Last night I received a copy of Signing with a heavy hand and heart Love Mommy A journey through fetal alcohol syndrome by Mrs Sondra A Torres and Miss Chanel E Torres from Ms Torres I opened it and couldn't put it down until I was finished This story of a young woman living with the effects of fetal alcohol syndrome a birth defect that is 100% preventable all pregnant women need to do is not drink when pregnant is moving sometimes funny and always inspirational I quickly grew to care about Chanel and her adoptive family Ms Torres creates a vivid picture of what it is like to live with and care for children with special needs In relatively few words Torres brings her family to life its struggles and its joys The feelings of love and joy are powerfully conveyed while not minimizing the challenges presented in raising a child with FAS As a teacher and parent I laughed and cried and wished I could meet this brave girl and her loving mother Torres is compassionate towards all including birth parents but my heart breaks for the children who struggle with this disability It is a daily battle for which there are some effective interventions but no cures I will say that Ms Torres left me more hopeful for these children than my experience as a teacher had her powerful home environment is definitely a plus for Chanel

When Mama Can't Kiss it Better, A Journey of Love, Loss and Acceptance Lori Gertz, 2024-10-21

WHEN MAMA CAN'T KISS IT BETTER is the raw account of a true story that shocked the nation in 2010 Gertz was America's most hated mother when news of a decision to place her adopted child in another family broke in the media Called out by many as an unfit mother and an evil woman who threw away her child she was catapulted into the national and international media Her daughter Emily suffered from fetal alcohol spectrum disorder reactive attachment disorder bipolar disorder and other disorders She had never bonded with Lori her father or her siblings and had begun a spiral of self destruction that often involved running into traffic and other dangerous behaviors While Gertz recalls feeling isolated accounts like hers are not rare Stories like When Mama Can't Kiss it Better are not told terribly often because of the stigma and finger pointing She writes The mother is always blamed first when a child suffers from extreme behavioral disabilities There are millions of parents who are struggling to raise children with behavioral disabilities who feel misunderstood unheard and judged and who want to be reassured that there are others like them With one in four Americans struggling with mental illness NIMH every year everyone in this country either lives with mental illness or knows someone who does The greatest tragedy is that 60% of the adults and 50% of the children suffering from mental disorders will receive absolutely NO services or support for their mental illness

WHEN MAMA CAN'T KISS IT BETTER covers The adoption of their daughter Emily early signs of trouble their birthmother's suicide the truth about her pregnancy and warnings about how to avoid what happened to the author and her family Raw and honest details about her daughter's rages suicide attempts and hospitalizations The turmoil that living with mental illness causes for everyone in the home and how it affects siblings and marriages The difficulty in receiving support from physicians educators clinicians The author's increasing desperation to find answers and help as rages and impulsivity became safety issues Being judged by doctors schools and outsiders as the problem while her daughter collected diagnosis after diagnosis The painful decision to place her daughter in another family and how she came to accept that she had to do the unthinkable Parents worldwide waging verbal attacks on her since if the fault belonged to Gertz alone it couldn't happen to anyone else Note from the Author I spent the better part of six years writing this book which began as the only way I could cope with what was happening in our lives I just couldn't believe the lack of resources there were when I reached out for them so vociferously and started documenting what was happening inside our family if not only to maintain my sanity I am passionate about telling my story to help increase understanding of the enormous challenges parents of special needs children face in a culture that believes that motherly love and perseverance can cure all ills For those on similar paths the story of my journey to a sense of peace within the context of facing unrealized dreams human limitations broken hearts and the unfair circumstances of life may help them find that same place of peace in the tough decisions within their own lives I pray this book will bring attention to the need to better support parents and kids with mental illness and other invisible disabilities and I am deeply grateful for the opportunity to call attention to such pressing societal issues

The Accomplice Melissa Jacobus, 2021-04-23 Natalia looked to me for help telling the woman that she had a disability I was her mother and she needed me to speak on her behalf The woman belittling Natalia told her she didn't look like she had a disability and she wouldn't allow me to help Here's how the conversation went Well honey how old are you I'm twenty Natalia said Well are you going to have Mommy helping you when you turn twenty one I jumped in So how old are you Thirty five she said Oh I see you are wearing glasses Are you going to take those glasses off when you turn thirty six The woman called her supervisor While we were waiting for the supervisor Natalia said something very thoughtful about her challenges Mom things are hard for me I need assistance just to get the assistance When Melissa Jacobus adopted her children she believed all her prayers for a family had finally been answered But while other parents were dealing with the usual challenges that come with raising children Melissa experienced those challenges tenfold The Accomplice follows several years of her life as two of her children now grown in the eyes of society yet still cloaked in an invisible disability struggle to survive a world that doesn't understand them their needs or their disability Substance abuse homelessness jail time and worse can be all too common outcomes for those impacted by FASD also known as Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorders As Melissa tries to advocate and safeguard her children from these outcomes she realizes her ability to help them and others is at the mercy of an uninformed society The Accomplice is a call to action for the country to acknowledge FASD for what it is a developmental disability that affects millions and to help society recognize that this invisible disability is more than visible it's a crisis
