Dear Comrade President André Odendaal, 2022-08-01 In his annual presidential address on 8 January 1986 ANC president Oliver Tambo called on South Africans to make apartheid ungovernable through armed action and militant struggle But unknown to the world on that very day the quiet spoken mathematics teacher and aspirant priest turned reluctant revolutionary had also set up a secret think tank in Lusaka which he named the Constitution Committee giving it an ad hoc unique exercise that had no precedent in the history of the movement Knowing that all wars end at a negotiating table and judging the balance of forces to be moving in favour of the liberation movement Tambo wanted the ANC to hold the initiative after the fall of apartheid Assisted by Pallo Jordan he instructed his new think tank to formulate the principles and draft the outlines of a constitution that could unite South Africa when the time came to talk in the fledgling days of freedom and democracy The seven member team including Albie Sachs Kader Asmal and Zola Skweyiya started deliberating and reporting to Tambo In correspondence they typically addressed him as Dear Comrade President Drawing on the personal archives of participants Dear Comrade President explains how the purposeful first steps were taken in the making of South Africa s Constitution Why and how did this process happen What were the first written words When and where were they put on paper By whom What values did they espouse And how did the committee s work fit into the broader struggle This book answers these questions in new paradigm shifting ways

Migration in Southern Africa Pragna Rugunanan, Nomkhosi Xulu-Gama, 2022-05-30 This open access Regional Reader proposes new ways of theorizing migration in Southern Africa by arguing that traditional western forms of theorizing do not adequately fit the South South migration context It explores the existing definitions of a migrant with a view to conceptualise a definition which will speak to the complexities envisioning a more inclusive Southern African region The book investigates the various levels of migration moving from the local rural to urban and urban to rural to cross border migration middle class versus working class migrant household livelihoods livelihoods procurement versus wage earning social capital networks and how they make meaning of their circumstances in a foreign space It also acknowledges the intertwined issues of gender and class as important in analyzing migration processes and the chapters feature both in varying dimensions As such the book provides a great resource for students academics and policy makers A House of Prayer for All People David K. Seitz, 2017-11-01 Perhaps an unlikely subject for an ethnographic case study the Metropolitan Community Church of Toronto in Canada is a large predominantly LGBT church with a robust and at times fraught history of advocacy While the church is often riddled with fault lines and contradictions its queer and faith based emphasis on shared vulnerability leads it to engage in radical solidarity with asylum seekers pointing to the work of affect in radical coalition politics A House of Prayer for All People maps the affective dimensions of the politics of citizenship at this church For nearly three years David K Seitz regularly attended services at MCCT He paid special attention to how community and citizenship are formed in a primarily queer Christian organization focusing on four contemporary struggles debates on race and gender in religious leadership activism around police minority relations outreach to LGBT Christians transnationally and advocacy for asylum seekers Engaging in debates in cultural geography queer of color critique psychoanalysis and affect theory A House of Prayer for All People stages innovative reparative encounters with citizenship and religion Building on queer theory's rich history of subjectless critique Seitz calls for an improper queer citizenship one that refuses liberal identity politics or national territory as the ethical horizon for sympathy solidarity rights redistribution or intimacy Improper queer citizenship he suggests depends not only on good politics but also on people's capacity for empathy integration and repair
