order to understand the variety of strategies employed by collective actors operating in this context
