Vermeer The Complete Paintings:

Vermeer Walter A. Liedtke, 2008 Johannes Vermeer 1632-1675 has been one of the most widely admired European painters since his so called rediscovery in the second half of the nineteenth century Until quite recently the Romantic roots of writing on the Sphinx of Delft have encouraged the image of him as an isolated genius the artist's private life and religion his supposed use of a camera obscura and the fact that his teacher has not been identified have all contributed to an air of mystery As this new monograph demonstrates Vermeer's life is actually well documented and his work may be more appropriately understood by placing the painter in the context of the Delft school as a whole and of Delft society The fact that one local patron acquired about twenty pictures by the artist only thirty six are known today must have been significant for Vermeer's subtleties of meaning and refinements of technique and style In the end however the most historical approach to Vermeer still leaves us with a master whose rare sensibility and extraordinary powers of observation may be described but not explained

Vermeer Arthur K. Wheelock Jr., Johannes Vermeer, 1997-09-01 Following the blockbuster exhibition at the National Gallery of Art in Washington D C this book presents the complete works of the great Dutch painter Johannes Vermeer 1632-1675 Oversize full page color plates of each of Vermeer's 35 known masterpieces capture the luminosity and the remarkable originality of the paintings and make this the next best thing to actually having attended the sold out show 68 illustrations including 44 in full color

Vermeer of Delft Jan Vermeer, 1978 Masters of Art Johannes Vermeer, 2012 Vermeer Andrew Graham

Dixon,2025-10-23 This book is going to revolutionize the way we understand Vermeer Peter Carey The paintings of Johannes Vermeer of Delft are some of the most beautiful even sublime in the history of art Yet like the life of Vermeer himself they are mysterious and have for centuries defied explanation Following new leads and drawing on a mass of historical evidence some of it freshly uncovered in the archives of Delft and Rotterdam Andrew Graham Dixon paints a dramatically new picture of Vermeer revealing many of the painter's hitherto unknown friendships as well as his previously undetected allegiance to a radical movement driven underground by persecution He also vividly evokes the world of the Dutch Republic as it was in its so called Golden Age This was a watery world of fortresses and flood plains taverns rocked by argument and cities stunned by devastating attacks and explosions all linked by a network of canals where a uniquely efficient public transport system operated by horse drawn passenger barge enabled people goods and ideas to glide effortlessly from one place to another The author sets Vermeer firmly in the context of his time revealing the patterns of patronage that make sense of his work and also exposing the difficulties posed by his home life which was dominated by his Jesuit mother in law and disturbed by the psychotic behaviour of her only son In the past Vermeer has been imagined as a remote and enigmatic figure but he emerges from this new account as a man deeply engaged with his own society well travelled a reader of books a man personally connected to many of the most interesting people of his time including merchants philosophers preachers bankers and regents as well as his childhood friend a philanthropic baker named Hendrick van Buyten Vermeer was also deeply affected by the struggles that shook his world the Eighty Years War for Dutch independence and the yet more terrible Thirty Years War which ravaged the neighbouring German lands and resulted in the deaths of millions The author shows how he was moved to become a pacifist by such atrocities and thereafter made many of his closest friends in the ranks of Europe's first peace movement A further revelation is that Vermeer's closest collaborator and chief patron was a woman as were many others in his immediate circle These are all previously untold stories The many piercingly direct descriptions of Vermeer's pictures which are the heart of the book shed new light on the intentions of the artist Nearly all of his best loved works Graham Dixon shows were originally painted for a single significant location in Delft In light of such discoveries every one of Vermeer's major paintings including The Girl with a Pearl Earring A View of Delft and The Milkmaid are reassessed and their meanings rethought As a result the two great unresolved questions about Vermeer why did he paint his pictures and what do they mean are persuasively answered here for the first time

James McNeill Whistler an Evolution of Painting from the Old Masters: Identified By Two Missing Masterpieces Angelle M Vinet,2017-07-12 The discovery of this masterpiece Whistler's Portrait of William Merritt Chase along with another important Whistler painting Harmony in Black No10 reveals exciting new discoveries on Whistler's artistic methods from the Old Masters and the artistic truisms of the Renaissance Documented analysis including x ray examination forensics and recognized paintings by Whistler's followers will confirm this portrait and Harmony in Black No10 with x ray revealing two lost paintings These Whistler paintings connect scholarship and
