Understanding Solvency II What Is Different After November 2014:

Understanding the Financial Conduct Authority Ashley Kovas, 2015-07-28 The Financial Conduct Authority began its work in April 2013 with a post crisis mandate to take pre-emptive action against firms. When problems occur, the FCA increasingly takes disciplinary action against individual senior managers as well as against the firm. Most of these cases are tragedies if the individuals concerned understood the likely outcome they would have behaved differently. This book sets out the psychology of the FCA and covers the hot spots that senior management and their compliance officers need to get right. The key to the FCA approach is conduct risk. This deliberately undefined term includes anything that might cause a problem to the FCA in the achievement of its regulatory mission. The FCA sees the world through the lens of risk, everything including firms themselves are assessed on how likely they are to cause the FCA to fail in its role of securing appropriate protection for consumers, enhancing the integrity of the UK financial system and promoting effective competition in the interests of consumers. Conduct risk is about behaviour and the FCA is keen to understand the drivers of human behaviour and how they can use them to bring about the outcomes they wish to see. Firms' culture is also under the microscope, all the more so since the recent trading incidents where groups of traders colluded across firms to manipulate LIBOR and the foreign exchange markets. A chapter on Culture examines how firms can start work to prepare for the FCA's increasing engagement on culture. The starting point of course is to understand what culture is.

A Critical Legal Study of the Ideology Behind Solvency II Kristina Loguinova, 2019-10-17 This book analyzes the impact of Solvency II. In recent years, EU legislators have sought to introduce fundamental reforms. Whether these reforms were indeed fundamental is critically investigated with regard to a post-crisis piece of financial legislation affecting the EU's largest institutional investors, Solvency II. Namely, the last financial and economic crisis, the worst financial catastrophe of the last decade, revealed that financial law, in particular, was not sufficiently mature to maintain the existence of a robust and trust-worthy financial system that could protect society from economic decline. The work also makes concrete recommendations on achieving a more sustainable future. As such, it offers a valuable resource for anyone who is interested in the financial system, the EU political economy, insurance sustainability and Critical Legal Studies.

The Report: Peru 2015 Oxford Business Group, 2015-01-12 Expanding at an average rate of 6.4% per annum since the mid-2000s, Peru's economic growth has been remarkable but also heavily dependent on one sector. Driven by a sharp rise in commodity prices, the mining industry spurred Peru's economy to the fastest sustained growth rate in Latin America during much of the past decade. The end of the commodities supercycle, however, saw economic growth slow down substantially over the course of 2014, with the central bank revising growth projections to 3.1% in mid-October. In a bid to stimulate growth, the government has intensified diversification efforts and introduced a series of measures aimed at promoting investment. The current economic slowdown, attributable in part to delays in some major mining developments, is generally seen as a temporary one and growth is expected to pick up again in 2015. While mining will remain the backbone of the Peruvian economy in particular from 2016 and beyond as several large scale copper projects come on line other sectors including industry and tourism should begin to play increasingly important roles

HL 103 - The Post-crisis Eu Financial Regulatory Framework: Do The Pieces Fit? The Stationery Office, 2015 The Committee criticises the belated recognition of the importance of the growth agenda It welcomes proposals for an Investment Plan for Europe and for a Capital Markets Union Yet the responsibility for promoting growth and prosperity lies not only with the Commission but with every Member State The UK has the largest financial sector in the EU and the implications of these reforms for this country are therefore immense Yet the Committee finds that the UK s influence over the EU financial services agenda is diminishing It calls on the Government and all UK authorities to take urgent steps to correct this The prosperity of the City of London and the financial services industry it hosts is in the interests not only of the UK but of the EU as a whole
