Bibliographic Guide to Music New York Public Library. Music Division, 2004

Music, Myth and Story in Medieval and Early Modern Culture Katherine Butler, Samantha Bassler, 2019 The complex relationship between myths and music is here investigated Myths and stories offer a window onto medieval and early modern musical culture Far from merely offering material for musical settings authoritative tales from classical mythology ancient history and the Bible were treated as foundations for musical knowledge Such myths were cited in support of arguments about the uses effects morality and preferred styles of music in sources as diverse as theoretical treatises defences or critiques of music art sermons educational literature and books of moral conduct Newly written literary stories too were believed capable of moral instruction and influence and were a medium through which ideas about music could be both explored and transmitted How authors interpreted and weaved together these traditional stories or created their own reveals much about changing attitudes across the period Looking beyond the well known figure of Orpheus this collection explores the myriad stories that shaped not only musical thought but also its styles techniques and practices The essays show that music itself performed and created knowledge in ways parallel to myth and worked in tandem with old and new tales to construct social political and philosophical views This relationship was not static however as the Enlightenment dawned the once authoritative gods became comic characters and myth became a medium for ridicule Overall the book provides a foundation for exploring myth and story throughout medieval and early modern culture and facilitating further study into the Enlightenment and beyond

Tonal Consciousness and the Medieval West Fiona McAlpine, 2008 Tonal consciousness in the sense of a clear intuition about which note or chord a piece of music will finish on is as much a part of our everyday experience of music as it is of contemporary music theory This book asks to what extent such tonal consciousness might have operated in the minds of musicians of the Middle Ages given the different tone world found in the modes of Gregorian chant in troubadour and trouvère music in Minnesang and in the early polyphony based upon chant The author's approach is analytical focusing on modality and balancing up to date concepts and methods of music analysis with those insights into their own compositional needs and processes that the people of the Middle Ages provided themselves through their writings about music The book examines a range of both music sources and theoretical sources from the ninth to the thirteenth centuries This is a ground breaking contribution both to the study of medieval music and to music analysis

American Book Publishing Record, 2007 Edward MacDowell's European Piano Music Paul Bertagnolli, 2024-09-10 Edward MacDowell's European Piano Music is a critical study of the piano music that MacDowell composed during his European sojourn 1876-1888 steeped in reception history and with a special emphasis of programmaticism The book expands current knowledge of MacDowell's childhood in four of the chapters based on his previously uninvestigated sheet music collection thereby achieving a better balance among the stages of MacDowell's life than is evident in most books of the life and works variety Prolific contemporaneous music criticism meticulously preserved in MacDowell's scrapbooks is likewise undervalued in the MacDowell literature but it furnishes penetrating observations about the expressive and programmatic content of numerous compositions especially as it was revealed to critics when MacDowell performed his own works Lastly the book offers explanations for why MacDowell immersed himself in European culture for decades and then at a crucial juncture in his career embraced diverse American heritages and worked toward a conception of a pluralistic music that was American in a creative sense The book's content and methodology would appeal most directly to specialists within the broad fields of musicology and music theory particularly within American art music and its composers nineteenth century music program music reception history and piano literature
