Multilingual Learning and Language Supportive Pedagogies in Sub-Saharan Africa Elizabeth J. Erling, John Clegg, Casmir M. Rubagumya, Colin Reilly, 2021-07-01 This edited collection provides unprecedented insight into the emerging field of multilingual education in Sub Saharan Africa SSA Multilingual education is claimed to have many benefits amongst which are that it can improve both content and language learning especially for learners who may have low ability in the medium of instruction and are consequently struggling to learn The book represents a range of Sub Saharan school contexts and describes how multilingual strategies have been developed and implemented within them to support the learning of content and language It looks at multilingual learning from several points of view including translanguaging or the use of multiple languages and especially African languages for learning and language supportive pedagogy or the implementation of a distinct pedagogy to support learners working through the medium of a second language The book puts forward strategies for creating materials classroom environments and teacher education programmes which support the use of all of a student s languages to improve language and content learning The contexts which the book describes are challenging including low school resourcing poverty and low literacy in the home and school policy which militates against the use of African languages in school The volume also draws on multilingual education approaches which have been successfully carried out in higher resource countries and lend themselves to being adapted for use in SSA It shows how multilingual learning can bring about transformation in education and provides inspiration for how these strategies might spread and be further developed to improve learning in schools in SSA and beyond Chapter 3 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com>

Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications, 1992 Accountability in education: meeting our commitments

UNESCO, 2017-10-30 The second edition of the Global Education Monitoring Report GEM Report presents the latest evidence on global progress towards the education targets of the UN Sustainable Development Goals With hundreds of millions of people still not going to school and many not achieving minimum skills at school it is clear education systems are off track to achieve global goals The marginalized currently bear the most consequences but also stand to benefit the most if policy makers pay sufficient attention to their needs Faced with these challenges along with tight budgets and increased emphasis on results oriented value for money countries are searching for solutions Increased accountability often tops the list The 2017 8 GEM Report shows the entire array of approaches to accountability in education It ranges from countries unused to the concept where violations of the right to education go unchallenged to countries where accountability has become an end in itself instead of a means to inclusive equitable and high quality education and lifelong learning for all The report emphasizes that education is a shared responsibility While governments have primary responsibility all actors schools teachers parents students international organizations private sector providers civil society and the media 0.3 have a role in improving education systems The report emphasized the importance of transparency and availability of information but urges caution in how data are used It makes the case for avoiding accountability systems with a disproportionate focus on narrowly defined results and punitive sanctions In an era of multiple accountability tools the report provides clear evidence on those that are working and those that are not Back cover

Adult Education and Learning in a Precarious Age: The Hamburg Declaration Revisited Tom Nesbit, Michael Welton, 2013-06-06 UNESCO's 1997 CONFINTEA V conference in Hamburg has been described as the high water mark of international adult education policy making. It produced one of the most utopian statements about adult education and learning of the past 25 years: the Hamburg Declaration on Adult Learning and Agenda for the Future. Adult education was declared key to the twenty-first century in order to build a world in which violent conflict is replaced by dialogue, a culture of peace based on justice and the creation of a learning society committed to social justice and general well-being. However, the Declaration also recognized that there were many practical challenges to its implementation as profound changes were occurring in social, economic, environmental and political spheres. In this volume, North American and international scholars critically assess how far the visionary statements of the Hamburg Declaration have been advanced and implemented. They review the recent development of the 10 themes of the Agenda for the Future, explore their local and global achievements through considering the results of the 2009 CONFINTEA VI conference and other related policy developments. Outline what is still necessary to realize the Declaration's goals. This is 138th volume of this quarterly report series. Noted for its depth of coverage, it explores issues of common interest to instructors, administrators, counselors and policymakers in a broad range of adult and continuing education settings such as colleges and universities, extension programs, businesses, libraries and museums.

Annual Review of Comparative and International Education 2020 Alexander W. Wiseman, 2021-08-02 The Annual Review of Comparative and International Education covers significant developments in the field of comparative and international education. This 2020 edition begins with a collection of discussion essays about comparative education trends and directions written by both professional and scholarly leaders.

Advancing the Global Agenda for Human Rights, Vulnerable Populations, and Environmental Sustainability Mary V. Alfred, Petra A. Robinson, Elizabeth A. Roumell, 2021-10-01 For over 70 years the United Nations has worked to advance human conditions globally through its historic agenda for a more peaceful, prosperous and just world. Through the work of the General Assembly and other programs like the UNESCO World Conferences on Adult Education, the organization has taken a leading role in bringing world leaders together to dialogue on world issues and to set agendas for advancing social and economic justice among and within the regions of the world. The underlying themes of the United Nations agenda over the years have been world peace, economic justice, addressing the needs of the world's most vulnerable populations and protecting the environment. We draw from the two last two declarations from which the Millennium Development Goals September 2000 and the Sustainable Development Goals September 2015 were adopted by world leaders with a focus on addressing the needs of the most vulnerable populations In this declaration world leaders committed to uphold the long standing principles of the organization and to combat extreme poverty hunger disease illiteracy environmental degradation and discrimination and violence against women The overall objective of the book is to highlight the conditions of vulnerable populations from various contexts globally and the role adult and higher education can play and is playing in advancing the United Nations agenda of social and economic justice and environmental sustainability Adult education through research teaching and service engagements is contributing to this ongoing effort but as many scholars have noted our work remains invisible and undocumented Therefore this book highlights adult education s critical partnership in addressing these global issues It will also begin to fill the void that exists in adult education literature on internationalization of the field
