Deery, 2012-05-03 Engaging in a comprehensive examination of reality TV s advertising and promotional strategies as well as the commodification of viewers Consuming Reality dissects the unique and startling relation between mediation and consumption Re-Inventing the Media Graeme Turner, 2015-08-27 Re-Inventing the Media provides a highly original re thinking of media studies for the contemporary post broadcast post analogue and post mass media era While media and cultural studies has made much of the changes to the media landscape that have come from digital technologies these constitute only part of the transformations that have taken place in what amounts of a reinvention of the media over the last two decades Graeme Turner takes on the task of re thinking how media studies approaches the whole of the contemporary media scape by focusing on three large cross platform and transnational themes the decline of the mass media paradigm the ongoing restructuring of the relations between the media and the state and the structural and social consequences of celebrity culture By addressing the fact that the reinvention of the media is not simply a matter of globalising markets or the take up of technological change Turner is able to explore the more fundamental movements and widespread trends that have significantly influenced the character of what the contemporary media have become how it is structured and how it is used Re Inventing the Media is a must read for both students and scholars of media culture and communication studies
