 "I have often bought myself beer for your money and food my house, too."

And then he demands more money from his daughter.

"I have none," she now says to him reproachfully. "I always give you money and still you don't buy a cow for it." But she only says that; she gives him a part of her savings anyway. She gives more to her mother, who then secretly buys her a cow or a goat, but she keeps the secret of it.

Sexual Diversity in Africa S.N. Nyeck, Marc Epprecht, 2013-10-01 How does one address homophobia without threatening majority rule democracy and freedoms of speech and faith How does one Africanize sexuality research empirically and theoretically in an environment that is not necessarily welcoming to African scholars In Sexual Diversity in Africa contributors critically engage with current debates about sexuality and gender identity as well as with contentious issues relating to methodology epistemology ethics and pedagogy They present a tapestry of issues that testify to the complex nature of sexuality sexual practices and gender performance in Africa Essays examine topics such as the well established same sex networks in Accra and Bamako African traditions defined by European observers and the bizarre mix of faith pharmaceuticals and pseudo science used to cure homosexual men Their evidence also demonstrates the indefensibility of over simplified constructions of homosexuality versus heterosexuality modern versus traditional Africa versus the West and progress from the African closet towards Western models of out politics all of which have tainted research on same sex practices and scientific studies of HIV AIDS Asserting that the study of sexuality is intellectually and politically sustainable in Africa Sexual Diversity in Africa contributes to the theorization of sexualities by presenting a more sensitive and knowledgeable study of African experiences and perspectives Contributors include Olajide Akanji Christophe Broqua Cheryl Cooky Serena Owusua Dankwa Shari L Dworkin Marc Epprecht Melissa Hackman Notisha Massaquoi Crystal Munthree Kathleen O Mara Stella Nyanzi S N Nyeck Vasu Reddy Amanda Lock Swarr and Lisa Wiebesiek Readings in Sexualities from Africa Rachel Spronk, Thomas Hendriks, 2020-02-04 Images and stories about African sexuality abound in today s globalized media Frequently old stereotypes and popular opinion inform these stories and sex in the media is predominately approached as a problem in need of solutions and intervention The authors gathered here refuse an easy characterization of African sexuality and instead seek to understand the various erotic realities sexual practices and gendered changes taking place across the continent They present a nuanced and comprehensive overview of the field of sex and sexuality in Africa to serve as a guide though the quickly expanding literature This collection offers a set of texts that use sexuality as a prism for studying how communities coalesce against the canvas of larger political and economic contexts and how personal lives evolve therein Scholars working in Africa the U S and Europe reflect on issues of representation health and bio politics same sex relationships and identity transactional economies of sex religion and tradition and the importance of pleasure and agency This multidimensional reader provides a comprehensive view of sexuality from an African perspective

Heterosexual Africa? Marc Epprecht, 2008-08-15 Heterosexual Africa The History of an Idea from the Age of Exploration to the Age of AIDS builds from Marc Epprecht s previous book Hungochani which focuses explicitly on same sex desire in southern Africa to explore the historical processes by which a singular heterosexual identity for Africa was constructed by anthropologists ethnopsychologists colonial officials African elites and most recently health care workers seeking to address the HIV AIDS pandemic This is an eloquently written accessible book based on a rich and diverse range of sources that will find enthusiastic audiences in classrooms and in the general public Epprecht argues that Africans just like people all over the world have always had a range of sexualities and sexual identities Over the course of the last two centuries however African societies south of the Sahara have come to be viewed as singularly heterosexual Epprecht carefully traces the many routes by which this singularity this heteronormativity became a dominant culture In telling a fascinating story that will surely generate lively debate Epprecht makes his project speak to a range of literatures queer theory the new imperial history African social history queer and women s studies and biomedical literature on the HIV AIDS pandemic He does this with a light enough hand that his story is not bogged down by endless references to particular debates Heterosexual Africa aims to understand an enduring stereotype about Africa and Africans It asks how Africa came to be defined as a homosexual free zone during the colonial era and how this idea not only survived the transition to independence but flourished under conditions of globalization and early panicky responses to HIV AIDS

Sexuality and Social Justice in Africa Marc Epprecht, 2013-07-11 The persecution of people in Africa on the basis of their assumed or perceived homosexual orientation has received considerable coverage in the popular media in recent years Gay bashing by political and religious figures in Zimbabwe and Gambia draconian new laws against lesbians and gays and their supporters in Malawi Nigeria and Uganda and the imprisonment and extortion of gay men in Senegal and Cameroon have all rightly sparked international condemnation However much of the analysis has been highly critical of African leadership and culture without considering local nuances historical factors and external influences that are contributing to the problem Such commentary also overlooks grounds for optimism in the struggle for sexual rights and justice in Africa not just for sexual minorities but for the majority population as well Based on pioneering research on the history of homosexualities and engagement with current lgbt and HIV AIDS activism Marc Epprecht provides a sympathetic overview of the issues at play and a hopeful outlook on the potential of sexual rights for all

The Erotic Margin Irvin C.
