Wagner Basic Architecture:

Otto Wagner August Sarnitz, Peter Gössel, 2005

The Architecture of Red Vienna, 1919-1934 Eve Blau, 1999

Encyclopedic in its coverage this seminal work focuses on the architecture of Prague from the turn of the century to the end of the Second World War a rich matrix within which to place the figures who created the powerful innovative spirits of modern Czech architecture The book documents the architects structures and theoretical underpinnings that helped to shape Prague s cultural heritage and present day artistic spirit

Otto Wagner Harry Mallgrave, 1996-07-11 These essays explore the parameters of Wagner s rich literary and architectural creations

Architecture Re-assembled Trevor Garnham, 2013-04-26 Beginning from the rise of modern history in the eighteenth century this book examines how changing ideas in the discipline of history itself has affected architecture from the beginning of modernity up to the present day It reflects upon history in order to encourage and assist the reader in finding well founded principles for architectural design This is not simply another history of architecture nor a history of histories Setting buildings in their contemporaneous ideas about history it spans from Fischer von Erlach to Venturi and Rossi and beyond to architects working in the fallout from both the Modern Movement Aalto Louis Kahn Aldo van Eyck and Post modernism such as Rafael Moneo and Peter Zumthor It shows how Soane Schinkel and Stirling amongst others made a meaningful use of history and contrasts this with how a misreading of Hegel has led to an abuse of history and an uncritical flight to the future This is not an armchair history but a lively discussion of our place between past and future that promotes thinking for making

The Ethical Function of Architecture Karsten Harries, 1998-07-31 Can architecture help us find our place and way in today s complex world Can it return individuals to a whole to a world to a community Developing Giedion s claim that contemporary architecture s main task is to interpret a way of life valid for our time philosopher Karsten Harries answers that architecture should serve a common ethos But if architecture is to meet that task it first has to free itself from the dominant formalist approach and get beyond the notion that its purpose is to produce endless variations of the decorated shed In a series of cogent and balanced arguments Harries questions the premises on which architects and theorists have long relied premises which have contributed to architecture s current identity crisis and marginalization He first criticizes the aesthetic approach focusing on the problems of decoration and ornament He then turns to the language of architecture If the main task of architecture is indeed interpretation in just what sense can it be said to speak and what should it be speaking about Expanding upon suggestions made by Martin Heidegger Harries also considers the relationship of building to the idea and meaning of dwelling Architecture Harries observes has a responsibility to community but its ethical function is inevitably also political He concludes by examining these seemingly paradoxical functions

Relations in Architecture August Sarnitz, 2020-05-05 The title of the book sets the two fields of activity pursued by the architect architectural historian and theorist August Sarnitz building and writing in a reciprocal relation the context to what has been built emerges in the process of writing just as the context to what has been written emerges in the process of building The structure of the book follows precisely this reciprocity an essay about architectural history and Big Data is followed by three on the topics of urban development social housing and the fiction of space A number of influential Viennese architects appear as well Frank Kiesler Hollein and Prix The topics of housing design and furniture are all illustrated with Sarnitz s own projects the end of the book is dedicated to architectural photography which is especially important to Sarnitz in his capacity as publicist The richly illustrated book is the first to document Sarnitz s work as author designer exhibition designer architect and photographer Modern

Mysticism and Architecture Roger Paden, 2007-01-11 Mysticism and Architecture Wittgenstein and the Palais Storborough is a multi disciplinary study of the Viennese palais that the philosopher Ludwig Wittgenstein helped design and build for his sister shortly after he abandoned philosophy for more practical activities and during the period that supposedly separates his early from his late philosophy Weaving together discussions of a number of social political and cultural developments that helped to give fin de siècle Vienna its character including the late modernization of Austrian society industry and economy the construction of Vienna's Ringstrasse the slow decay of the Hapsburg monarchy and the failure of Austrian liberalism as well as Tolstoy's religiously based ethical views Adolf Loos's critique of architectural ornament Karl Kraus's analysis of Vienna's decadence Kierkegaard's and Nietzsche's views on the importance of indirect communication Otto Weininger's theory of the nature and duty of genius Camillo Sitte and Otto Wagner's dispute over good urban form Schopenhauer's aesthetic theories and his Eastern philosophy of life and Russell and Frege's philosophical and logical theories the book presents a philosophical biography of Wittgenstein reminiscent of but substantially different from Janik and Toulmin's Wittgenstein's Vienna This philosophical biography underpins a new interpretation of the house which argues that the house belongs to neither architectural Modernism nor Postmodernism but is instead caught between those two movements This analysis of the house in turn grounds a new interpretation of Wittgenstein's philosophical works that emphasizes their mystical nature and practical purpose Finally this interpretation shows the unity of these works while simultaneously suggesting an underlying flaw namely that they arise from two fundamentally opposed worldviews present in Vienna during Wittgenstein's youth aesthetic modernism and critical modernism

Architecture, 1925 Modern Architecture Otto Wagner, 1988 In 1896 Otto Wagner's Modern Architecture shocked the European architectural community with its impassioned plea for an end to eclecticism and for a modern style suited to contemporary needs and ideals utilizing the nascent constructional technologies and materials Through the combined forces of his polemical pedagogical and professional efforts this determined newly appointed professor at the Vienna Academy of Fine Arts emerged in the late 1890s along with such contemporaries as Charles Rennie Mackintosh in Glasgow and Louis Sullivan in Chicago as one of the leaders of the revolution soon to be identified as the Modern Movement Wagner's historic manifesto is now presented in a new English translation the first in almost ninety years based on the expanded 1902 text and noting emendations made to the 1896 1898 and 1914 editions In his introduction Dr Harry Mallgrave examines Wagner's tract against the backdrop of nineteenth century theory critically exploring the affinities of Wagner's revolutionary plan with the German eclectic debate of the 1840s the materialistic tendencies of the 1870s and 1880s and the emerging cultural ideology of modernity Modern Architecture is one of those rare works in the literature of architecture that not only proclaimed the dawning of a new era but also perspicaciously and cogently shaped the issues and the course of its development it defined less the personal aspirations of one individual and more the collective hopes and dreams of a generation facing the sanguine promise of a new century

When Modern Was Green David Haney, 2010 Today contemporary landscape design is increasingly drawing from ideas of sustainability and ecological stability Not in fact new the foundations of this approach stem from early twentieth century Germany where architects and planners were already beginning to use the design concepts which are now referred to as green This ecological school of thought was driven by modernist landscape architect Leberecht Migge 1881-1935 Working with significant modernist architects of the age including Martin Elsaesser Ernst May Bruno Taut and Martin Wagner Migge was responsible for some of the most important housing and planning projects of the age the mass housing settlements or Großsiedlungen of Frankfurt Main and Berlin Using biotechnic principles to integrally link dwelling and garden Migge was able to recycle household waste to grow foodstuffs through the use of innovative infrastructure and open space planning Also a skilled park and garden designer he drew together green and architectural elements in his garden architectonic approach David H Haney's book is the first to fully document Leberecht Migge's life and work Using Migge as a starting point Haney addresses conceptual and theoretical aspects of German ecological design challenging conventional assumptions about modernism and ecological design history With 200 illustrations and photographs When Modern Was Green is ideal for students and academics interested in modernism landscape history and higher level German studies

Basics of Perception in Architecture Jörg Kurt Grütter, 2020-10-14 This book makes the extremely complex process of architectural perception far more transparent and thus contributes to a better understanding of our built environment Why is there so much debate about the appearance of our built environment about the aesthetics of architecture today Why do opinions about the aesthetic quality of buildings often diverge extremely even among experts Why can't we agree on architecture on what is beautiful and what is not Most areas of construction such as statics and building physics are measurable and can therefore be substantiated with objective arguments Yet this does not apply to the unquantifiable aesthetics of architecture Accordingly judgments on aesthetics are always subject specific and strongly dependent on the viewer Nevertheless the aesthetics of architecture is not just a matter of taste Many relationships between buildings as objects and viewers as subjects can be determined objectively with the help of perceptual psychology and information theory as this book demonstrates offers a range of heretofore unavailable writings in English translation on the subjects of art architecture and aesthetics Teige s principal work on modernism now in English for the first time is supplemented by a selection of his other writings on art and architecture City, Climate, and Architecture Sascha Roesler,2025-01-27 Second and revised edition The publication rethinks climate control a key concern of the discipline of architecture through the lens of city climate phenomena over the course of the 20th century Based on a history of climate control on urban scales it promotes the integration of indoors and outdoors in order to reduce environmental and thermal loads in cities Just as heating and cooling practices inside the buildings are affecting the urban climate outdoors urban heat islands are influencing the energy requirements and thermal conditions inside the buildings While the first part of the book focuses on the interwar period in Europe the publication s second part considers examples from all over the globe tracing the growing significance of ecological thinking for the design of urban environments Main outcome of a six years research project on architecture and urban climate funded by the Swiss National Science Foundation New and revised edition KLIMA POLIS a series highlighting design driven approaches to urban climates across the globe Key Modern Architects Andrew Higgott,2018-05-31 Key Modern Architects provides an accessible and thought provoking introduction to the work of the most significant architects of the modern era Fifty short chapters introduce fifty key architects from Le Corbusier to Aldo Van Eyck to Zaha Hadid exploring their most influential buildings and developing a critique of each architect s work within a broader cultural and historical context The selection represents the most influential architects working from 1890 to the present those most likely to be taught on survey courses in modern architectural history along with some lesser known names with an equal claim to influence Emphasis is placed on a critical and interpretative approach allowing the student to position each architect in a cultural and intellectual context quickly and easily Artistic technical social and intellectual developments are brought to the fore built and unbuilt projects writings and influences This approach brings to light the ideology behind architectural work offering insights into each architect s working practice Helps students to develop a critical approach to understanding modern architectural history One chapter per architect meaning chapters may be read individually as a concise resource for the study of an architect or together as a coherent book length history of the whole period of modern architecture Chapters are supported by boxed lists of each architect s most significant projects along with suggestions for further reading as a springboard to further study and research Combining the clarity and accessibility of a textbook with in depth reading and a critical approach Key Modern Architects provides an invaluable resource for both the classroom and for independent study in architectural and art history Building Theories Franca Trubiano,2022-11-25 Building Theories speaks to the value of words in architecture It addresses the author s fascination with the voices of architects engineers builders and craftspeople whose ideas about building have been captured in text It discusses the content of treatises essays articles and letters by those who have been throughout history committed to the art of building In this Building Theories argues for the return of a practice of architectural theory that is set amongst building buildings and builders This journey of close reading reinterprets the words of Vitruvius Alberti de L Orme Le Camus de M zi res Boull e Laugier Rondelet Semper Viollet le Duc H bsch B tticher Berlage Muthesius Wagner Behrendt Gropius and Arup With chapters dedicated to texts from antiquity the Renaissance and the nineteenth century and with a critical eye on architectural theory popularized in the Anglo Saxon world post 1968 readers are introduced to a wider more inclusive definition of architectural ideas Building Theories considers how contemporary scholarship has steered away from the topic of building in its reluctance to admit that both design and construction are central to its concerns In response it argues for a realignment of architecture with the concept of techn with a dual commitment to fabrica e ratio with a productive return to l art de bien bastir with the accurate translation of the term Baukunst and with an appeal to the architect s composite mind Students practitioners and educators will identify in Building Theories ways of thinking that strive for the integration of design with construction reject the supposed primacy of the former over the latter recognize how aesthetics are an insufficient scaffold for subtending the subject of architectural ethics and accept without reservation that material transformations have always been at the origins of built form Life of Richard Wagner Carl Friedrich Glasenapp,1903
