Wisdom Sits in Places Keith H. Basso, 1996 Explores the connections of place language wisdom and morality among the Western Apache      Landscape in Language David M. Mark, 2011 This volume focuses on how landscape is represented in language and thought and what this reveals about the relationships of people to place and to land Back cover

Anthropologists - Compilation of List of Anthropologists VOL-01 Athaluri santhosh kumar, 2020-02-11 This book is a compilation from various sources and is An experimental approach to list the Anthropologists in this world by reading this book readers may get awareness on field of anthropology and the scope and the limits however its just a small part i e ONLY VOLUME 01 of the book 2nd volume is under editing      Land and Spirit in Native America Joy Porter, 2012-05-04 This book accurately depicts Native American approaches to land and spirituality through an interdisciplinary examination of Indian philosophy history and literature Indian approaches to land and spirituality are neither simple nor monolithic making them hard to grasp for outsiders A fuller more accurate understanding of these concepts enables comprehension of the unique ways land and spirit have interlinked Native American communities across centuries of civilization and reveals insights about our current pressing environmental concerns and American history In Land and Spirit in Native America author Joy Porter argues that American colonization has been a determining factor in how we perceive Indian spirituality and Indian relationships to nature Having an appreciation for these traditional values regarding ritual memory time kinship and the essential reciprocity between all things allows us to rethink aspects of history and culture This understanding also makes Indian film philosophy literature and art accessible      Native American Environmentalism Joy Porter, 2014-04-01 Originally titled Land and spirit in native America 2012      Archaeology of Domestic Architecture and the Human Use of Space Sharon R Steadman, 2016-06-16 This volume is the first text to focus specifically on the archaeology of domestic architecture Covering major theoretical and methodological developments over recent decades in areas like social institutions settlement types gender status and power this book addresses the developing understanding of where and how people in the past created and used domestic space It will be a useful synthesis for scholars and an ideal text for advanced undergraduate and graduate courses in archaeology and architecture The book covers the relationship of architectural decisions of ancient peoples with our understanding of social and cultural institutions includes cases from every continent and all time periods from the Paleolithic of Europe to present day African villages is ideal for the growing number of courses on household archaeology social archaeology and historical and vernacular architecture      Let Them Eat Data C. A. Bowers, 2011-03-15 Do computers foster cultural diversity Ecological sustainability In our age of high tech euphoria we seem content to leave tough questions like these to the experts That dangerous inclination is at the heart of this important examination of the commercial and educational trends that have left us so uncritically optimistic about global computing Contrary to the attitudes that have been marketed and taught to us says C A Bowers the fact is that computers operate on a set of Western cultural assumptions and a market economy that drives consumption Our indoctrination includes the view of global computing innovations as inevitable and on a par with social progress a perspective dismayingly suggestive of the mindset that engendered the vast cultural and ecological disruptions of the industrial revolution and world colonialism In Let Them Eat Data Bowers discusses important issues that have fallen into the gap between our perceptions and the realities of global computing including the misuse of the theory of evolution to justify and legitimate the global spread of computers and the ecological and cultural implications of unmooring knowledge from its local contexts as it is digitized commodified and packaged for global consumption He also suggests ways that educators can help us think more critically about technology Let Them Eat Data is essential reading if we are to begin democratizing technological decisions conserving true cultural diversity and intergenerational forms of knowledge and living within the limits and possibilities of the earth's natural systems

Huichol Territory and the Mexican Nation Paul M. Liffman, 2023-02-07 The Huichol Wixarika people claim a vast expanse of Mexico's western Sierra Madre and northern highlands as a territory called kiekari which includes parts of the states of Nayarit Jalisco Durango Zacatecas and San Luis Potos This territory forms the heart of their economic and spiritual lives But indigenous land struggle is a central fact of Mexican history and in this fascinating new work Paul Liffman expands our understanding of it Drawing on contemporary anthropological theory he explains how Huichols assert their sovereign rights to collectively own the 1 500 square miles they inhabit and to practice rituals across the 35 000 square miles where their access is challenged Liffman places current access claims in historical perspective tracing Huichol communities long term efforts to redress the inequitable access to land and other resources that their neighbors and the state have imposed on them Liffman writes that the cultural grounds for territorial claims were what the people I wanted to study wanted me to work on Based on six years of collaboration with a land rights organization interviews and participant observation in meetings ceremonies and extended stays on remote ranches Huichol Territory and the Mexican Nation analyzes the sites where people define Huichol territory The book's innovative structure echoes Huichols own approach to knowledge and examines the nation and state not just the community Liffman's local regional and national perspective informs every chapter and expands the toolkit for researchers working with indigenous communities By describing Huichols ceremonially based placemaking to build a theory of historical territoriality he raises provocative questions about what place means for native peoples worldwide

From the Kitchen to the Parlor Lanita Jacobs-Huey, 2006-04-20 Examines how hair and hair care take on situated social meanings among African American women in varied linguistic interactions whether with one another with African American men or with European American women Based on years of fieldwork in a range of sites from cosmetology schools in South Carolina to hair care seminars in Beverly Hills from stand up comedy clubs in Los Angeles to online debates about black hair Jacob Huey's multifaceted approach documents how and why hair comes to matter so much in African American women's construction of their identities and how language both mediates and produces these social meanings

The Routledge Handbook of Ecolinguistics Alwin F. Fill,Hermine Penz,2017-07-31 The Routledge Handbook of Ecolinguistics is the first comprehensive exploration into the field of ecolinguistics also known as language ecology Organized into three sections that treat the different topic areas of ecolinguistics the Handbook begins with chapters on language diversity language minorities and language endangerment with authors providing insight into the link between the loss of languages and the loss of species It continues with an overview of the role of language and discourse in describing concealing and helping to solve environmental problems With discussions on new orientations and topics for further exploration in the field chapters in the last section show ecolinguistics as a pacesetter into a new scientific age This Handbook is an excellent resource for students and researchers interested in language and the environment language contact and beyond      Proceedings RMRS. ,1998      Living Language Laura M. Ahearn,2011-03-21 Accessible and clearly written Living Language An Introduction to Linguistic Anthropology introduces readers to the study of language in real life social contexts around the world through the contemporary theory and practice of linguistic anthropology A highly accessible introduction to the study of language in real life social contexts around the world Combines classic studies on language and cutting edge contemporary scholarship and assumes no prior knowledge in linguistics or anthropology Provides a unifying synthesis of current research and considers future directions for the field Covers key topics such as language and gender race and ethnicity language acquisition and socialization in children and adults language death and revitalization performance language and thought literacy practices and multilingualism and globalization      Land and Territoriality Michael Saltman,2020-05-26 In the past territorial conflict usually involved major powers seeking hegemony over strategic spaces and resources More recently however the decline of opposing global power blocs has elevated ethnicity to a prime cause of conflict over land This book considers the multiple roles ethnicity plays in fostering territorial conflicts both violent and non violent across the globe While land disputes relating to nationalism have resulted in the loss of human life in some regions in others ties between ethnicity and land are asserted more peacefully Nationalism and challenges to the validity of the links between people and places have caused widespread bloodshed in the disputed territory of Palestine involving competing claims of Arabs and Jews have led to war In North America however indigenous Indians claims to land are settled in the courts rather than through violence This book shows how human behaviour is affected by the multiple ways in which people identify with land topography and natural resources In doing so it highlights the growing trend towards defining physical space in specific ethnic contexts associated with a contemporary world that facilitates global movement

Connecting Mountain Islands and Desert Seas, 2005      The Apache Wars Joseph C. Jastrzembski, 2009 The Apache are perhaps most noted for such fierce leaders as Cochise and Geronimo Their name which comes from the Yuma Indian word for fighting men bears that out The Apache tribe is composed of six regional groups Western Apache Chiricahua Mescalero Jicarilla Lipan and Kiowa Apache      Indigenous Language Education in Critical Times Julieta Briseño-Roa, Paulina Griño, Vanessa Anthony-Stevens, José Antonio Flores Farfán, 2025-05-28 This book builds a space in which a diversity of voices Indigenous teachers activists and committed academics are foregrounded in the processes of Indigenous education with the goal of Indigenous language reclamation It decenters state systems of education e g schooling and instead considers the efforts of teachers defined broadly community activists and scholars who are developing initiatives to support Indigenous language practices in around and beyond schooling thereby emphasizing diverse processes of language reclamation in complex and varied settings The authors invite the reader to reconsider language reclamation in the face of climate change and neocolonial exploitation offering a source of radical hope for the future Central to the book are narratives regarding community based collaborations which subvert the asymmetrical power relations between academia and educational practitioners and activists and call into question the categories constructed by a top down approach as well as the colonial relationships that linguistic anthropology and linguistics have constructed within the spaces and people they study

Engaging with a Legacy: Nehemia Levtzion (1935-2003) E. Ann McDougall, 2014-06-11 Engaging with a Legacy shows how Nehemia Levtzion shaped our understanding of Islam in Africa and influenced successive scholarly generations in their approach to Islamization conversion and fundamentalism The book illuminates his work career and family life including his own life vision on the occasion of his 60th birthday It speaks to his relationship with researchers at home and abroad as mentor colleague and provocateur in one section several authors reflect on those dynamics in terms of personal and professional development Levtzion s contemporaries also speak of interactions with him and his life long companion wife Tirza in the 1950s and 1960s we see in these writings the birth of West African historical studies Levtzion s arrival as Israeli graduate student in Nkrumah s Egyptian leaning Ghana and the debate over what African Studies should mean in an environment that included the personal intervention of W E B Du Bois are stories told for the first time Most poignant is the account of Levtzion s commitment to building African Studies complete with emphasis on Islam in the heart of the Jewish state at The Hebrew University His never ending defence of the program reflected his determination to be both engaged historian and engaged Israeli a legacy he chose for himself Finally an Epilogue to the original publication shows how one aspect this legacy Levtzion s growing preoccupation with the public sphere in Muslim societies has become even more relevant in post Arab Spring Africa and the Middle East This book was published as a special issue of the Canadian Journal of African Studies

Spirits of Our Whaling Ancestors Charlotte Coté, 2015-07-21 Following the removal of the gray whale from the Endangered Species list in 1994 the Makah tribe of northwest Washington State announced that they would revive their whale hunts their relatives the Nuuchah-nulth Nation of British Columbia shortly followed suit Neither tribe had exercised their right to whale in the case of the Makah a right affirmed in their 1855 treaty with the federal government since the gray whale had been hunted nearly to extinction by commercial whalers in the 1920s The Makah whale hunt of 1999 was an event of international significance connected to the worldwide struggle for aboriginal sovereignty and to the broader discourses of environmental sustainability treaty rights human rights and animal rights It was met with enthusiastic support and vehement opposition As a member of the Nuuchah-nulth Nation Charlotte Cote offers a valuable perspective on the issues surrounding indigenous whaling past and present Whaling served important social economic and ritual functions that have been at the core of Makah and Nuuchah-nulth societies throughout their histories Even as Native societies faced disease epidemics and federal policies that undermined their cultures they remained connected to their traditions The revival of whaling has implications for the physical mental and spiritual health of these Native communities today Cote asserts Whaling she says defines who we are as a people Her analysis includes major Native studies and contemporary Native rights issues and addresses environmentalism animal rights activism anti treaty conservatism and the public s expectations about what it means to be Indian These thoughtful critiques are intertwined with the author s personal reflections family stories and information from indigenous anthropological and historical sources to provide a bridge between cultures A Capell Family Book

Native American Communities on Health and Disability L. Lovern, C. Locust, 2013-03-27 This volume examines concepts of disability and wellness in Native American communities prominently featuring the life s work of Dr Carol Locust Authors Locust and Lovern confront the difficulties of translating not only words but also entire concepts between Western and Indigenous cultures and by increasing the cultural competency of those unfamiliar with Native American ways of being are able to bring readers from both cultures into a more equal dialogue The three sections contained herein focus on intercultural translation dialogues with Native American community members and finally a discussion of being in the world gently as caregivers
