Daily Graphic Ransford Tetteh, 2014-09-12 Junior Graphic Mavis Kitcher (Mrs), 2014-11-05 Teacher Education at the Edge Tonya Huber, James G. O'Meara, 2019-12-01 International Education Inquiries is a book series dedicated to realizing the global vision of Education 2030. This vision involves ensuring inclusive and equitable quality education and promoting lifelong learning opportunities for all. We expect the series will be a leading forum for pioneers redefining the global discussion about the people, places and perspectives shaping Education 2030 outcomes. Education 2030 topics of interest include but are not limited to: Improving access to quality early childhood development care and pre-primary education; Ensuring equal access for all women and men to affordable and quality education; Increasing the number of youth and adults who have skills relevant for sustainable living and livelihoods; Ensuring equal access for the vulnerable including persons with disabilities, indigenous peoples and children in vulnerable situations; Achieving levels of literacy and numeracy required to engage in communities and employment; Acquiring the knowledge and skills needed to promote sustainable development including Human right Gender equality; Promotion of a culture of peace and non-violence; Global citizenship education; The appreciation of cultural diversity and of culture's contributions to sustainable development; Providing safe, non-violent, inclusive and effective learning environments for all; Recruiting, preparing, supporting and retaining quality teachers. Community Participation in School Management Kazuro Shibuya, 2022-09-12 Nobody denies that trust in schools is key to success in generating any educational outcomes. However, trust is often eroded, resulting in conflicts, alienation and differentiation among school-level stakeholders. This book analyses school-based management (SBM) of education through the lens of relational trust in the context of Ghana, revealing how community participation in school management leads to educational outcomes. Conducting quantitative analysis of headteacher questionnaires from public basic schools and qualitative analysis of case study schools in the Akatsi South District of Ghana, Shibuya offers critical insights into building sustainable relationships between individual households and geographical school communities. He argues it is critical to highlight relational trust as an analytical tool to examine relationships between actors and factors in school management. The research finds that trust in schools is a two-way mechanism and the mutuality of expectations and obligations among stakeholders is essential if children's learning outcomes are to improve. With its mixed methods approach, this book will be a valuable resource for scholars in comparative education, those in educational development and those interested in African contexts. War, Women and Post-conflict Empowerment Josephine Beoku-Betts, Fredline A. M'Cormack-Hale, 2022-01-13 Since the 1991-2002 civil conflict ended in Sierra Leone, the country has failed to translate the accomplishments of women's involvement in bringing the war to an end.

into meaningful political empowerment This is in marked contrast to other post conflict countries which have increased the political participation of women in elected and appointed office increased the representation of women in leadership positions and enacted constitutional reforms promoting women s rights Written by Sierra Leonean and Africanist scholars and experts from a broad range of disciplines this unique volume analyses the historical and contextual factors influencing women s political economic and social development in the country In drawing on a diverse array of case studies from health to education refugees to international donors the contradictions successes and challenges of women s lives in a post conflict environment are revealed making this an essential book for anyone involved in women and development Junior Graphic

The Routledge International Handbook of Intercultural Arts Research Pamela Burnard,Elizabeth

Mackinlay,Kimberly Powell,2016-01-08 For artists scholars researchers educators and students of arts theory interested in culture and the arts a proper understanding of the questions surrounding interculturality and the arts requires a full understanding of the creative methodological and interconnected possibilities of theory practice and research The International Handbook of Intercultural Arts Research provides concise and comprehensive reviews and overviews of the convergences and divergences of intercultural arts practice and theory offering a consolidation of the breadth of scholarship practices and the contemporary research methodologies methods and multi disciplinary analyses that are emerging within this new field Mothers' Non-Farm Entrepreneurship and Child Secondary Education in Rural Ghana Janssens, Charlotte, Van den Broeck, Goedele, Maertens, Miet, Lambrecht, Isabel,2018-01-31 In this paper we empirically analyse the impact of mothers non farm entrepreneurship on child secondary school enrollment in rural Ghana We use nationally representative quantitative data from the sixth round of the Ghana Living Standard Survey GLSS and qualitative data from focus group discussions throughout rural Ghana We apply instrumental variable estimation techniques with instruments that pass weak and overidentification tests We test interaction effects between mothers non farm entrepreneurship and other important determinants of child schooling We use qualitative data to support our quantitative findings Children, Childhood, and the Future Andrea Kleeberg-Niepage,2020-01-10 Although most of the world s children live in the Global South much of the corpus of scientific knowledge which forms the basis of the current notion of good childhood worldwide is drawn from research on Western middle class children Even cross cultural research often applies the Western model of childhood as the standard to which others must correspond This volume serves to bridge this gap by both bringing up significant features of the development and socialisation of children in African countries and presenting cross cultural procedures which help to discuss and develop differentiated and joint ideas about childhood instead of implementing one sided standards which are disconnected from most children s lives The Politics of Education in Developing Countries Samuel Hickey,Naomi Hossain,2019 This book focuses on how politics shapes the capacity and commitment of elites to tackle the learning crisis in six developing countries It deploys a new conceptual framework to show how the type of political settlement shapes the level of elite commitment and state capacity to improving learning outcomes Modern Mathematics Dirk De Bock,2023-03-08 The international New Math developments between about 1950 through 1980 are regarded by many mathematics educators and education historians as the most historically important development in curricula of the twentieth century It attracted the attention of local and international politicians of teachers and of parents and influenced the teaching and learning of mathematics at all levels kindergarten to college graduate in many nations After garnering much initial support it began to attract criticism But as Bill Jacob and the late Jerry Becker show in Chapter 17 some of the effects became entrenched This volume edited by Professor Dirk De Bock of Belgium provides an outstanding overview of the New Math modern mathematics movement Chapter authors provide exceptionally high quality analyses of the rise of the movement and of subsequent developments within a range of nations The first few chapters show how the initial leadership came from mathematicians in European nations and in the United States of America The background leaders in Europe were Caleb Gattegno and members of a mysterious group of mainly French pure mathematicians who since the 1930s had published under the name of a fictitious Nicolas Bourbaki In the United States there emerged during the 1950s various attempts to improve U S mathematics curricula and teaching especially in secondary schools and colleges This side of the story climaxed in 1957 when the Soviet Union succeeded in launching Sputnik the first satellite Undoubtedly this is a landmark publication in education The foreword was written by Professor Bob Moon one of a few other scholars to have written on the New Math from an international perspective The final epilogue chapter by Professor Geert Vanpaemel a historian draws together the overall thrust of the volume and makes links with the general history of curriculum development especially in science education including recent globalization trends The Impacts of Language and Literacy Policy on Teaching Practices in Ghana Philomena Osseo-Asare,2021-03-15 This text critically examines changes in Ghanaian language and literacy policy following independence in 1957 to consider its impacts on early literacy teaching. By adopting a postcolonial theoretical perspective, the text interrogates the logic behind policy changes which have prioritised English local language or biliteracy. It draws on data from interviews with teachers and researcher observation to demonstrate how policies have influenced teaching and learning. Dr Osseo Asare's findings inform the development of a conceptual framework which highlights the socio-cultural factors that impact the literacy and biliteracy of young children in Ghana, offering solutions to help teachers combat the challenges of frequent policy changes. This timely monograph will prove to be an essential resource not only for researchers working on education policies, teacher education and English language learning in postcolonial Ghana, but also for those looking to identify the thematic and methodological nuances of studying literacy and education in postcolonial contexts.

History Can Bite Denise Bentrovato, Karina V. Korostelina, Martina Schulze, 2016-10-10. The volume provides critical insights into approaches adopted by curricula, textbooks and teachers around the world when teaching about the past in the wake of civil war and mass violence, discerning some of the key challenges and opportunities involved in such endeavors. The contributors discuss ways in which history teaching has acted as a political tool that has at times been guilty of exacerbating inter-group conflicts. It also highlights history teaching as an important component of reconciliation attempts, showcasing examples of curricular reform and textbook revision after conflict and discussing how the contestations and difficulties surrounding such processes were addressed in different post-conflict societies.

Adaptation to Climate Change and Variability in Rural West Africa Joseph A. Yaro, Jan Hesselberg, 2016-04-12. This book presents conceptual and empirical discussions of adaptation to climate change variability in West Africa. Highlighting different countries' experiences in adaptation by different socio-economic groups and efforts at building their adaptive capacity, it offers readers a holistic understanding of adaptation on the basis of contextual and generic sources of adaptive capacity. Focusing on adaptation to climate change variability is critical because the developmental challenges West Africa faces are increasingly intertwined with its climate history. Today, climate change is a major developmental issue for agrarian rural communities with high percentages of the population earning a living directly or indirectly from the natural environment. This makes them highly vulnerable to climate-driven ecological change in addition to threats in the broader political-economic context. It is imperative that rural people adapt to climate change, but their ability to successfully do so may be limited by competing risks and vulnerabilities. As such, elucidating those vulnerabilities and sources of strength with regard to the adaptive capacities needed to support successful adaptation and avoid maladaptation is critical for future policy formulation. Though the empirical discussion is geographically based on West Africa, its applicability in terms of the processes, structures, needs, strategies and recommendations for policy transcends the region and provides useful lessons for understanding adaptation broadly in the developing world.

Community Participation with Schools in Developing Countries Mikiko Nishimura, 2020-08-04 The Sustainable Development Goals SDGs 2016 2030 set by the United Nations in 2015 restated the importance of universal primary education for all and specifically discuss quality equity and inclusion in basic education To achieve this the role of community has been emphasized and participation has become a buzzword in international development over the past several decades Despite the growing attention to community participation in school management previous literature has shown mixed results in terms of its actual practice and its impacts on quality equity and inclusion in education This book deepens the contextual understanding of community in developing countries and its involvement in schools in general and its impact on quality equity and inclusion of school education in particular By presenting various case studies in Asia Africa Latin America and a post conflict state in Europe the book analyses commonalities and differences in the ways communities are involved and cast their impacts and challenges The book contributes knowledge on the ways in which community involvement could work in developing countries the detailed processes and factors that make community participation work in different dimensions and remaining challenges that scholars and practitioners still need to be concerned and mindful in the field This book will appeal to both researchers and practitioners who are concerned about the community participation approach for the SDGs

Education, Privatisation and Social Justice Ian Macpherson, Susan Robertson, Geoffrey Walford, 2014-05-12 The involvement of private actors in education is not new yet in the last decade critical issues have arisen that demand close scrutiny This volume explores emerging forms of the private through case studies from Africa South Asia and South East Asia and makes three related observations First what is new about these manifestations is their scale scope and penetration into almost all aspects of the education endeavour from the administrative apparatus to policymaking and from formal provision in education settings to out of school activities such as private tutoring Second what is particularly controversial about these developments is how education itself is being recast as a sector it is increasingly being opened up to profit making and trade and to agenda setting by private commercial interests Third the learner is increasingly conceptualised as a consumer and education a consumer good The case studies therefore enable us to see more clearly how different forms of the private in education alter what is at stake for whom and with what outcomes and the consequences for individuals and societies In turn these raise the very important question about what they mean for our conceptualisations of education learning and teaching on the one hand and for education as a site and means for emancipation on the other These are profound social justice concerns and ones that make this volume distinctive This book sets out to address these hard but urgent questions and will be of interest to academics and students of education education researchers government personnel and policymakers
