Understanding Vulnerability South Asian Perspectives:

Understanding Vulnerability John Twigg, Mihir R. Bhatt, 1998 Each year more than 130 million people are affected by natural hazards such as floods earthquakes droughts and cyclones This book explores these issues from a South Asian standpoint presented in the form of case studies and essays by experts from India Nepal and Sri Lanka Droughts and Integrated Water Resource Management in South Asia Jasveen Jairath, 2008-11-11 Droughts have formed an inseparable part of South Asian history and culture with tragic consequences for a region that houses the greatest number of the world's poor However this volume challenges the popular conception of drought which is presented as an absolute shortage scarcity with respect to an implicit understanding of the sufficiency of water It highlights the fact that while available water supplies may be a given quantum droughts are differentially experienced politically inspired and socially constituted It emphasises that the relative water scarcity needs to be appreciated and argues that water scarcity means different things for diverse constituencies of water users Policy prescriptions based on definitional premises will be flawed as a misrepresentation of drought as merely water scarcity serves a political agenda The editors and contributors of this volume critically evaluate the concept of drought the way it is defined its origin derivation and the purposes interests it serves This book is broadly divided into three major sections the thematic section country overviews and case studies Through these it attempts to Understand the concept of drought Map diversity in drought situations across South Asia Identify responses to drought Outline viable options for more integrated approaches to drought policies and mitigation strategies Initiate a process of dialogue on a more comprehensive public policy for drought management Comprehensive thought provoking informative and featuring new research data this collection will provide policy makers and professionals with the opportunity to discuss and debate policies for sustainable livelihood support systems and drought management It would also be an invaluable source of information for students and teachers working in the fields of Water and Natural Resource Management Environmental Planning Agricultural Economics Rural Development Public Policy and Public Administration Trafficking in Women and Children in India P. M. Nair, Sankar Sen, 2005 This Book Presents The Research Findings Of Action Research On Trafficking In Women And Children In India Artwac That Involved The United Nations Development Fund For Women The National Human Rights Commission And The Institute Of Social Sciences Through A Human Rights Perspective The First Section Of This Book Analyses The Data Generated By Artwac And Gives Detailed Recommendations For Better Judicial Interventions Law Enforcement And Community Participation In Anti Trafficking Strategies The Second Section Contains A Rich Collection Of Case Studies Giving An On Ground Picture Of How Exploiters Have Little Or No Respect For The Rights Of Trafficking Victims DISASTER MITIGATION PARDEEP SAHNI, ALKA DHAMEJA, UMA MEDURY, 2001-01-01 Human vulnerability to natural disasters is an age old phenomenon Besides nature's wrath human interventions too have led to many calamities in the recent past The heedless pace of development has left us ecologically barren Most of the world's people live in developing economies as do most of the world's poor. They also face the most debilitating consequences in the form of economic and social disruption caused by disasters. The long history of disasters and their intensity has brought the question of disaster management to the forefront. Disaster mitigation is a major component of a disaster management plan. Mitigation entails measures to reduce the physical, economic and social vulnerability of a community to disasters. Disaster management is still an untouched domain suffering for want of systematic and committed research and development inputs. It is essential not only to consolidate its academic stature but also to infuse the requisite knowledge, skills and attitudes in the personnel connected with this field. This collection of articles from several contributors is an excellent analysis of different mitigation strategies. It offers insight into the different dimensions of disaster preparedness and mitigation. The underlying attempt in each chapter is to illuminate the pertinence of those mitigation efforts that would prepare everyone related with disaster management to comprehend and approach the problem more holistically. Besides government agencies, NGOs and community-based bodies, the book is suitable for students pursuing the certificate programme in Disaster Management developed by the Indira Gandhi National Open University, New Delhi. Environmental Change and Security Project Report, 2002

Environmental Hazards and Disasters Bimal Kanti Paul, 2011-11-30. Environmental Hazards and Disasters: Contexts, Perspectives and Management focuses on manifested threats to humans and their welfare as a result of natural disasters. The book uses an integrative approach to address socio-cultural, political and physical components of the disaster process. Human and social vulnerability as well as risk to environmental hazards are explored within the comprehensive context of diverse natural hazards and disasters. In addition to scientific explanations of disastrous occurrences, people and governments of hazard-prone countries often have their own interpretations for why natural disasters occur. In such interpretations, they often either blame others in order to conceal their inability to protect themselves or they blame themselves, attributing the events to either real or imagined misdeeds. The book contains a chapter devoted to the neglected topic of such reactions and explanations. Includes chapters on key topics such as the application of GIS in hazard studies, resiliency, disasters and poverty, climate change and sustainability and development. This book is designed as a primary text for an interdisciplinary course on hazards for upper-level undergraduate and Graduate students. Although not targeted for an introductory hazards course, students in such a course may find it very useful as well. Additionally, emergency managers, planners and both public and private organizations involved in disaster response and mitigation could benefit from this book along with hazard researchers. It not only includes traditional and popular hazard topics, e.g., disaster cycles, disaster relief and risk and vulnerability, it also includes neglected topics such as the positive impacts of disasters, disaster myths and different accounts of disasters and disasters and gender. Vulnerability, Territory, Population Samuel Rufat, Pascale Metzger, 2024-07-11. During the Covid-19 pandemic, the term vulnerable was applied to individuals and to populations, groups and countries in discussions, laws and regulations; now it applies to all objects in relation to all kinds of threats. However, rather than a label for governing people and places the notion of vulnerability was expected to become an instrument to tackle the root causes of disasters poverty and maldevelopment as well as the inequalities and injustices they bring whether social political economic or environmental Despite this radical dimension vulnerability has gradually been incorporated into public policies and international recommendations for global risk and disaster management This book is intended for researchers students managers and decision makers concerned with the management of not only risks and crises but also climate and environmental change The first part examines the multiple theoretical and conceptual approaches the second explores vulnerability assessments using examples from the Global North and Global South and the third discusses tools public policies and actions taken to reduce vulnerability

Climate Change in the Asia-Pacific Region Walter Leal Filho, 2015-04-02 This book investigates the socio economic impacts of Climate Change in the Asia Pacific region The authors put forward a strategy and action plans that can enhance the capacity of government agencies and non governmental organizations to reduce the negative impacts of climate change The needs and interests of critical and neglected groups are highlighted throughout the book alongside the need for improving knowledge management on climate change The case studies presented offer regional analyses for countries such as Australia Bangladesh China Fiji India Mongolia Nepal and the Philippines and cover issues such as livelihood vulnerability and displacement climate migration macroeconomic impacts urban environmental governance and disaster management

Modelling Coastal Vulnerability Marcel Marchand, 2009 Models that explore vulnerability under various planned and unplanned conditions hardly exist This title focuses on the vulnerability of societies in low lying coastal and deltaic environments to tropical cyclonic storms and floods

Community Responses to Disasters in the Pacific Rim Shu-Mei Huang, Elizabeth Maly, 2023-12-07 Community Responses to Disasters in the Pacific Rim presents different aspects of place making in displacement in the Pacific Rim region It focuses focus on how people respond and readjust to changes and captures the long term community development outcomes and the critical moments that facilitate this development Interdisciplinary and using diverse research approaches the book includes contributions by authors from a variety of disciplines across disaster research sociology urban planning architecture anthropology earth science and education Mixed methods are adopted to carry out the research projects that ground this volume including qualitative research for social scientific research ethnographic methods and more importantly Participatory Action Research PAR is also included by authors who have a background in design professions and a few indigenous scholars who are themselves survivors of disasters The chapters are structured in the following five thematic sections Learning as place making in displacement Gender and place making in response to displacement Community resilience in keeping indigenous sense of place Community Re building in displacement Transnational Place making Talk to the Actor Understanding how affected communities are recovering from their own perspectives this book will be of interest to academics in the fields of area studies political science disaster planning and human geography
