Women in the Field Marcia Bonta, 1991 Includes a section on Maria Martin a young woman from Charleston who married Audubon's youngest son John Woodhouse and who assisted in the artwork for volumes 2 and 4 of Audubon's The birds of America and acted as Bachman's amanuensis during his collaboration with Audubon on The quadrupeds of North America Page 9

American Women Afield Marcia Bonta, 1995 Armed with hand lenses and opera glasses traveling on foot by buggy or model T they explored thousands of miles of deserts forests beaches and jungles They were pioneering women naturalists who observed studied and experimented then returned to write up their findings What resulted were exquisitely written and scientifically accurate accounts of their explorations into natural science a field long dominated by men Marcia Myers Bonta has collected the most charming and sensitive writings of twenty five women naturalists of the late nineteenth through early twentieth centuries and supplemented them with well researched biographical profiles From Susan Fenimore Cooper's early warnings about the profligate use of natural resources to Mary Treat's tenacious defense of her scientific discoveries from Alice Eastwood's defiance of convention and Caroline Dormon's Lucy Braun's and Rachel Carson's impassioned pleas to save the earth American Women Afield catalogs the determination and devotion of these early scientists and acknowledges their invaluable contributions to ornithology entomology botany agrostology and ecology Each excerpt in this book reveals the important role these women played not only as writers but as popularizers of nature study at a time when very little literature on this subject was available to the general public Whether scientist or generalist the reader will discover insights into their methods of field work as they tame wasps camp out in jungles climb unnamed mountaintops or sit patiently in the woods for hours Written as a companion book to Bonta's earlier published Women in the Field America's Pioneering Women Naturalists American Women Afield adds an additional dimension to female scientific history by presenting the authors own words Luckily for the reader Bonta has scoured libraries museums and private collections to uncover letters out of print journal articles field notes and selected book chapters from the recesses of academia Each selection is unique in style tone and subject and clearly shows not only the authors love of nature but their desire to communicate that love to others American Women Afield is a charming informative and revealing account of pioneering women mentors whose lives have been forgotten for far too long philosophy from teaching to social welfare from science to the military and how and why those individuals became either marginalized or discounted in a mostly patriarchal world These sterling contributors scholars from a variety of disciplines rhetoricians historians compositionists and literary critics employ feminist research methods in examining women s work rhetorical agency and the construction of female reputation By recovering these voices and remembering the women whose contributions have made our civilization better and more whole this work seeks to ensure that women s voices are never silenced again
