TV Guide Stephen F. Hofer, 2006 This book looks at the origins and growth of television through the pages of TV Guide and covers the complete run of this American icon from the first guides in 1953 to the last issue in guide format on October 9 2005 It includes full color reproductions of every cover ever printed and is both a collector's guide with pricing included and a retrospective view of the medium

TV Guide, 2006 Twelve Inventions Which Changed America Gerhard Falk, 2013-02-13 This book describes twelve inventions that transformed the United States from a rural and small town community to an industrial country of unprecedented power These inventions demonstrate that no one person is ever responsible for technological advances and that the culture produces a number of people who work together to create each new invention The book also shows the influences of technology on society and examines the beliefs and attitudes of those who partake in technological advances The book is both a sociological analysis and a history of technology in the United States in the past two hundred years

Music Makes Me Todd Decker, 2011-05-25 Fred Astaire is best known for his brilliant dancing in the movie musicals of the 1930s but in Music Makes Me Todd Decker argues that Astaire's work as a dancer and choreographer particularly in the realm of tap dancing made a significant contribution to the art of jazz

100 Things We've Lost to the Internet
Pamela Paul, 2021-10-26 The acclaimed editor of The New York Times Book Review takes readers on a nostalgic tour of the pre Internet age offering powerful insights into both the profound and the seemingly trivial things we've lost NAMED ONE OF THE TEN BEST BOOKS OF THE YEAR BY CHICAGO TRIBUNE AND THE DALLAS MORNING NEWS A deft blend of nostalgia humor and devastating insights People Remember all those ingrained habits cherished ideas beloved objects and stubborn preferences from the pre Internet age They're gone To some of those things we can say good riddance But many we miss terribly Whatever our emotional response to this departed realm we are faced with the fact that nearly every aspect of modern life now takes place in filtered isolated corners of cyberspace a space that has slowly subsumed our physical habitats replacing or transforming the office our local library a favorite bar the movie theater and the coffee shop where people met one another's gaze from across the room Even as we've gained the ability to gather without leaving our house many of the fundamentally human experiences that have sustained us have disappeared In one hundred glimpses of that pre Internet world Pamela Paul editor of The New York Times Book Review presents a captivating record enlivened with illustrations of the world before cyberspace from voicemails to blind dates to punctuation to civility There are the small losses postcards the blessings of an adolescence largely spared of documentation the Rolodex and the genuine surprises at high school reunions But there are larger repercussions too weaker memories the inability to entertain oneself and the utter demolition of privacy 100 Things We've Lost to the Internet is at once an evocative swan song for a disappearing era and perhaps a guide to
