Deerskins and Duffels Kathryn E. Braund, 1996-03-28 Deerskins and Duffels documents the trading relationship between the Creek Indians in what is now the southeastern United States and the Anglo American peoples who settled there The Creeks were the largest native group in the Southeast and through their trade alliance with the British colonies they became the dominant native power in the area. The deerskin trade became the economic lifeblood of the Creeks after European contact. This book is the first to examine extensively the Creek side of the trade especially the impact of commercial hunting on all aspects of Indian society. British trade is detailed here as well the major traders and trading companies how goods were taken to the Indians how the traders lived and how trade was used as a diplomatic tool. The author also discusses trade in Indian slaves a Creek Anglo cooperation that resulted in the virtual destruction of the native peoples of Florida.

They range from interpretations of mercantilistic ideas to interpretations of policies. They stress the relationship between economic social and political ideas and range from the 17th to the late 20th century. "The Artist and the State, 1777-1855" Daniel R. Guernsey, 2017-07-05 The Artist and the State 1777 1855 The Politics of Universal History in British French Painting is the first book length study to examine political uses of universal history or the philosophy of history in European art from 1777 to 1855. Daniel R Guernsey discusses a range of mural paintings and sculptural works produced in England and France between the American Revolution and the Universal Exposition of 1855 comparing the ways artists such as James Barry Eug Delacroix Paul Chenavard David d Angers and Gustave Courbet expressed linear or cyclical histories of progress and decline. By considering the work of these important European artists together he reveals not only the rich artistic interaction that took place between England and France as well as Germany at this time but also how the notion of universal history was to become a major preoccupation in the work of these individual artists each one participating in shaping a highly significant mode of eighteenth and nineteenth century political art.
