Unfolding Social Constructionism Fiona J. Hibberd, 2006-11-24 For more than half of the 20 century psychologists sought to locate the causes of behaviour in individuals and tended to neglect the possibility of locating the psychological in the social In the late 1960s a reaction to that neglect brought about a crisis in social psychology This crisis did not affect all social psychologists some remained seemingly oblivious to its presence others dismissed its significance and continued much as before But in certain quarters the psychological was re conceptualised as the social and the social was taken to be sui generis Moreover the possibility of developing general laws and theories to describe and explain social interaction was rejected on the grounds that as social beings our actions vary from occasion to occasion and are for many reasons unrepeatable There is so it was thought an inherent instability in the phenomena of interest The nomothetic ideal was said to rest on individualistic cause effect positivism of the kind which arguably characterised the natural sciences but social psychology so it was said is an historical inquiry and its conclusions are necessarily historically relative Gergen 1973 Events outside psychology converged to give impetus to the crisis within

Studies on the Social Construction of Identity and Authenticity J. Patrick Williams, Kaylan C. Schwarz, 2020-08-03 As identity and authenticity discourses increasingly saturate everyday life so too have these concepts spread across the humanities and social sciences literatures Many scholars may be interested in identity and authenticity but lack knowledge of paradigmatic or disciplinary approaches to these concepts This volume offers readers insight into social constructionist approaches to identity and authenticity It focuses on the processes of identification and authentication rather than on subjective experiences of selfhood There are no attempts to settle what authentic identities are On the contrary contributors demonstrate that neither identities nor their authenticity have a single or fixed meaning Chapters provide exemplars of contemporary research on identity and authenticity with significant diversity among them in terms of the identities cultural milieu geographic settings disciplinary traditions and methodological approaches considered Contributors introduce readers to a number of established and emerging identity groups from sites around the world from yogis and punks to fire dancers and social media influencers Their conceptual work stretches from the micro analytic to the ethno national as authors employ a variety of qualitative methods including ethnographic fieldwork interviewing and the collection and analysis of naturally occurring interactions Several of the chapters look directly at identification and authentication while others focus on the social and cultural backdrops that structure these practices what unites them is the adoption of social constructionist sensibilities This book will appeal to anyone interested in understanding identity and authenticity

The Reflective, Facilitative, and Interpretive Practice of the Coordinated Management of Meaning Beth Fisher-Yoshida, Catherine Creede, Placida Gallegos, 2012-04-12 The Reflective Facilitative and Interpretive Practices of the Coordinated Management of Meaning Making Lives Making Meaning showcases practical applications of the theory of Coordinated Management of Meaning CMM In the facilitation section CMM creates dynamics within groups leading toward improved ways of working together in the interpretation section CMM offers alternative frames to interpret interactions with one another and in the reflection section CMM is a means to reflect on experiences and interactions to deeper levels of understanding and learning CMM is grounded in social constructionism takes a communication perspective and provides concepts and tools for making better social worlds

An Invitation to Social Construction Kenneth J Gergen, 2015-04-25 This new edition of Kenneth J Gergen's celebrated text An Invitation to Social Construction is now even more accessible for students offering a clear and thorough introduction to one of the most significant movements in contemporary social science The Third Edition includes updates reflecting the many new developments in theory research and practice a more student friendly personal writing style three new chapters on education and therapy and health care and organizations key insights into how social construction can help support you in your research projects from start to finish An Invitation to Social Construction is the must read text for all social science students academics and practitioners wishing to learn about social constructionism along with the forms of inquiry and practice central to its impact

Church, Market, and Media Marcus Moberg, 2017-07-13 Marcus Moberg offers a new model of religion and religious life in the post war era through focusing on the role of markets and media as vectors of contemporary social and cultural change and therefore institutional religious change While there is wide agreement among sociologists of religion that there this area is transforming on a global scale there is less agreement about how these changes should best be approached and conceptualized In a time of accelerating institutional religious decline institutional Churches have become ever more susceptible to market associated discourse and language and are ever more compelled to adapt to the demands of the present day media environment Using discourse analysis Marcus Moberg tracks how new media and marketing language and concepts have entered Christian thinking and discourse Church Market and Media develops a framework that approaches changes in the contemporary religious field in direct relation to the changing socioeconomic makeup of contemporary societies on the whole Through focusing on the impact of markets and media within the contemporary religious setting of mainline institutional Christian churches in the Western world the book outlines new avenues for further theorizing the study of religious change Practicing Therapy as Social Construction Sheila McNamee,Emerson F. Raser,Pedro Martins,2022-11-23 This book is a comprehensive introduction to social constructionist ideas and their application within the psychological therapies Whether you are a trainee or qualified therapist this book will support you to think about therapy as a socially constructed and relational process and to develop as a more culturally socially and politically aware practitioner It advocates for therapist activists who understand the interplay between the micro and the macro in therapeutic contexts and debunks the idea of the isolated client to examine how broader societal conditions create problems for the individual Chapters are designed to engage offering a variety of features to support learning including Introductory and concluding chapter summaries Textboxes summarising content spotlighting key information Case studies and vignettes throughout Reflective questions thought provoking exercises Recommended Further Reading This book has wide applicability with author affiliations across both North and South America the University of New Hampshire in the US and the Federal University of Uberlandia in Brazil Culture and Cognition Bradley Franks,2011-04-05 Human culture depends on human minds for its creation meaning and exchange But minds also depend on culture for their contents and processes Past resolutions to this circularity problem have tended to give too much weight to one side and too little weight to the other In this groundbreaking and timely work Bradley Franks demonstrates how a more plausible resolution to the circularity problem emerges from reframing mind and culture and their relations in evolutionary terms He proposes an alternative evolutionary approach that draws on views of mind as embodied and situated By grounding social construction in evolution evolution of mind is intrinsically connected to culture resolving the circularity problem In developing his theory Franks provides a balanced critical assessment of modularity based and social constructionist approaches to understanding mind and culture Handbook of Research Methods in Migration Carlos Vargas-Silva,2012-01-01 Covering both qualitative and quantitative topics the expert contributors in this Handbook explore fundamental issues of scientific logic methodology and methods through to practical applications of different techniques and approaches in migration research The chapters of this interdisciplinary Handbook maintain an introductory level of discussion on migration research methods while providing readers with references necessary for those wishing to go deeper into the topic Using a combination of concepts and techniques with research experiences from the field this Handbook will prove to be an invaluable guide Master level students and academics in migration related programs will find this compendium a useful and stimulating resource It also discusses issues relating to the collection of data on migrants including topics such as survey designs interviewing techniques and ethical issues that policymakers and government employees will find informative Advisory Board Professor Stephen Castles Professor Robin Cohen Professor Josh DeWind Professor Rael

Delgado Wise Emotion and Discourse in L2 Narrative Research Matthew T. Prior, 2015-10-22 This book examines the interactional management of emotionality in second language autobiographical interview research Advancing a discursive constructionist approach it offers a timely methodological and reflexive perspective that brings into focus the dynamic and dilemmatic aspects of interviewee and interviewer identities and experiences and it makes visible the often unexpected and unseen consequences for the research project and beyond The author weaves together critical discussion and empirical analysis based on longitudinal narrative based research with adult immigrants from Southeast Asia living in the US and Canada This interdisciplinary book will be compelling reading for students researchers and others interested in emotion narrative discourse identity interaction interviews and qualitative research
