Self-education Is Greater Than Higher Education Miles Goodloe,2016-11-22 There is a problem in American Higher Education The problem is you can go to college get a degree and still have no idea what your passion is Therefore you will not care about the degree you got You earned a degree just to say you earned a degree You should graduate from college and know who you are and what impact you want to make in the world That is the best way for you to pursue a career that you love and enjoy The next problem that exists is that you have to live your life in order to know what you like to do You have to do something You will not find your passion just going with the flow in life You will find your passion when you make an intentional effort to create it It takes thought practice and everyday engagement This way you know your best passions talents skills and knowledge You take the previous knowledge of self and implement it in the world to make change Make change in the world and make change in your pocket College provides a great space for you make changes in your life and start over Take this time to explore your interest and pursue your deepest passions Unfortunately most of us do not know how to navigate universities in a manner that benefits us directly Colleges are getting more difficult to maneuver as a student because we stress about getting a job Pursue a career instead A job is for right now A career is for tomorrow and the next day because you will be able to grow in an industry and thrive In order to put yourself in the best position to succeed in creating your career is to create your passion and take action This book will be your guide to finding yourself in a college setting so after graduation you can thrive in society as a professional Colleges have so many options that it can overwhelm us but when you know who you are you can dominate your college environment and professional life after graduation It is super easy to go to class and go to parties and call it a day but that will not make you a better person and professional That is far from enough to figure out who you truly are and what you are best at There is some trial and error but those willing to fail are more likely to succeed if they have the perseverance to continue to create themselves despite difficulty Life is not easy so don t take the easy approach Go hard or go home Life may require certain experiences in order for you to flourish in your passion The earlier you start to create yourself the better The world belongs to the young dedicated and focused individuals who use their strengths to dominate their lane You can do that I believe in you If you believe in you then you can achieve anything your mind can conceive I wrote this book to help you outline your passion talents skills and knowledge so you know who you are and who you want to be Then it is up to you to engage in the activities outlined in this book that will allow you fill the gap between who you are and who you want to be Enjoy
