Identification of Learning
Disabilities Renee Bradley, Louis Danielson, Daniel P. Hallahan, 2002-12-18 Identification of Learning Disabilities Research to Practice is the remarkable product of a learning disabilities summit conference convened by the Office of Special Education Programs OSEP in August 2001 and the activities following that summit Both the conference and this book were seen as important preludes to congressional reauthorization of the historic Individuals With Disabilities Education Act IDEA scheduled for 2002 and subsequent decision making surrounding implementation The OSEP conference brought together people with different perspectives on LD parents researchers practitioners and policymakers and resulted in this book which examines the research on nine key issues concerning the identification of children with learning disabilities Coverage includes alternative responses to treatment classification approaches processing deficit models and approaches to decision making Chapter Structure Each of the first nine chapters is organized around a lengthy issue oriented paper which presents the most current research on that topic These primary papers are then followed by four respondent papers that reflect a variety of viewpoints on the topic Summarizing Chapter A small group of researchers listed in the final chapter dedicated an enormous amount of time to summarizing the research and developing key consensus statements regarding the identification of children with learning disabilities Their work is sure to have a tremendous impact on future discussions in this area

Minority Students in Special and Gifted Education National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Board on Behavioral, Cognitive, and Sensory Sciences, Committee on Minority Representation in Special Education, 2002-08-30 Special education and gifted and talented programs were designed for children whose educational needs are not well met in regular classrooms From their inceptions these programs have had disproportionate representation of racial and ethnic minority students What causes this disproportion Is it a problem Minority Students in Special and Gifted Education considers possible contributors to that disparity including early biological and environmental influences and inequities in opportunities for preschool and K 12 education as well as the possibilities of bias in the referral and assessment system that leads to placement in special programs It examines the data on early childhood experience on differences in educational opportunity and on referral and placement The book also considers whether disproportionate representation should be considered a problem Do special education programs provide valuable educational services or do they set students off on a path of lower educational expectations Would students not now placed in gifted and talented programs benefit from raised expectations more rigorous classes and the gifted label or would they suffer failure in classes for which they are unprepared By examining this important problem in U S education and making recommendations for early intervention and general education as well as for changes in referral and assessment processes Minority Students in Special and Gifted
