Laureate Joy Harjo gathers the work of more than 160 poets representing nearly 100 indigenous nations into the first historically comprehensive Native poetry anthology. This landmark anthology celebrates the indigenous peoples of North America, the first poets of this country whose literary traditions stretch back centuries. Opening with a blessing from Pulitzer Prize winner N. Scott Momaday, the book contains powerful introductions from contributing editors who represent the five geographically organized sections. Each section begins with a poem from traditional oral literatures and closes with emerging poets ranging from Eleazar, a seventeenth-century Native student at Harvard, to Jake Skeets, a young Din poet born in 1991, and including renowned writers such as Luci Tapahonso, Natalie Diaz, Layli Long Soldier, and Ray Young Bear. When the Light of the World Was Subdued, Our Songs Came Through offers the extraordinary sweep of Native literature without which no study of American poetry is complete. Pivotal Voices, Era of Transition gathers Rigoberto Gonzalez's most important essays and book reviews, many of which consider the work of emerging poets whose identities and political positions are transforming what readers expect from contemporary poetry. A number of these voices represent intersectional communities such as queer writers of color like Natalie Diaz, Danez Smith, Ocean Vuong, and Eduardo C. Corral, and many writers such as Carmen Gimenez Smith and David Tomas Martinez have deep connections to their Latino communities. Collectively, these writers are enriching American poetry to reflect a more diverse panoramic and socially conscious literary landscape. Also featured are essays on the poets' literary ancestors, including Juan Felipe Herrera, Alurista, and Francisco X. Alarcón, and speeches that address the need to leverage poetry as agency. This book fills a glaring gap in existing poetry scholarship by focusing exclusively on writers of color and particularly on Latino poetry. González makes important observations about the relevance, urgency, and exquisite craft of the work coming from writers who represent marginalized communities. His insightful connections between the Latino, African American, Asian American, and Native American literatures persuasively position them as a collective movement critiquing, challenging, and reorienting the direction of American poetry with their nuanced and politicized verse. González's inclusive vision covers a wide landscape of writers opening literary doors for sexual and ethnic minorities.

American Indian Literature

Kimberly Wieser-Weryackwe, 2025-07-10. Discover the essential people, works, movements, and themes in American Indian literature. American Indian literature is a varied and vibrant collection of Indigenous artistic expression. American Indian novelists, poets, essayists, and critics have, over the last four centuries, asserted powerful forms of intellectual and artistic sovereignty, writing in English while building on discrete tribal oral traditions and forms of storytelling. This encyclopedia introduces readers to the key historical and contemporary figures in American Indian literature and their defining works. From the fiery sermons of Methodist minister William A. Pess to the Pulitzer Prize-winning novel House Made of Dawn by N. Scott Momaday to the critically acclaimed and commercially successful novels of Louise Erdrich, this book illustrates the indelible and influential imprint American Indians have on the landscape of American letters. Readers are also introduced to the key themes and context of American Indian literature, exploring how it is inextricable from American literary history, the American literary canon, and the narrative of American history, not on the fringes of the American experience but central to it.

Musics Cynthia Cruz, 2019-04-25. Latina poets occupy an important place in today's literary landscape. Coming from diverse backgrounds, they share an understanding of what it means to exist within the margins of society. As artists, they possess a dedication to their craft and a commitment to experimentation. Their voices, sometimes lyrical, sometimes autobiographical, sometimes politically charged, are distinctly female. Whereas previous anthologies have merged the works of Latino and Latina poets, this collection is the first to showcase Latina poetry on its own terms. For years, readers have admired the poetry of prominent Latina authors Cherríe Moraga, Ana Castillo, and Sandra Cisneros. Building on their inspirational legacy, Other Musics heralds a new generation of Latina poets whose work blends traditional forms and styles with postmodern innovations. These poets do not fit neatly into one category. They come from all walks of life, from remarkably varied class, ethnic, occupational, and educational backgrounds. Their topics and concerns are wide-ranging. All of the poets, according to volume editor Cynthia Cruz are creating a new kind of music one that embraces the in between and bicultural world that Latina women must constantly straddle The fifteen poets featured in this anthology are Desir e Alvarez Karen Bradway Xochiquetzal Candelaria Diana Maria Delgado Natalie Diaz Carolina Ebeid Sandy Florian Carrie Fountain Leticia Hernandez Linares Ada Lim n Sheryl Luna Kristin Naca Deborah Paredez Emmy P rez and Carmen Gim nez Smith Along with an ample selection of each of their poetry Other Musics features an artist statement by each poet in which she discusses her work her writing practice how she became a writer and her views on the purpose and mission of poetry in the contemporary world
