Whanki Museum Kyu Sung Woo, 1999. The Whanki Museum in Seoul, Korea, is a museum that pays tribute to the contemporary Korean painter Kim Whanki. Commissioned by the Whanki Foundation, Kyu Sung Woo was chosen because of his friendship with Whanki and his respect for his art. The museum displays Whanki's work along with other contemporary artists in gallery spaces and includes gardens, a cafe, lectures halls, and studios. Carefully sited to explore the themes of moon, mountains, clouds, rocks, and trees found so often in Whanki's art, it is located in a ravine in a residential area in Seoul, facing Mount Pukasan to the south and Mount Inwangsan to the west. It is this integration between nature and artwork that makes the spectacular museum so significant. This and more is shown in this beautiful volume. National Airport Terminal Cesar Pelli, 2000. As it was being constructed, the Terminal at Washington

National Airport endured intense scrutiny by Congress, planning, and public interest groups, and air carriers. But solving the complex problem of creating a gateway to the nation's capital while simultaneously maintaining and enhancing operations at one of the country's busiest airports was a challenge capably managed by Cesar Pelli Associates Architects. This firm created a spectacular three-level terminal, approximately one million square feet, to accommodate sixteen million passengers each year. Readers will be thrilled and inspired with this closer look at the new Terminal that has caught the admiring eye and earned the appreciation of thousands who put it to the test each day. Cesar Pelli Associates is based in Washington, D.C.

Living Plans Klaus-Peter Gast, 2005. Ground plan concepts for contemporary international housing are no longer dominated by standardized solutions and stylistic attitudes. They derive mainly from their occupants' widely varying lifestyles. So new principles for advanced spatial solutions have emerged very recently. The present book presents innovative ways of living in over 100 realized buildings. The examples extend from cost-optimized minimal housing via classical detached family houses and lavishly furnished villas to high-density detached and terraced homes in the city and on the outskirts. These novel Living Plans are analysed using elaborate new drawings of the ground plans, sections, and spatial schemes, along with
