Stape] (Penguin Classics)., 2007 What Is a Classic? Ankhi Mukherjee, 2013-11-13 What Is a Classic revisits the famous question posed by critics from Sainte Beuve and T S Eliot to J M Coetzee to ask how classics emanate from postcolonial histories and societies Exploring definitive trends in twentieth and twenty-first century English and Anglophone literature Ankhi Mukherjee demonstrates the relevance of the question of the classic for the global politics of identifying and perpetuating so-called core texts Emergent canons are scrutinized in the context of the wider cultural phenomena of book prizes the translation and distribution of world literatures and multimedia adaptations of world classics

Throughout Mukherjee attunes traditional literary critical concerns to the value contestations mobilizing postcolonial and world literature The breadth of debates and topics she addresses as well as the book s ambitious historical schema which includes South Asia Africa the Middle East the West Indies Australia New Zealand Europe and North America set this study apart from related titles on the bookshelf today

Identification Practices in Twentieth-Century Fiction Rex Ferguson,2021-07-14 The task of identifying the individual has given rise to a number of technical innovations including fingerprint analysis and DNA profiling A range of methods have also been created for storing and classifying people s identities such as identity cards and digital records Identification Practices and Twentieth Century Fiction tests the hypothesis that these techniques and methods as practiced in the UK and US in the long 20th century are inherently related to the literary representation of self identity from the same period Until now the question of who one is in the sense of formal identification has remained detached from the question of who one is in terms of the representation of unique individuality Placing these two questions in dialogue allows for a re evaluation of the various ways in which uniqueness has been constructed during the period and for a re assessment of the historical and literary historical context of such construction In chapters ranging across the development of fingerprinting the institution of identity cards during the Second World War DNA profiling and contemporary digital surveillance and an analysis of writing by authors including Joseph Conrad Graham Greene Elizabeth Bowen J G Ballard Don DeLillo and Jennifer Egan Identification Practices and Twentieth Century Fiction makes an original contribution to the disciplines of English Literature History and Cultural Studies
