Women With Alcoholic Husbands Ambivalence And The Trap Of Codependency:

Women with Alcoholic Husbands Ramona M. Asher, 2018-02-01 In this important study of women with alcoholic husbands Asher vividly describes the process of coming to terms with a profound crisis in one's private life. From interviews with more than fifty women all of whom were participants in family treatment programs she assembles a composite picture of the experiences shared by wives of alcoholics. The testimony given by these women illustrates the steps they must take to regain control of their lives. The first step is figuring out what is happening and deciding what to do about it. Asher argues that the vogue of using the label codependent may actually hinder rather than facilitate emotional health. Led to think of themselves as addicted to their husbands' addictions, the wives of alcoholics may be persuaded that their own problems can't be overcome. But Asher shows these women can take command of their lives. Originally published in 1992. A UNC Press Enduring Edition. UNC Press Enduring Editions use the latest in digital technology to make available again books from our distinguished backlist that were previously out of print. These editions are published unaltered from the original and are presented in affordable paperback formats bringing readers both historical and cultural value. Women with Alcoholic Husbands Ramona Marie Asher, University Microfilms International, 1992

Women with Alcoholic Husbands Ramona M. Asher, 1992 The Alcoholic Society Reece McGee, 2017-07-12 Offering a unique theoretical foundation to understanding the lived experience of the active alcoholic, Denzin asserts that alcoholism is a disease in which negative emotions divide the self into warring inner factions fueled and distorted by alcoholic intoxication. The work is solidly anchored in a long-term study of the socialization experiences that began in alcoholism treatment centers and continue in Alcoholics Anonymous recovery programs. It covers the treatment process, the restructuring of self, the alcoholic's interaction with his recovery treatment program, and the modalities of self-transcendence that result from treatment. Biomedicalization of Alcohol Studies Lorraine Midanik, 2019-01-22 Biomedicalization is seen as the natural outgrowth of continued scientific progress, a movement towards improving the quality and quantity of life through scientific inquiries using biomedical perspectives and methods. This approach carries with it the assumption that with proper risk assessment, detection, and treatment, our lives can be lengthened, improved, and indeed more fulfilling. Yet critics question biomedicalization's ability to deliver. There is concern about how biomedicalization can change our traditional concepts of health as we discover more conditions for which we are at risk, and health maintenance is seen as the responsibility of the individual. The purpose of the book is to describe, assess, and critique biomedicalization and its influence as a larger social trend on the health field and specifically in the area of alcohol research, policy, and programs. Chapter 1 gives a broad overview of biomedicalization. Chapter 2 lays the groundwork for a historical understanding of how medicalization and biomedicalization have developed and are expressed in diverse fields such as aging, psychiatry, mental health, and women's health. Chapter 3 focuses in depth on alcoholism and assesses the development and assumptions underlying the two movements that have greatly influenced the substance abuse field. The medicalization of deviance and the growth of the disease model of alcoholism Chapter 4 discusses the origins and development of the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism NIAAA from its inception in 1970 Chapter 5 illustrates the growing biomedicalization that has occurred in the alcohol field prior to NIAAA's movement to the National Institute of Health NIH Chapter 6 assesses how Sweden has handled alcohol problems and currently funds alcohol research Chapter 7 concludes with a rationale for an expanded discourse between social scientists and biomedical researchers working on social problems particularly alcohol issues This volume will stimulate discussion of the processes by which social problems and specifically alcohol issues are framed managed and studied It will hold particular interest for researchers and students in the areas of alcohol studies social science and social welfare Lorraine Midanik is a professor in the School of Social Welfare University of California Berkeley

Coping with Alcohol and Drug Problems Jim Orford,Guillermina Natera,Alex Copello,Carol Atkinson,Jazmin Mora,Richard Velleman,Ian Crundall,Marcela Tiburcio,Lorna Templeton,Gwen Walley,2013-01-11 What difference does culture make Coping with Alcohol and Drug Problems The Experiences of Family Members in Three Contrasting Cultures aims to deepen and extend understanding of the experiences of family members trying to cope with the excessive drinking or drug taking of a relative Comprehensive and thoroughly up to date this book draws on the results of the cross cultural study of alcohol and drug problems in the family and places these results within the broader context of the international literature on the subject By investigating the similarities and differences in the experiences of family members in three parts of the world the authors reveal results which have far reaching implications for professional intervention and prevention Subjects covered include models of understanding how families continue to be pathologised and misunderstood how family members cope an integrated view of alcohol and drug problems in the family ways of empowering family members This book aims to demonstrate the possibility of a constructive alliance between professionals substance misusing relatives and the affected family members by thoroughly investigating the dilemmas that face family members and the lack of support they experience This fascinating insight into the impact of alcohol and drug problems on family members will be a valuable resource for all those who are interested in substance misuse in family and cultural contexts and particularly those who are interested in the treatment of alcohol and other drug problems

Bacchus in Romantic England A. Taylor,1998-11-11 Bacchus in Romantic England describes real drunkenness among writers and ordinary people in the Romantic age It grounds this reality in writings by doctors and philanthropists from 1780 onwards who describe an epidemic of drunkenness These commentators provide a context for the different ways that poets and novelists of the age represent drunkards Wordsworth writes poems and essays evaluating the drunken career of his model Robert Burns Charles Lamb's essays and letters reveal a real and metaphorical preoccupation with his own drinking as a way of disguising his personal suffering his companion Coleridge writes drinking songs essays about drunkenness and meditations about his own weakness of will that show both festive inebriety and consciousness of an inward abyss Coleridge

s son Hartley whose fate his father had prophesied experiences drunkenness as the life long humiliation described in his poems and letters Keats s complex dionysianism runs through Endymion and the late odes setting him at odds with his temperate hero Milton Men in the Romantic age such as Sheridan Byron Moore and Clare celebrate rowdy friendship with tales and songs of drinking Romantic women novelists such as Smith Edgeworth and Wollstonecraft depict these men stumbling home to abuse their wives Although excessive drinking is real in the period observers and participants can still maintain ambivalence about its power to release or to debase the human being

Codependent Forevermore Leslie Irvine,1999-10 She shows how Alex Paul Liz and many others create a sense of self by combining elements of autobiography culture and social structure all within the adopted language of psycho spirituality

Heroine Abuse Thomas Gaiton Marullo,2015-10-15 Fyodor Dostoevsky s first novel Netochka Nezvanova written in 1849 remains the least studied and understood of the writer s long fiction but it was a seedbed for many topics and themes that became hallmarks of his major works Specifically Netochka Nezvanova was the first in Dostoevsky s corpus to focus on the psychology of children and the first to feature a woman in a leading and narrative role It was also the first work in Russian literature to deal with problems of the family In Heroine Abuse Thomas Marullo contends that Netochka Nezvanova also provides a striking example of what psychologists today call codependency the ways often deviant and destructive in which individuals bond with people places and things as well as with images and ideas to cope with the vicissitudes of life Marullo shows how at age twenty eight Dostoevsky intuited and illustrated the workings of relationship addiction almost a century and a half before it became the scholarly focus of practitioners of mental health The moral monsters infernal women children adults and adult children who populate Netochka Nezvanova seek codependence in people places and things and in images ideas and ideals to satiate cravings for love dominance and control as well as to indulge in narcissism sexual perversion and other aberrant or alternative behaviors Indeed in no other work would Dostoevsky examine such phenomena as pedophilia and lesbianism with such abandon Racing from tie to tie bond to bond and caught in a debilitating loop that they claim to detest but sadomasochistically enjoy the characters in Netochka Nezvanova wreak havoc on themselves and the world They do so moreover with impunity their addictions moving them from momentary exultation as self styled extraordinary men and women through prolonged darkness and despair and once again to old and new addictions for physical and emotional release Readers of Heroine Abuse will see Netochka Nezvanova as a timeless model in depicting codependency in the world of the twenty first century as it did in St Petersburg in 1849 Marullo s original work will appeal to scholars and students of Russian and comparative fiction to doctors psychologists and therapists to laymen and women interested in relationship addiction and finally to codependents and relationship addicts of all types

Alcoholism and Other Drug Problems James E. Royce,1996

Genders 22 Ellen E. Berry,1995-07 The epidemic of mass rape in the former Yugoslavia has illustrated once again and in particularly brutal fashion the inextricable relationship between national politics sexual politics and body politics The nexus

of these three forces is highly charged in any culture at any time in history but especially so among cultures in which rapid even cataclysmic changes in material realities and national self conceptions are eroding or overwhelming previously secure boundaries The postcommunist moment in the so called Second World Central and Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union has dramatically exposed the opportunities and dangers that arise when the political cultural and economic foundations of a society are de and then re structured Gender roles and relations expressions of sexuality or attempts to recontain them representations of the body especially the female body and the larger cultural meanings it assumes are particularly marked sites to witness the performance of complex national dramas of crisis and change This groundbreaking volume turns its attention to the Second World specifically to such subjects as the birth of the sex media and porn industry in Russia Russian women and alcoholism cinema in post communist Hungary patriotism and gender in Poland sexual dissidence in Eastern Europe and women in the former Yugoslavia go to the Genders website

Emotions in Social Life Gillian Bendelow, Simon J Williams, 2002-09-11 The development of a sociology of emotions is crucial to our understanding of social life as they hold the key to our understanding of social processes and sociological investigation First published in 1997 Emotions in Social Life consolidates the sociology of emotions as a legitimate and viable field of enquiry It provides a comprehensive assessment of the sociology of emotions using work from scholars of international stature as well as newer writers in the field It presents new empirical research in conjunction with innovative and challenging theoretical material and will be essential reading for students of sociology health psychology anthropology and gender studies

Community Prevention of Alcohol Problems Marja Holmila, 1997-08-18 This book is an action research study of a community at work The community prevention project set the system in motion revealing its character and internal dynamics This process and its context are analyzed from a sociological point of view It is shown that the type of community prevention that really works and creates sustainable changes is neither value neutral nor given from above it adheres to reason rituals and emotions alike and requires subjective involvement of the people in the community

The Critical Waltz Rhonda S. Pettit, 2005 This is the first collection of critical essays devoted to the writing of Dorothy Parker Its four part organisation reflects a necessary shift away from her identity as primarily a humorist or Jazz Age literary celebrity

Circles of Recovery Keith Humphreys, 2003-10-30 Self help organizations across the world such as Alcoholics Anonymous Croix D Or The Links Moderation Management Narcotics Anonymous and SMART Recovery have attracted tens of millions of individuals seeking to address addiction problems with drugs or alcohol This book provides an integrative international review of research on these organizations focusing in particular on the critical questions of how they affect individual members and whether self help groups and formal health care systems can work together to combat substance abuse Keith Humphreys reviews over 500 studies into the efficacy of self help groups as an alternative and voluntary form of treatment In addition to offering a critical review of the international body of research in this area he provides practical strategies for how individual clinicians and treatment systems can interact with self help organizations in a way that improves outcomes for patients and for communities as a whole

Power, Powerlessness and Addiction Jim Orford, 2013-07-11 Addiction exercises enormous power over all those who are touched by it This book argues that power and powerlessness have been neglected in addiction studies and that they are a unifying theme that brings together different areas of research from the field including the disempowering nature of addiction effects on family community and the workplace epidemiological and ethnographic work studies of the legal and illegal supply and theories of treatment and change Examples of alcohol drug and gambling addiction are used to discuss the evidence that addiction is most disempowering where social resources to resist it are weakest the ways in which the dominant discourses about addictive behaviour encourage the attributing of responsibility for addiction to individuals and divert attention from the powerful who benefit from addiction and the ways in which the voices of those whose interests are least well served by addiction are silenced

The Deviant Mystique Scott Grills, Robert Prus, 2003-02-28 Adopting a symbolic interactionist perspective and building extensively on the ethnographic research tradition this book analyzes the mystique that often accompanies deviance by examining deviance as an ongoing feature of community life Because deviance is approached in nonprescriptive ways as a product of community interchange the emphasis here is on the ways in which deviance is defined engaged and regulated It is examined as the product of human association as something that is generated by people as they interact with one another assume viewpoints and initiatives and try to influence and resist one another within the context of community life Prus and Grills do not attempt to address various deviant behaviors instead they provide readers with a glimpse into how deviance is formulated practiced viewed and treated Who defines deviance Why What are the effects of deviance on others How do subcultures form These and other questions are answered in this unique approach to the study of deviance Providing a conceptually coherent framework for approaching the study of deviance as an ongoing feature of the human community the authors pay special attention to the many theaters of operation in which people come together and engage one another with respect to morality and deviance Recognizing that audience definitions of deviance are pivotal to community notions of reality and actual interaction consideration is given to the interrelated processes of defining deviance identifying deviants regulating deviance informally and formally and experiencing treatment and disinvolvement This thoughtful consideration serves to shed new light on the mystique that has been created around ideas about deviance

Doing Internet Research Steve Jones, 1998-11-03 Whether or not one believes the hyperbolic claims about the Internet being the biggest thing since the invention of the wheel the Internet is a medium with great consequences for social and economic life Doing Internet Research is written to help people discern in what ways it has commanded the public imagination and the methodological issues that arise when one tries to study and understand the social processes occurring within the Internet Each contributor to the volume offers original responses in the search for and critique of methods with which to study the Internet and the social political economic artistic communicative phenomena occurring within and around it This book provides encouragement for readers getting started with Internet research and also provides perspective on this new and ubiquitous communication medium

Challenging Codependency Marguerite Babcock, M. Christine McKay, 1995 In the field of addiction research and counselling there has been an increasing investment in the theory of codependency a theory that holds women partly responsible for perpetuating the alcoholism and addiction of their male partners This is the first anthology of feminist essays that presents a cogent critique of this theory The unifying feature of the eighteen essays collected here is the revelation that solid evidence contradicts rather than supports the theory of codependency Its assumptions are found to be unsubstantiated in theory and practice The contributors to the volume explore the history of codependency theory and look at reasons for its growing popularity in medical model politics A central theme emerges that codependency theory is essentially misogynist in nature the result of a male backlash against feminism The collection leaves no doubt that this backlash is effective These essays reveal the many ways that codependency therapy promotes advice and counselling that is damaging and ultimately fails women seeking help for their distress This anthology aimed at professionals as well as readers at large reveals a remarkable body of literature questioning the validity of popular addictions philosophy about women and the quality of the scholarship that supports those theories
