than a decade Gretchen Rubin had been studying happiness and human nature Then one day a visit to her eye doctor made her realize that she d been overlooking a key element of happiness her five senses She d spent so much time stuck in her head that she d allowed the vital sensations of life to slip away unnoticed This epiphany lifted her from a state of foggy preoccupation into a world invigorated by seeing hearing smelling tasting and touching In this journey of self experimentation Rubin explores the mysteries and joys of the five senses as a path to a happier more mindful life Drawing on cutting edge science philosophy literature and her own efforts to practice what she learns she investigates the profound power of tuning in to the physical world From the simple pleasures of appreciating the magic of ketchup and adding favorite songs to a playlist to more adventurous efforts like creating a daily ritual of visiting the Metropolitan Museum of Art and attending a flavor university Rubin shows us how to experience each day with depth delight and connection In the rush of daily life she finds our five senses offer us immediate sustainable ways to cheer up calm down and engage the world around us as well as ways to glimpse the soul and touch the transcendent Life in Five Senses is an absorbing layered story of discovery filled with profound insights and practical suggestions about how to heighten our senses and use our powers of perception to live fuller richer lives and ultimately how to move through the world with more vitality and love     Sensing Machines Chris Salter,2022-04-19 How we are tracked surveilled tantalized and seduced by machines ranging from smart watches and Roombas to immersive art installations Sensing machines are everywhere in our world As we move through the day electronic sensors and computers adjust our thermostats guide our Roombas count our steps change the orientation of an image when we rotate our phones There are more of these electronic devices in the world than there are people in 2020 thirty to fifty billion of them versus 7 8 billion people with more than a trillion expected in the next decade In Sensing Machines Chris Salter examines how we are tracked surveilled tantalized and seduced by machines ranging from smart watches and mood trackers to massive immersive art installations Salter an artist scholar who has worked with sensors and computers for more than twenty years explains that the quantification of bodies senses and experience did not begin with the surveillance capitalism practiced by Facebook Amazon Netflix and Google but can be traced back to mathematical and statistical techniques of the nineteenth century He describes the emergence of the sensed self investigating how sensor technology has been deployed in music and gaming programmable and immersive art environments driving and even eating with e tongues and e noses that can taste and smell for us Sensing technology turns our experience into data but Salter s story isn t just about what these machines want from us but what we want from them new sensations the thrill of the uncanny and magic that will transport us from our daily grind     A Gift of Angels ,2010-09-20 It rises suddenly out of the Sonoran Desert landscape towering over the tallest tree or cactus a commanding building with a sensuous dome elliptical vaults and sturdy bell towers There is nothing else like it around nor does it seem there should be This incongruity of setting is what strikes first time visitors to Mission San Xavier del Bac This great church is of another place and another time while its beauty is universal and timeless Mission San Xavier del Bac is a two century old Spanish church in southern Arizona located just a few miles from downtown Tucson a metropolis of more than half a million people in the American Southwest A National Historic Landmark since 1963 the mission s graceful baroque art and architecture have drawn visitors from all over the world Now Bernard Fontana the leading expert on San Xavier and award winning photographer Edward McCain team up to bring us a comprehensive view of the mission as we ve never seen it before With 200 stunning full color photographs and incisive text illuminating the religious historical and motivational context of these images A Gift of Angels is a must have for tourists scholars and other visitors to San Xavier From its glorious architecture all the way down to the finest details of its art Mission San Xavier del Bac is indeed a gift of angels

What Art Is Michelle Kamhi, Louis Torres, 2016-05-26 What is art The arts establishment has a simple answer anything is art if a reputed artist or expert says it is Though many people are skeptical about the alleged new art forms that have proliferated since the early twentieth century today s critics claim that all such work however incomprehensible is art A groundbreaking alternative to this view is provided by philosopher novelist Ayn Rand 1901 1982 Best known as the author of The Fountainhead and Atlas Shrugged Rand also created an original and illuminating theory of art which confirms the widespread view that much of today s purported art is not really art at all In What Art Is Torres and Kamhi present a lucid introduction to Rand s esthetic theory contrasting her ideas with those of other thinkers They conclude that in its basic principles her account is compelling and is corroborated by evidence from anthropology neurology cognitive science and psychology The authors apply Rand s theory to a debunking of the work of prominent modernists and postmodernists from Mondrian Jackson Pollock and Samuel Beckett to John Cage Merce Cunningham and other highly regarded postmodernist figures Finally they explore the implications of Rand s ideas for the issues of government and corporate support of the arts art law and art education This is one of the most interesting provocative and well written books on aesthetics that I know While fully accessible to the general reader What Art Is should be of great interest to specialists as well Ayn Rand s largely unknown writings on art especially as interpreted released from dogma and smoothed out by Torres and Kamhi are remarkably refined Moreover her ideas are positively therapeutic after a century of artistic floundering and aesthetic quibbling Anyone interested in aesthetics in the purpose of art or in the troubling issues posed by modernism and post modernism should read this book Randall R Dipert Author of Artifacts Art Works and Agency Torres and Kamhi effectively situate Rand s long neglected esthetic theory in the wider history of ideas They not only illuminate her significant contribution to an understanding of the nature of art they also apply her ideas to a trenchant critique of the twentieth century s advanced art Their exposure of the invalidity of abstract art is itself worth the price of admission Chris Matthew Sciabarra Author of Ayn Rand The Russian Radical Rand s aesthetic theory merits careful study and thoughtful criticism which Torres and Kamhi provide Their scholarship is sound their presentation is clear and their judgment is refreshingly free from the biases that Rand s supporters and detractors alike tend to bring to

The Right to See with Technology Marc Jonathan Blitz, 2025-09-01 This book asks if we have a constitutional right to see or sense our surroundings with technology Do we have a constitutional right to record our surroundings with cameras embedded in smartphones or drones Or to enhance our vision with extended reality technology bionic eyes or brain computer interfaces Courts in the United States have already provided a possible foundation for answering such questions There is they have said a right to document matters of public concern by creating and sharing recordings with others Such recordings extend our perception They let us watch events that are remote in space and time Yet sharing them is also a kind of communication and thus the creation of speech protected by the First Amendment So too might be other ways of seeing with technology This emerging case law raises interesting questions and challenges such as how enhancement of our perceptions can leave room for others privacy This book explores such questions focusing on American constitutional jurisprudence It also argues that in doing so it is helpful to recognize that our interest in using and enhancing our perceptual power isn't only an interest in doing so as part of First Amendment communication It is also linked closely to other rights to personal integrity and the liberty to use our body's perceptual powers and to the constitution's protection for freedom of thought or what some scholars call cognitive liberty Our exercise of perception and our use of it to learn about our surroundings is a crucial part of exercising our and shaping our mind

Art and Archaeology Ian Alden Russell, Andrew Cochrane, 2013-11-19 This volume presents a collection of interdisciplinary collaborations between contemporary art heritage anthropological and archaeological practitioners Departing from the proceedings of the Sixth World Archaeological Congress's Archaeologies of Art theme and Bhar Agus Meon exhibitions it includes papers by seminal figures as well as experimental work by those who are exploring the application of artistic methods and theory to the practice of archaeology Art and archaeology collaborations conversations criticisms encourages the creative interplay of various approaches to art and archaeology so these new modes of expression can contribute to how we understand the world Established topics such as cave art monumental architecture and land art will be discussed alongside contemporary video art performance art and relational arts practices Here the parallel roles of artists as makers of new worlds and archaeologists as makers of past worlds are brought together to understand the influences of human creativity
