Henty,2015-07-09 Excerpt from With the Allies to Peking A Tale of the Relief of the Legations The campaign which ended with the relief of the Peking Legations is unique in its way carried on as it was by an army made up of almost all the nationalities of Europe The quarrel originated in the rising of a mob of ruffians who were known by us under the name of Boxers The movement spread like wildfire and soon developed into the whole sale massacre of the missionaries of Northern China The Empress seeing the formidable nature of the rising and hoping to gain by it the expulsion of all foreigners from her dominions allied herself with the Boxers besieged the various Legations and attacked Tientsin which stands upon the river by which the trade with Peking is carried on Admiral Seymour with a force of little over a thousand men marched to the relief of the Legations The railway however was cut both before and behind him and after severe fighting he retired upon a Chinese fortress a few miles from Tientsin where he maintained himself until he was relieved by another force which had arrived by sea and had destroyed the forts at the mouth of the river Tientsin itself was captured by the allies after one day s hard fighting and the army then advanced to the relief of the Legations The opposition they met with was trifling in comparison with that which they had encountered at Tientsin and they arrived at Peking not a moment too soon About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
